The Sydney Morning Herald.

No 5777.—VOL. XXXVII. WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1856. PRICE SIXPENCE.

BIRTHS.

On the 29th ult. inst., Mrs. T. M. Washington, of a son.
At her residence, Pitt-street, on Sunday, the 30th November, Mrs. J. Asher, of a daughter.
At Parramatta, on Tuesday, the 2nd instant, the wife of Mr. T. E. Mason, of a daughter.

DEATH.

At Gulgong, Burnett River, on the 6th ultimo, Marjory Louisa Gale, aged one year and six months, youngest child of James Gale, Esq.
On Friday, December 2nd, 1856, after a long and painful illness, Mr. Mary Ann, the beloved daughter of Henry and Agnes Bennett, of 68, Parramatta-street, aged four years and six months.

SHIP ADVERTISEMENTS.

TEAM to BALMAIN, from the Gas Company's Wharf, every ten minutes.

CREMORNE STEAMER, THIS DAY, from Circular Quay, from 2 o'clock to 10 p.m., and every day.

MANLY BEACH.—Daily, from the Phœnix Wharf, at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.; returning at noon, and 5 45 p.m. Calling at Woolloomooloo Bay.

WATSON'S BAY.—From the Phœnix Wharf every MONDAY, WEDNESDAY, and FRIDAY, at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.; returning at 12 15 and 4 p.m.

WOLLONGONG and KIAMA.—The ILLAWARRA, TO-MORROW (Thursday) MORNING, at 9 o'clock.

THE A. S. N. COMPANY'S STEAMERS.

ALONG, to the HUNTER, THIS MORNING, WEDNESDAY, at 8.
GEELONG, to the HUNTER, TO-MORROW MORNING, THURSDAY, at 8.
GLENELG, to MELBOURNE, THIS AFTERNOON, WEDNESDAY, at 3.
TARATAH, to WIDE BAY, THIS EVENING, WEDNESDAY, at 8.
TARRA TARRA, to MORETON BAY and IPSWICH, FRIDAY EVENING, at 8.
TRIDENT, to CLARENCE TOWN, MONDAY NIGHT, at 11.
TYRALLA, to TWOFOLD BAY, WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, 10th instant, at 3.
JAMES PATERSON, Manager.

STEAM to the HUNTER.—The HUNTER, for NEWCASTLE, THIS EVENING, at 11 o'clock.
TILMOUTH P. DYR, Manager.

R.N.S.N. Company's Wharf, foot of Market-street, December 3rd, 1856.

NOTICE to SHIPPERS to MORETON BAY.—Reduction in Freights per A. S. N. Company's steamers BOOMERANG and TARRA TARRA to Brisbane.

Dead weight, 27s. 6d. per ton
Measurement, 32s. 6d. per 40 cubic feet.
JAMES PATERSON, manager.

A. S. N. Company's Wharf, November 28, 1856.

SPECIAL NOTICE to PASSENGERS for MORETON BAY.—The attention of passengers is requested to the alteration in the days of despatching the Moreton Bay steamers, which, for the month of December, will be as follows:—

FROM SYDNEY—1st, 8th, 11th, 16th, 22nd, and 27th December.
FROM BRISBANE—6th, 11th, 16th, 22nd, and 27th December.
JAMES PATERSON, Manager.

STEAM TO AUCKLAND.—The WILLIAM DENNY will be detained until TO-MORROW MORNING, either arrived of the Wonga Wonga from Melbourne, for the expedition of obtaining the English mail. The goods will be received until noon THIS DAY. Passengers are required to be on board by 9 o'clock a.m., TO-MORROW.
JOSEPH RENDALL.

Campbell's Wharf, 3rd December, 1856.

FOR THE TWEED RIVER.—The schooner LIBERTY will sail THIS DAY, at 12 o'clock, wind permitting.
For freight or passage apply to MACNAMARA, SON, and CO., Wharf, Windmill-street.

FOR KEMPSEY, the schooner KEMPSEY PACKET, to sail with the first fair wind.
For freight or passage apply to GEORGE COLESON'S, Rebel Wharf, or to the master on board, at the Union Dock.

FOR SALE, a Lifeboat, with sails complete. Apply at BRISCO COLESON'S, Rebel Wharf.

FOR THE LANNING RIVER.—The clipper schooner BLUE JACKET, Captain M'DERMOTT, will sail SATURDAY, December 6.
Apply to the Captain, on board, Fleur Company's Wharf. Intending passengers are invited to inspect her accommodation.
N.B.—All freight payable in Sydney.

FOR MORETON BAY, direct.—The Regular trader J. BONSIE DOON, Captain SHOLL, is now loading at the quay place, and will be despatched immediately. Goods intended for Ipswich will be forwarded on as usual.
For freight or passage, apply to H. TOWNS and Co.

FOR MORETON BAY, VIA TWO RIVERS, OCEAN QUEEN, W. GRIMLEY, master, will sail for the above place on FRIDAY, 5th instant.
For freight or passage, apply to GEORGE CARTER, Victoria Wharf.

FOR MELBOURNE WHARF.—A regular trader.—The fast sailing barque MORNAGIE, 315 tons, GEORGE KELLY, commander, shortly expected, will be despatched four days after arrival.
The MORNAGIE makes her passages with great regularity, and has good accommodation for both cabin and steerage passengers.

Saloon passage, £5 0 0
Steerage ditto, £3 10 0

Cargo received and stored for this vessel free of charge.
For freight or passage apply to R. SAYERS, Port Phillip Packet Office, 177, George-street, or Campbell's Wharf.

ONLY VESSEL FOR MELBOURNE WHARF.—The fine brig VIOLA, HELLON, master, is now lying at Russell's Wharf, and has only room for 20 tons dead weight to fill up.
For freight or passage apply to MONTEFIORE and BENJY, Exchange-corner; or to MOLISON and BACH, Macquarie-place.

FOR GEELONG.—The fine schooner SARACEN, J. FERGUSON, master, having the greater portion of her cargo engaged, will be despatched a few days after wind.
For freight or passage apply to MOLISON and BACH, 15, Macquarie-place.

THE WEEKLY for LAUNCESTON.—Sails positively every 14th instant.—The well-known clipper-packet ship ELIZA WEBBER, first-class at Lloyds, 300 tons burden, JOHN MCKINLAY, commander, will sail for the above port, full or not full; therefore shippers and passengers may rely on prompt despatch. Her cabin accommodation—similar saloon fitted with every comfort, are well known; beds, bedding, an excellent table, wines, spirits, &c. included; roomy, comfortable steerage.

Freight, 30s. per ton.

Cabin passage, including wines, &c. ... £6 0 0
Steerage ditto ... 4 4 0

Apply to HENRY PISHER, Southern Packet Office, 3, George-street.

FOR ADELAIDE.—For passengers only.—The fine Colonial brig WILLIAM, Captain SKINNER, has her cargo engaged, and will sail in a few days.
For passage only having every comfortable cabin accommodation, apply to LAIDLEY, IRELAND, and CO., 180, George-street.

FOR PORT COOPER.—The fine A1 clipper-schooner COLLEEN, Captain BRINGTON, having the greater portion of her cargo already engaged, will sail in a few days.
For freight or passage, apply to LAIDLEY, IRELAND, and CO., 180, George-street.

FOR VESSEL for WELLINGTON direct.—Under chartered to sail on the 15th instant, the fine brig Bell, the clipper schooner LADY GREY, 70 tons, register, KENNEDY, commander, having the greater portion of her cargo engaged, will be despatched as above.
For freight or passage apply to CAPTAIN KENNEDY, on board, Port Fence Company's Wharf; or to BUTKERS and MOUTH, 4, Charlotte-place.

FOR VESSEL for WELLINGTON direct.—The fine clipper trader WILLIAM ALFRED, TINLEY, Master, to sail for Cooksland on SATURDAY next, 6th inst. No cargo can be received after FRIDAY.
For freight or passage, immediate application is necessary, on board, at the Fleur Wharf; or to LAIDLEY, IRELAND, and CO., 180, George-street.

AUCKLAND.—At Botany Wharf.—The fine clipper brig MOA, 230 tons, Captain THOMPSON, Master, carries 70 PORBOROS, and having the part of her cargo engaged, will meet with her usual despatch.
For freight or passage, having superior cabin and steerage accommodation, apply to WILLIAM WRIGHT, 14, Lower Fort-street.

AUCKLAND.—Under contract to sail on the 10th instant, the fine brig RETRIEVER, Captain ANDERSON, now loading at the Grafton Wharf, No 2, Sussex-street, is a fast sailing and positively fine brig, 180 tons.
For freight or passage, having superior cabin and steerage accommodation, apply to LAIDLEY, IRELAND, and CO., 180, George-street.

SHIP ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOR PORT DE FRANCE, NEW CALEDONIA.—The A1 schooner ISABELLA will be despatched for the above port in a few days, and offers a good opportunity for goods or passengers. Apply to R. TOWNS and CO.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The barque TORY, 500 tons register, Captain LIVINGSTONE, will shortly be despatched to the above port. This ship having a full and roomy poop, will afford a superior opportunity to passengers.
For freight or passage, apply to R. TOWNS and CO.

FOR SINGAPORE.—The A1 very fast sailing ship ISABELLA, 300 tons register, Captain PHILLIPS, will be despatched in a few days, and offers an excellent opportunity to passengers to India and other ports on the Island.
Apply to Captain PLENLEY, on board, Circular Quay; or to BIRKBECK, DEAN, and CO., 178, George-street.

FOR MANILA.—The fast sailing Spanish clipper-brig schooner GERTRUDE, 453 tons register, LE BALLE, commander, has a few cabins disengaged.
For terms of freight or passage, apply to the commander on board; or to VIAL D'PARAM, MILLIERE, and CO., Macquarie-street and Circular Wharf.

FIRST SHIP FOR LONDON, and Royal Mail Packet for December.—The well-known Aberdeen clipper, WOOLLOOMOOLOO, 700 tons, JAS. ROSS, Commander, has been appointed to carry her Majesty's mails and will sail 10th December. Has the greater portion of her wool engaged and alongside. Shippers will please send remainder of wool, or advise as soon as possible. Passengers will find this vessel an excellent conveyance. Has superior accommodation, carries only first-class passengers, and an experienced and skilled surgeon.
For freight of wool and specie only, or passage, apply to GILCHRIST, WATT and CO., No. 1, Margaret-street.

FOR LONDON.—To sail 10th January, the fine A1 Ship VIMIERA, 1037 tons register, J. B. SWANSON, commander, belonging to Messrs. Duncan Dunbar and Sons, will be despatched as early for London as possible. Has the greater portion of her wool engaged and alongside. Shippers will please send remainder of wool, or advise as soon as possible. Passengers will find this vessel an excellent conveyance. Has superior accommodation, carries only first-class passengers, and an experienced and skilled surgeon.
For freight of wool and specie only, or passage, apply to GILCHRIST, WATT and CO., No. 1, Margaret-street.

FOR LONDON.—To sail 10th January, the fine A1 Ship VIMIERA, 1037 tons register, J. B. SWANSON, commander, belonging to Messrs. Duncan Dunbar and Sons, will be despatched as early for London as possible. Has the greater portion of her wool engaged and alongside. Shippers will please send remainder of wool, or advise as soon as possible. Passengers will find this vessel an excellent conveyance. Has superior accommodation, carries only first-class passengers, and an experienced and skilled surgeon.
For terms of freight or passage, apply to the Commander, on board; or, to SMITH, CAMPBELL, and CO., agents, Macquarie-place.

FOR LONDON.—The Undermentioned splendid A1 ship will positively sail for the above port. DUNCAN DUNBAR and SONS, will be despatched as follows:
THE DUNBAR, 1381 tons register, J. GREEN, commander, 15th January, 1857.
VIMIERA, 1037 tons register, J. B. SWANSON, commander, 15th January, 1857.
LA ROGUE, 1331 tons register, H. KEATBY, commander, 10th February, 1857.
WATERLOO, 898 tons register, — YOUNG, commander, 1st March, 1857.
These ships are fitted expressly for passengers, and carry experienced surgeons.
SMITH, CAMPBELL, and CO., agents.

TO PASSENGERS FOR LONDON.—To sail positively on the 20th DECEMBER.—The splendid A1 frigate-built ship ELLENBOROUGH, 1031 tons register, GEORGE HAYES, Esq. commander, having all her cargo on board, and the greater portion of her wool engaged, will be dispatched as above. Wool received at MASSEY and CO.'s shed, Windmill-street, and Circular Quay. This favourite ship carries an experienced surgeon, and from her superior accommodation offers unequalled advantages to intending passengers. To secure the remaining cabins, and prevent disappointment, immediate application is necessary.
For terms of freight or passage, apply to the Captain, on board, at Campbell's Wharf, or to the owners, YOUNG, LAIRD, and BENNETT, 213, George-street.

FOR LONDON.—To Sail 15th January.—The splendid A1 clipper ship LIGHT OF THE AGE, 1097 tons register, JOHN WILLIAMS, commander, is now ready to receive wool at Aberdeen and Co's Wool Shed, and will sail as above. The cabin accommodation of this ship is unsurpassed. The statements are lofty and spacious, and she is fitted and provided in every way for the convenience and comfort of passengers, who will do well to inspect her before deciding. Carries an experienced surgeon. Plans of cabins can be seen at the office, where all particulars intended for insertion in GILCHRIST, WATT and CO., No. 1, Margaret-street, 24th December, 1856.

FREIGHT WANTED.—Tenders, at per ton, for the conveyance of coals from the Newcastle Coal and Copper Company's dooks at Newcastle, to Sydney and to Hobson's Bay, for the year 1857, are invited to be addressed to the undersigned, or to the Secretary to the Company, at the Company's Office, Bridge-street, Sydney.
JOHN P. PERRY, secretary. 29th November, 1856.

CUTTER for SALE, 34 tons burthen, suitable for the Clyde; shell tender, carries 12 hundred weight of ballast. Also, a 9-ton float, new. Apply to W. H. SAWYER, Balmain.

FOR HIRE or CHARTER, an A1 Brig, 234 tons register, a large carrier at a light draught of water, well found in stores, and could be sent to sea at a trifling expense. Apply to THOMAS R. SCOTT, ship chandler, 17, Lower George-street.

SYDNEY YACHT CLUB.—The usual Monthly Meeting of the Club will take place at the Club House, Exchange Hotel, Sydney, on THURSDAY, the 4th of December instant, at 8 o'clock p.m.
By order,
WILLIAM T. BLAKENEY, Secretary.

Club House, 2nd December, 1856.
P.S.—Notice of motion by S. C. Burt, Esq.—"That such portions of rule 25 of the Club be altered to effect any alteration in the rules of the Club, the number voting for the motion must be double the number opposition to be carried, and that such rule be altered to the effect, that any motion shall be considered to be carried by a majority of not less than two-thirds.
Notice of motion by T. S. Dean, Esq.—"That rule 25, declaring that centre-board yachts shall sail in a class by themselves, be rescinded.

BALMAIN REGATTA.—All parties holding subscriptions are requested to pay them over the treasurer without further notice, in order to close accounts.
JOSEPH HUNT, honorary secretary.

BALMAIN REGATTA.—A meeting of the Committee will take place at Allen's, THIS EVENING, at 7 o'clock. A attendance is solicited. JOSEPH HUNT, honorary secretary.

BALMAIN REGATTA.—All accounts and claims must be sent under cover, to the Secretary, Gas Company's Wharf, before 3 o'clock THIS DAY. JOSEPH HUNT, honorary secretary.

CIRCULAR QUAY.—Notice is hereby given that the 1 Rule of the Lease of the Circular Quay, advertised to have been place on the 4th instant, has been postponed to THURSDAY, the 11th instant, at noon. STUART A. DONALDSON, Treasurer. The Treasury, New South Wales, 2nd December, 1856.

NOTICE to MERCHANTS and SHIPOWNERS.—The Proprietors of the Patent Slip, Sydney, are now take vessels on their slip at one-half of their former rates. Work done with despatch. Copper, metal, felt, and all kinds of materials for Ship-building, always on hand.

REMOVAL.—Mr. REDHEAD, Surgeon, &c., to the South Sydney Dispensary, &c., 109, Cooper's-buildings, Parramatta-street, corner of Newtown Road, opposite the Bell-street, Globe.

TO SELLERS of WOOL, HIDES, and SHEEPSKINS —BIRKELEY, DEAN, and CO., 178, George-street, Sydney, are purchasers.

TO the EDITOR of the SYDNEY MORNING HERALD.—Sir, On Saturday, the 13th of November, one of my children, 12 months old, had gone into an entry, that is common between my neighbours, in which was piled a quantity of timber, 18 feet hardwood. Unfortunately the pile, at least 30 or 40 joists, fell on the child. The great exertion of the women and myself and children, soon had the timber removed, and I my self took the child seemingly dead. I ran with it to Mr. Watson's, a druggist, who immediately sent for Mr. Charles Degner. The child was restored to consciousness before the Doctor's arrival, but the immense weight of the timber, pressed so heavily on the chest and body of the child. By Dr. Degner's skill my child is now nearly quite well, and I beg thus publicly to give to Dr. Degner my best thanks for his exertion which, by God's blessing, has restored my dead child to life. I am Sir, your most obedient servant, JOHN M'NEAR, 418, Brickfield-hill, George-street, Sydney, 29th November, 1856.

F. H. OSMONDS' BILL OF FARE.—SOUPS—Tortelaine—Julienne
FISH
HOT JOINTS—Roast Beef
ENTREES—Mutton cutlets à l'Italienne
Calf's Head in mince patrole
Tripe à la mode de Caen
Sausages à l'ancienne
Boudinet à la chancrode.
VEGETABLES—Potatoes, French beans.
COLD MEATS—Ham, galantine, round, salad, sausages, potted game, mangoustade of salmon.
2s. 6d. per head.
OSMOND'S HOTEL, Gold Digger Arms, Pitt-street, opposite Willow Tree.

MACQUARIE-STREET CATHOLIC SCHOOL.—The Half-yearly Examination of the pupils of this school will commence at 11 o'clock, THIS (Wednesday) MORNING.

GREENHAM'S Drapery and Family Linen Establishment, No. 21, Oxford-street.

PERSONS ADVERTISED FOR.

SHOULD THIS meet the eyes of JAMES HIGHTON.—THOMAS WHITAKER, who arrived here about five years ago, they will be kind enough to communicate with their brother JOHN. Address Mr. COMAN, Free Tavern, Lower George-street, Sydney.

SARAH WALKER, your brother is deeply anxious to hear from you.

ROYAL VICTORIA THEATRE.—THIS EVENING, the IRISH HEIRESS.
Lady Dorantry ... Miss Adelaide Norah, the Irish heiress ... Miss Jary.

ROYAL SYDNEY THEATRE.—THIS EVENING, THE IRISH TUTOR.
Dr. O'Toole ... Mr. Joseph Simmons.

OUR LYCEUM.—Mr. G. V. BROOKE, daily expected, will appear at this Theatre.

OUR HYDE.—TO-MORROW NIGHT, THE SPIDER DANCE, by Mrs. A. Tonring; and ALONZO YR BRAVE, Mr. W. H. Stephens.

OUR LYCEUM.—TO-NIGHT, for the BENEFIT of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stuart.

OUR LYCEUM.—TO-NIGHT, ST. PATRICK'S EVE, for the LAMBERTS' BENEFIT.

OUR LYCEUM.—TO-NIGHT, MARRIED MEN, in which Miss Kate Robinson appears.

CREMORNE.—ALTERATIONS in the Arrangement.—1. By particular desire, the Steamer will run EVERY EVENING until 10 p.m.

CREMORNE.—DANCING EVERY EVENING.—Admission and steamer fare, 1s.

CREMORNE.—The Bal Masque, NEXT WEDNESDAY. Admission by ticket only. Ladies, 5s.; gentlemen, 5s.; full dress, 10s. 6d.

ROYAL VAUXHALL HOTEL and GARDENS, Parramatta Steamboat.—A Ball will take place in the Saccharine Saloon, on MONDAY, 1st December, 1856. The grounds will be brilliantly illuminated for those who prefer "dancing on the green." ☞ The Fete will commence with a grand Display of Fireworks. Tickets—Ladies' 5s. 6d.; Gentlemen 10s. 6d., to be had at Mason's, Printer, and all the principal Hotels, Parramatta, and at Messrs. Jones' Stables, and Spencer, Sydney. N.B.—A special train will convey passengers to and from the above.

MR. J. CLARKE'S Dress Quadrille Assembly will take place at the Rose Cottage, Elizabeth-street, North, THIS EVENING. Admission—tickets only, to be had at his residence.

SYDNEY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.—The Monthly Meeting of members will be held on THURSDAY next, 4th instant, at 3 p.m. ALEXANDER THOMSON, secretary. Sydney, 1st December.

DITT-STREET BAND OF HOPE.—TO-NIGHT, a Lecture on the Chemistry of Alcoholic Drinks, by G. J. GROCOTT.

SYDNEY BETHEL UNION.—The Monthly Meeting of the General Committee takes place THIS AFTERNOON, at 4 o'clock precisely, in the Mariners' Temperance Chapel, Circular Quay. Clergymen favorable to the Institution are respectfully invited to attend.
T. R. THRELKELD, Minister.

BANK OF NEW SOUTH WALES.—Notice is hereby given that a branch of this Bank has been established in the township of Tamworth, for the transaction of usual banking business, under the management of SHEPHERD SMITH, Esq., and in connection therewith an agency at Rocky River, under the superintendence of JAMES HILL, Esq., where Gold will be received, and notes received accountable for at Head Office, and the various branches, and where drafts on London and the colonies may be obtained.
ROBERT WOODHOUSE, Secretary.
Bank of New South Wales, Sydney, 21st December.

AUSTRALIAN MUSEUM.—Tenders are required for the completion of the Museum building, plans and specifications to be seen at the Museum, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. All tenders to be addressed to "Trustees of Australian Museum," and marked "Tender for building," before 10 o'clock a.m. on SATURDAY, December 6th, 1856. GEORGE FRENCH ANGAS, Secretary.

SYDNEY ROAD TRUST.—Tenders will be received by the Commissioners of the Sydney Road Trust, until noon of WEDNESDAY, the 10th December inst., for the supply of 1000 yards of Metal, Broken to 2 inches, to one hundred and fifty tons of fine road metal per month, during the ensuing year. Further particulars can be obtained on application to the Surveyor to the Trust.
By order of the Commissioners,
WALTER BRAVES, Secretary.
Sydney Road Trust Office, 1st December, 1856.

NOTICE.—The Tolls to be collected at the Hebersham Toll Gate, on the Great Western Road, will be put up to auction, at the Commissioner's Office, on WEDNESDAY, the third day of December next, at 12 o'clock. A bond (in double the amount of the rent), with two sureties, will be required for the due payment of the rent, of the conditions of the lease, and the regular payment of the rent, by equal monthly instalments, before the expiration of seven days after the termination of each month. By order of the Commissioners, J. KING LETCHBRIDGE, secretary. Office, Bridge-street, 29th October, 1856.

TO BUILDERS.—The Contractors for erecting a School-house at Darling Point, having failed in their agreement, fresh Tenders are required for completing the work, which must be completed in six weeks. Parties intending to tender, are requested to call at the premises, when tender forms will be delivered on or before SATURDAY, December 6th.

TUESDAY, 23rd December.—Date of Drawing fixed positively for the 23rd December.—SANDONS' Sydney Grand Art Union. Parties wishing to become subscribers are informed that only a few tickets are remaining unsold. The magnificent prizes forming the Art Union are still on view (free) to the public. Tickets issues forwarded free. C. T. SANDON, 171, George-st.

TREMASONRY.—Lodge Saint Andrew, No. 168.—The Lodge will be opened in the Masonic Hall, Pitt-street, at 7 o'clock, on business of importance, also to celebrate the Festival of St. Andrew, by dining together at 8 o'clock precisely. Visiting brethren are respectfully invited to attend.
JAMES CHAPPLE, Secretary.

NOTICE.—To the Members of the SYDNEY BERISH SOCIETY.—Gentlemen,—You are specially requested to attend a Meeting at the Synagogue Chambers, on Sunday, the 7th inst., at 7 o'clock, on a matter of importance. No circulars will be issued. A. B. LEVY, Wednesday, December 3, 1856.

NOTICE.—All claims against the undersigned will be paid upon presentation at Mr. Hopkins', Wide Bay, and all debts due to the undersigned must be paid to Mr. Hopkins, of Wide Bay, by the 14th of January, 1857, or they will be handed over to my attorney and the necessary steps taken to recover the same. JOHN WARD, Storekeeper and proprietor of the building establishment, Wide Bay.

NOTICE.—I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my servant, without my written authority. JOHN WARD. December 2nd, 1856.

NOTICE.—I hereby caution the public against giving credit to any one without my written authority, as I shall not hold myself responsible for the same. S. A. FRITCHETT. 25th November, 1856.

NOTICE.—Mr. RICHARD LAMBETH has this day left my employ, and has no authority to keep any money in the same. BILLY and MANSFIELD, Architect, 37, Pitt-street. November 26th, 1856.

NOTICE.—My WIFE, ELIZABETH TYLER (maiden name Stevenwather), having left her home during my absence, with one Joseph Jackins, now in Sydney, I hereby give notice that I will not pay any debts she may contract in my name. WILLIAM TYLER. July 11th, 1856.

NOTICE to CREDITORS.—WISDOM and CONLEN'S ASSIGNEE.—All persons having any claims on the estate of the above-named Insolvents, are requested immediately, either in the insolvents' Book, or by a statement duly verified, to prove their claims, or else they will be excluded from participating in the dividend, which will be paid on MONDAY, 15th instant, at the offices of Messrs. THURLOW, DICK, and BROWN, Pitt-street.
JOHN HIRBIN, } Trustees.
FRANCIS GILES, }

NOTICE to Purchasers at the Sale of the Dungarven Block of the London Hard, Queen-street.—MUHEL and MILLER request immediate removal of the goods purchased, to prevent the necessity of enforcing the conditions of the sale.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL.—JOHN HUGHES, Wholesale, Retail, and Family Grocer, Market House, Georgeoffice, begs to acquaint his numerous number of friends and country that he is about removing to new and more commodious premises situated at the corner of George and Market streets, nearly opposite his present place of business, which he will open on SATURDAY next, the 6th instant. The premises are enlarged, and fitted up so as to combine all the requisites for carrying on an extensive wholesale, retail, and family grocery trade. In thanking the undersigned of recent J. H. expresses his sincere thanks to his kind patrons and the public generally for the liberal support he has received during the five years he has been in business, and hopes that they will be waiting on his park to merit an extension of that patronage he now so gratefully acknowledges. Dissatisfied, Sydney, 1st December, 1856.

PERSONS ADVERTISED FOR.

BOAT PERSEVERANCE, Lost from Balmain Ferry. Whoever will return the same to W. WALKER will receive the reward of £5 offered. £5 will be paid for such information as will lead to the conviction of the thief.

LOST, a Child's Boot, between King-street and the Quay. Whoever will bring it to 74, Elizabeth-street will be rewarded.

LOST, a Cheque on the Union Bank, drawn by A. S. Webster, for ten pounds, dated 28th November, 1856. Payment is stopped. The finder will be rewarded by presenting it at No. 2, Exchange-buildings.

LOST, on Saturday last, 29th November, a Female Brown Terrier Puppy, between the Circular Quay and Argyle-place. Has a Melbourne or Geelong white, with a crochet collar marked "Flora." Any one bringing the same to the Harbour View Inn, No. 33, Cumberland-street, will be rewarded.

STOLEN, or STRAYED, from South Co Co, Lane Cove, on or about the 12th of October, a light Chestnut Horse, aged, lame, 15 hands high, with 3 in the near shoulder, 4½ under the saddle, hind legs white, white face, long roached tail, a star on the off hind leg inside. £3 reward will be given for any information, or a reward for JOHN SMITH, Lane Cove; or to WILLIAM BENHAM, George-street, Parramatta.

£20 REWARD.—Stolen or Strayed, on the night of the 24th instant, from my paddock, Woolloomooloo, a Bay Cart Horse, black points, about 16 hands high, shortish neck, white spots, about 7 years old, under JR near shoulder. The above reward will be paid if stolen, or £3 if Strayed. WILLIAM PEISLEY.

£3 REWARD for the recovery of a white bitch puppy with tan ears, upon her delivery at the Sir Richards House.

£2 REWARD if Strayed, if Stolen £10, an cocoa-colour Mare, 7 years old, 15 hands, Dark Brown Hair, branded near shoulder PE, white spot on neck near side, white on off fetlock. JOHN PILE, Ashfield.

£2 REWARD.—FRANK WOOD, late the Home, 3, Campbell-street, on Monday, 17th November, a Lad, 13 years old, dark complexion, dark hair and eyes, a scar on the left eyebrow; was last seen on the Parramatta Road, near Five Dock. Any person bringing him home, or giving such information as will lead to his recovery, will receive the above reward. November 25th, 1856.

£2 REWARD.—Horse strayed, from the house of Mr. Cullen, Sydney, Riding Boy, Windsor Road; a bay branded TE off shoulder, near hind foot white. The above reward will be paid for the recovery of the horse on delivery to Mr. COLLINGS, Windsor Road; or to Mr. H. WOODHAMS, of the Australian Inn, Parramatta-street, Sydney.

£2 REWARD.—Strayed, from Waverley, a spotted cow, branded 24 on the rump, milking side. The above reward will be paid on her delivery to the Toll-gatekeeper, Waverley.

FOUND a Bull, the owner can obtain the same by describing it, and paying expenses. Apply to Mr. SCOTLAND, Lamb Inn, Macquarie-place.

FOUND on the premises, 93, William-street, Woolloomooloo, a light coloured Greyhound bitch, with collar and name. The owner can have her on application and payment of expenses.

FOUND, yesterday, near the Railway Station, a Small Miniature Photographic Portrait of a Lady, set in gold, supposed to have fallen from a lady's bonnet. The owner can have the same by applying to SAMUEL LEE, bookseller, at the Railway Station, and paying the expenses of the advertisement.

CAUTION.—I will not be answerable for any debts contracted after this date by Rees Lessey, she not being my wife. JOSEPH GOLDING, Philip-street.

LLOYS NEW COACH MANUFACTORY.—Mr. LILLY begs to inform the inhabitants of Sydney that he is commencing business in the above line in Castlereagh-street, where all orders are punctually attended to, and care shall be punctually attended to. Mark the address—LILLY'S New Coach Manufactory, Castlereagh-street.

A SUPPER NURSE or Needlewoman, a respectable middle-aged person. Address A. D., Post Office, Newtown.

A LADIES NURSE disengaged. Can be well recommended. Apply to A. D., 177, Clarence-st. South.

A GENTLEMAN, desirous of becoming acquainted with some respectable Young Lady, wishes to meet with some equalizer in the northern district for six or twelve months. No salary required. TAMOR, Herald Office.

A CANOE WANTED.—Address by letter, stating size, price, &c., to CANOE, Herald Office.

A LADY, fully competent to teach English, French, Music, and Drawing in all their branches, orchestral instruments, and other fancy work, wishes for situation as resident governess in a gentleman's family. The highest references. Address, B. H., Herald Office.

BALMAIN.—Wanted to rent for 3, 6, or 9 years, a House containing six rooms, plenty of good water indispensable, and a garden preferred. Address G. S., Post Office, Balmain.

COALS.—Wanted, 100 Tons. WILLIAM WRIGHT 14, Lower Fort-street.

COOK and GENERAL SERVANT Wanted for a family near Sydney. Liberal wages given to competent persons with good character. For address, apply to Mr. HENFREY, Bligh-street, Sydney.

ELLINGTON.—Wanted, JAMES HAINBOW, Address, R. S. Post Office, Melbourne.

EMERALD HILL.—Wanted, a Storekeeper, with or without stock, a good Fattening Station on Moumahaldra River. Apply, with full particulars, to MORT and CO., Pitt-street, Sydney, December 2.

MORNING GOVERNESS.—A Young Lady wishes to do—devote three hours each day to the instruction of two or three little girls in the usual branches of an English education, together with French and music. Address J. H., Herald Office.

MAN WANTED, in a family of two, three miles from town, to look after a horse, milk a cow, dig the garden, and make himself generally useful. HENRY H. BEAUCHAMP, 41, King-street.

MESSENGER WANTED at the Bank of Australasia. None but steady single men with good references need apply.

PAINTER, a good Drapemaker; also, Apprentices, and a General Servant. Apply 143, Riley-street, opposite the Casino.

SOFA FRAME MAKER.—Wanted, a steady indoor man, who thoroughly understands and can cut frame making, and carving. Apply to WILLIAM DEAN and CO., Market-street.

STORE SHEEP and CATTLE wanted to purchase for the Sale Yards, market. W. REA, Commercial buildings, Queen's-place.

TO MILLINERS.—Wanted, two good Hands. C. C. TUTING, 118, Pitt-street.

TO PAPER HANGERS.—Wanted, good Hands. SOUTH and GRIFFITHS, Kent-street.

TO PAINTERS.—Wanted a good Grainer. Apply to WILSON and GORDON, 120, Castlereagh-street.

TO MILLERS.—Wanted, a single man practical miller, who must be competent to keep a good mill in working order. A liberal salary salary will be given; testimonials required. T. W. PHROM, Steam Mill, Maitlandbrook, 26th November.

TO BLACK, LOCK, and GUN SMITHS, and FARRIERS.—Wanted employment for a steady workman (carriage) lately arrived. Apply at the Marine Hotel, Lower George-street.

WANTED a Pasture to the Cape of Good Hope or Van Diemen's Land. Address to J. C., Herald Office.

WANTED (if approved) a strongly made cooker, a one-horse Phaeton, to hold four comfortably, but to fold and without a hood. Apply to Messrs. BURT, BARSAGAL, and CO., Pitt-street.

WANTED, 700 Maiden Ewes and 10 Rams, delivered in Sydney, within three weeks from date; state particulars and price to M. SCOTT, General Post-Office, Sydney, 1st December, 56.

WANTED, a Second Cook, and three steady Waiters. JACOB MYERS, Rainbow Tavern, Pitt-and-King.

WANTED, an Apprentice to the Dressmaking. Apply 14, Hunter-street, Hyde Park, three doors from Pitt-street.

WANTED, a Household, English or Scotch preferred. Apply to Mrs. JAMES COOK, Chemist Quay.

WANTED, a Storekeeper. Apply to FREDERICK FERRIER, Darling Point.

WANTED, a respectable Female Servant. Apply at No. 43, Massey-street, Woolloomooloo.

WANTED, Carpenter. Apply to JOHN REDDICK, 10, Crown-street, Darlinghurst, Sydney.

WANTED, a good English or Scotch General Servant. Apply to Mrs. TAIT, 9, Upper Fort-street, or at the Grand Hotel.

WANTED, a Lad to drive a Pony and to make himself generally useful. STEWART'S Furniture Store, No. 1, Hunter-street.

WANTED, a Boy accustomed to the Butchering business. Apply at the Post Office, Rushcutter's Bay.

WANTED, two Waiters, Male and Female. Apply at the Central Coffee House, George-street.

WANTED, an active Lad, as Porter. Apply to J. SKINNER, Sydney House, 10a, Pitt-street.

WANTED, by a Married Couple, Situations in a gentleman's family, or a hotel—wife as first-rate Cook, man as Butler or Waiter. Can give good references. Apply to Mrs. FAWKES' Registry Office, 23, King-street.

WANTED, by an Englishwoman, a Situation as Cook or Upper Servant, either in town or country; would not objects to Melbourne or any of the colonies. The advertiser, being a Jewess, would prefer a family of the same persuasion. Apply at Mrs. FAWKES'S Registry Office, 23, King-street.

WANTED, Improvers; also an Apprentice to the Dressmaking. Apply 149, South Head Road.

WANTED, by a Youth, aged sixteen, a situation as Cabin Boy in a ship. Address JOHN CHAPMAN, Star Hotel, Macquarie-place.

WANTED, a respectable Youth as Clerk and Collector, or as SMITH, PEATE, and CO., grocers, &c., 113 and 115, George-street.

WANTED, a Situation by a Young Man in a Drapery Store, or otherwise, either town or country. Excellent references can be given. Address by letter H. F., Herald Office.

WANTED, a Situation. A gentleman well versed in accounts, and of temperate habits, would be glad of an engagement, either in town or country. Unexceptionable trustworthy principles are essential; is well qualified to undertake a correspondence department. Address E.W., care of Mr. Lusby, Wilshire-buildings.

WANTED, an active Youth, who writes a good hand, and is willing to make himself generally useful. Apply to R. BENJAMIN, Auctioneer, Hyde Park.

WANTED, a respectable Female Servant. No washing required. 83, Bourke-street, Woolloomooloo.

WANTED, a Bedroom with Partial Board. Address Pressman, Herald Office.

WANTED, to Rent, within five miles of the City, a comfortable small Cottage, with paddock and good water; if without paddock, situated in the bush. Address, H. T., Herald Office.

WANTED, a good outstanding Horse for phaeton or dog-cart. Apply B. G., Herald Office.

WANTED, a General Servant; none need apply of good character need apply to Mrs. R. SOLOMON, No. 94, Sydney-street.

WANTED, in the neighbourhood of the Surry Hills, a small Cottage, with good room. Address, stating rent, which must be moderate, to E. T. C., Herald Office.

WANTED, a small cargo of Coals. Apply to MACINTOSH, BIGLADDS, and CO., 190, George-st.

WANTED, Four or Five Shepherds for a northern district. Apply at the bar of the Royal Hotel, from 10 to 11 o'clock THIS DAY.

WANTED, a respectable Female Servant. Apply 451, George-street, Brickfield-hill.

WANTED, a Housemaid. Apply to Mrs. JAMES JOHNSON, 19, Perry's-buildings, Pitt-street.

WANTED, two good Bootmakers, best wages given. Apply to 43, Lower George-street.

WANTED, by a young English woman, a situation as plain Cook, in Sydney, where the washing is put out. J. M., 65, Philip-street.

WANTED, for a country store, a Grocery Assistant. Must be a competent hand. Apply to PRINCE, BLAY and CO., George-street.

WANTED (on MONDAY) within two miles of Sydney, a Private Residence, containing not less than six good rooms. The upper part of Woolloomooloo or Potts' Hill will be preferred. Address, J. B., Post Office. Rent, once, for a term of six or twelve months. Apply

VICTORIA by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland Queen Defender of the Faith &c. &c. &c. To our Sheriff of New South Wales or his lawful Deputy Greeting. Whereas we have given to the Justices of the Supreme Court of New South Wales and to each of them of Gilbert Wright of the city of Sydney in the colony of New South Wales gentleman against Thomas Manus Worthington of the said city of Sydney merchant in a plea of other things appears to us That in the Twelfth Day of November in the Year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six the said petitioner recovered and signed judgment against the said Supreme Court in the Common Law Jurisdiction in an action against the said Thomas Manus Worthington whereby the said petitioner by the judgment and the issues of our said Supreme Court recovered against the said Thomas Manus Worthington the sum of sixty-three pounds two shillings and sixpence besides the costs of the Thomas Manus Worthington in law justly and truly indebted to the said petitioner under and by virtue of the said judgment and sentence in the said sum of sixty-three pounds two shillings and sixpence besides interest on such judgment That before and at the time of the recovery of the said judgment and sentence the said Thomas Manus Worthington had and now has real property (that is to say) personal estate within the said colony That the said judgment and sentence are still in force and unsatisfied That on the eleventh day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six the said petitioner and cause of the said petitioner in the said Supreme Court upon the said judgment and sentence a certain writ of execution commonly called a fieri facias directed to you the said Sheriff of New South Wales whereby you the said Sheriff of New South Wales were commanded to make of the lands tenements and hereditaments goods chattels moneys and securities for money specifies of redemption and equitable interest in your bailiwick of or belonging to the said Thomas Manus Worthington the said sum of sixty-three pounds two shillings and sixpence the said costs and interest of the said judgment and sentence which said writ of execution was indorsed to levy the said sum of sixty-three pounds two shillings and sixpence: That the said writ was duly lodged with you the said Sheriff: That you the said Sheriff duly deputed and charged Thomas Moore Esq. the bailiff and officer of the said Sheriff for the district of Sydney in the said colony with the execution of the said judgment and sentence: and the said Thomas Moore Esq. duly became the officer charged with the execution of the said judgment and sentence: That the said Thomas Manus Worthington (that is to say) on the eleventh day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six having against him the said judgment and sentence and (having been so required) not having satisfied the same and not having pointed out to the said officer charged with the execution thereof sufficient distresses or sufficient property to satisfy the same and it appearing from the affidavit of the said Thomas Moore that the said Thomas Manus Worthington had sufficient disposable property of the said Thomas Manus Worthington to satisfy the said judgment and sentence the Thomas Moore Worthington and the said Thomas Manus Worthington as act of insolvency Whereupon the said petitioner prayed that the estate of the said Thomas Manus Worthington might be sequestrated for the benefit of his creditors And whereas it further appears to us in our said Court that the honorable Colonial Secretary of the said colony of Sydney and our said Court did by order under his hand bearing date the thirteenth day of November now instant place the estate of the said Thomas Manus Worthington under sequestration according to law in the hands of the Chief Commissioner of Insolvent Estates in Sydney aforesaid until the same should in the course of law be adjudged to be sequestrated or the said petition should be dismissed: Therefore we command you that you summon the said Thomas Manus Worthington that he be before our Justices of our said Supreme Court at Sydney on the twelfth day of December now instant at the Court House situated in King-street Sydney aforesaid to answer the premises he has and why his said estate should not by sentence of the said Court be adjudged to be sequestrated according to law for the benefit of his creditors Witness the Honorable Sir Stephen Lewis Knight the Chief Justice of our said Court this thirteenth day of November in the twentieth year of our reign.

S. LEWIS, C.J. S. PURKEROY.

Chief Commissioner of Insolvent Estates.

To Mr. THOMAS MANUS WORTHINGTON.—Take notice that within four days after the service of this extract you must deliver to the Commissioner of Insolvent Estates, Chief Commissioner of Insolvent Estates at Sydney aforesaid office situated in the Supreme Court House King-street, Sydney, if your residence be within twenty miles of such Commissioner's said office and if at a greater distance therefrom then you must within such time per day for the nearest Post Office addressed to such Commissioner a statement in writing signed by you of any facts alleged in this summons which you intend to dispute and all facts no notice of an intention to dispute which shall be so given will upon the hearing of the case be taken to be admitted by you and the petitioning creditor will not be required to prove the same. Dated this seventeenth day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six.

TOWNE, Jr.

GILBERT WRIGHT.

IN the Insolvent Estate of HENRY MARSH.—I, the undersigned, the Official Assignee in the above estate, having received from Mr. RICHARD BOYDELL, the sum of four hundred pounds sterling in full of my claim against him in respect of all monies or goods received or recovered by him by virtue of the above sequestration in the said insolvent in his favour, on the 11th day of July, 1855, agree not to sue any person or persons who may have paid or delivered unto Mr. Boydell, by virtue of the aforesaid rights under such assignment.

(Signed) J. P. MACKENZIE, Official Assignee.

Dated this 29th day of November, 1856.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL.—Australian Agricultural Company's Offices, from 5, Church-hill, to Lyons' Buildings, 120, George-street, Opposite Bridge-street.

WRITING TAUGHT in Ten Lessons, by Mr BRAGG, 39, Goulburn-street. Terms, in class, one guinea.

WAX FLOWERS perfectly taught for one guinea, Mrs. DOUGHOUSE, Bathurst-street.

EDUCATION.—Ladies' Boarding and Day School, by the Misses LEE, Abercrombie-street, opposite Saint Benedict's Church.

WAX FLOWERS taught by a lady, Bouquet—at KERN'S, stationer, Hunter-street. Flowers to order.

THE UNDERSIGNED is a Purchaser of Wool of this season's clip, or will make liberal cash advances on the same upon consignment to his friends in London, Messrs. H. D. and M. Moses. MOSES MOSS, Wynyard-lane. November 19, 1856.

REMOVAL.—BELLS LIFE IN SYDNEY.—Subscribers and advertisers are respectfully informed that the Office of Bell's Life and Sydney Newspaper, and General Printing Office, are removed to 130, Pitt-street, next door to Messrs. Gordon and Gotch's Office, and opposite Mr. Bernasconi's. Sydney, December 2nd.

No. 56-58. City Commissioners Office,
Sydney, 1st December, 1856.

TO CONTRACTORS, BUILDERS, TIMBER MERCHANTS, BOOKBINDERS, and others.—Tenders will be received at this Office until MONDAY, the 22nd day of December next, at 12 o'clock noon, for the supply of the articles and performance of the works as under, for the year 1857, in accordance with the samples and specifications to be seen at this Office, and the Office of the City Surveyor:

Supply of stationery, bookbinding, and printing.
Laying pavement, under Paving Act of 1855.
Removing contents of dust-boxes throughout city.
Cleansing the streets of the city of Sydney.
Watering certain streets of the city.
Emptying and cleansing water closets.

The works "tendered for" to be endorsed on each tender. The Commissioners do not bind themselves to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order of the Commissioners,
CHARLES H. WOOLCOTT, Secretary.

TO BUILDERS.—Tenders are invited for additions and alterations to a residence at Darlinghurst. Plans and specification may be seen on application to Mr. JOHN HILL, Macquarie-street, to whom tenders are to be delivered by the 10th of December.

TENDERS are invited for the Slaters', Shinglers', and Plumbers' Work to be performed in three Dwellinghouses and two Stores. Apply to Mr. BRADRIDGE, architect, No. 35, Hunter-street, where tenders are to be delivered on or before THURSDAY next, 4th December.

BANDWICK and WAVERLEY TOLL-GATES.—The time for receiving tenders for the above tolls for the year 1857 has been extended from the 20th inst. to the 15th instant. Parties tendering are requested to be in attendance, at 100, York-street, at 10 o'clock p.m., on that day, to name their sureties.

By order of the Commissioners,
J. HINWOOD, Secretary.

December 1st, 1856.

LIGHT SUMMER HATS at Dunbar and Sutton.—Now landing, at the above shop, 94 sacks of superior black and drab summer hats; also, ladies' riding habits of the latest fashion; a large supply of military and sailors, gold and silver cord, embroidered crowns, cannons, anchors, &c. Every description of hat and cap made to order. J. MOUNTJAMES, manufacturer and importer, 194, George-street, and 48, Market-street.

Business closed at half-past 7, Saturdays excepted.

D. BUIST and SON, Finnsbury Makers. Finnsbury-tioned, repaired, or removed. 15, Bridge-street.

DRESSTURES PURCHASED and SOLD by J. P. MACKENZIE, share broker, Elizabeth-street.

HALL and ALDERSON, London Saddle, Harness, Hats, and Shoe Makers. 124, Elizabeth-street, near Park-street.

J. BERNASCONI, Carver, Gilder, and Picture Frame Manufacturer, 127, Pitt-street.

MR. J. ENANDER, Dentist (established in Sydney 1842), No. 183, George-street, near the EMPIRE OFFICE.

MR. J. E. SHYTH, Practical Dentist, 19, O'Connell-street, Sydney, Gold Medalist (Silver Medal), Inventor of many natural shape and variety, from one to a complete set, on the most approved English and American systems. Teeth extracted with the lateral pressure. Decayed teeth stopped with gold leaf and the best cement. Children's teeth restitched. N.B.—Teeth extracted gratis for this year, from 10 till 4.

THE EYESIGHT.—HER MAJESTY'S ROYAL LETTERS PATENT for valuable improvements in optics, discovered by DE LISSA and CO., opticians to the Sydney Ophthalmic Institution, in connection with Messrs. S. and B. Solomon, Sydney, Exclusively invented by THOMAS DE LISSA, Lessee, of the greatest transparent power and brilliancy, limited by a valuable process, known only to themselves. Immediately after adjusting these glasses the vision every object becomes clear and distinct, and the most aged and decrepit age is brought to its youthful, natural, and original state. They are not to be equalled for lightness and durability; in panoptic frames of steel, gold, tortoiseshell, and gold, in every shape. Glasses for the street, manufactured expressly for this colony, resisting the power of the hottest sun or dust. Also, the Spectacles, gold, or tortoise, for the waistcoat pocket. And the Organic Vibrator, a small, valuable, invented instrument, recommended for the relief and cure of deafness. A. DE LISSA and CO., opticians, 86, Castlereagh-street, between King and Market streets. At home from 10 till 4.

SCALD HEADS in Children, and eruptions on the Skin.—A certain remedy for these complaints.—Mrs. Marston, of Stanks-street, Melbourne, had two children afflicted at the time when the most inveterate scald heads; they were also much disfigured with eruptions on the skin. The parent had recourse to a variety of medicines for the alleviation of the sufferings, but no good results were found, but unfortunately made the children worse, and made them more tormented and spread more all over their bodies. The parent eventually determined to try Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which she commenced using in accordance with the directions, and by persevering with them for eight weeks the children were both effectually cured; they have since spread the box of both, and it has not had any relapse of the complaint. Sold at the establishment of Professor Holloway, 244, Strand (near Temple Bar), London, and 80, Maiden Lane, New York; also, by all respectable druggists and dealers in medicines throughout the civilized world, and in all parts of Australia, at the following prices:—1s. 3d., 3s. 3d., and 6s. each pot. ☞ There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. N.B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each pot.

TO CONTRACTORS.—Send your carts to be curried at LEA and WHITFIELD'S, 274, Pitt-street South, Cheff cut with dispatch. Contracts entered into with shippers.

CHINESE POULTRY.—Two hens, five cocks, and forty chickens, of the Darking, China, Silver, and Polish breeds, FOR SALE in one lot. Lower Domain Lodge.

TO LANDLORDS.—☞ Notice.—☞ Deals and laths, lately imported, by WICKHAM and BELL, Land, House, and Estate Agents, whose register of property for SALE or to LET, is at all times open to the public free. Parties having properties for disposal are invited to enter the same on the Register. 4, Jamison-street.

DEAN'S IRON BEDSTEAD WAREHOUSE.—The best assortment of iron bedsteads of every description, cots, cribs, &c., on view at the above warehouse. Cribs holding to 24 lbs nuns, in horsehair, cocoa fibre, flax, and straw. Mark the address—DEAN'S iron bedstead warehouse, Clip Tinshop, Market-street.

SYDNEY IRON BEDSTEAD AND FURNITURE WAREHOUSE.—At the above will be found the best and cheapest assortment of:
Iron bedsteads, cribs, swing cots
Palliasses, mattresses, pillows and bolsters
English and colonial feathers
American stoves, tubs in mats
Chairs in cases, washing stores, washboards, &c.
DAVID and GRIFFITHS, 418, George-street South, two doors from Bathurst-street.

WAX FLOWERS and FRUIT, Ornamental Leather Work, Raised Work, and Beads Work.—Jessamine in the above elegant accomplishments in a superior style at art sale rooms Green at Berlin House, 254, George-street, R. BRADLEY, Berlin House, 254, George-street, has the artists lately from England, who will attend ladies at their residence, if required. Specimens and specimens to be seen at Berlin House, 254, George-street.

BERLIN HOUSE, 254, George street.—Crochet Lace sleeves, collars, chemisettes, and antimacassars, in great variety.

BABY LINES.—Just opened, an assortment of dolls, books, robes, and other requisites for the nursery. W. REDING, Berlin House, 254, George-street.

FORD, THOMPSON, SYMONDS, and CO.
Late
DAVIS JONES AND CO.,
(George and Barrack streets),
Carriage Entrance to the Show Rooms in Barrack-street.

COUTIN and GRIFFITHS will sell THIS DAY and during the week, the following list of cheap goods: All wool plaid barege, in every shade of colour, 24d. per yard
Rich French barege robes, 18 to 20 yards each, 10s. 9d. per robe
Rich tissue long shawls, 10s. 9d. each
Rich tissue long shawls, 10s. 6d. each
Spitalfields silks, warranted not to spot, 29s. 6d. the dress
Black satinette, 22s. 9d. the dress
Rich velveteen, 18s. 6d. the dress
Chenk glass silks, small patterns, 35s. 6d. the dress
With the usual variety, in their well-selected stock.

GALVANIZED CORRUGATED CURVED IRON for verandahs and circular roofs, also Galvanized Iron Guttering, Pipes, &c., at HARTRIDGE'S guttering and ridge capping manufactory, 14, Bathurst-street East.

POTATOES of all kinds, new and old, cheap, at W. PATCHORN, Cross Wharf.

WEATHERBOARD SCANTLINGS.—The undersigned are supplying colonial hardwood, say joists, studs, rafters, weatherboards and battens suitable for the above, delivered at the lowest market rates. JOHN SCOTT and CO., Bathurst-street.

IRONBARK Posts, Rails, and Palings, in any quantity, as wanted by J. BOOTH and CO., Bathurst-street.

TO BUILDERS, CONTRACTORS, &c.—The undersigned are now in a position to supply hardwood in any reasonable quantity within a week of receipt of order. JOHN SCOTT and CO., Bathurst-street.

FLOUR STORES, corner of York and Market streets.—Lessees need, prime quality, at 1s. 8d. per lb.
Variety of cakes, arrowroot, tapioca, vermicelli, and 30 tins of Portugal cakes and, 3 lb. tins, slightly damaged, at 16s. per tin. A real bargain for gardeners.
Fine Hyson, Young Hyson, Souchong, can always be had at the stores of WALKER and SON.

FOR SALE, by the undersigned.—
Bar and bundle iron, best Crown
Blacksmiths' bellows, from 30 to 40 inch
Anvils and vices, all sizes
Hedge and hand hammers
Bolts and nuts, assorted sizes
Enbank patent nails, from 12 to 6 inches
Fencing wire, flat, round, and barbed
Wrought brass, clasp, and latch nails
Tracs and hollow chains
Bows and block chains
Parker's new invented bright C.S. spades
Ditto C.S. hoes and forks
Ditto digging, potato, and hay forks
Bright American long and short handle shovels
Bright and black axes, hatchets
Collins' tomahawks and mining picks
Ditto axes and tomahawks
Carpenters' chisels, short handles, from 1 to 2 inch
Ditto buckets and tubs, in nests
Ditto sieves and riddles
And every description of carpenters' tools.
ALF. KEARTS, Sheffield Warehouse, 44, Pitt-street North.

FARMS IN ILLAWARRA, of various sizes, near Wollongong, for SALE and LEASE, with a liberal allowance for improvements, on the premises during their occupancy. Apply to Mr. DAVIDSON, 31, Jamison-street, Sydney.

TO HAIRDRESSERS, PERFUMERS, and others.—To be Disposed of, Stock and Trade of a Hairdresser and Perfumer (about of ten years standing), situated in George-street. For further particulars, apply to J. W. JACKSON, 340, George-street. ☞ 4028

LAND, HOUSE, and ESTATE AGENCY, Offices 4, Jamison-street.

Do you want a house or apartments?
Do you want to LET either house or apartments?
Do you want to buy property?
Do you want to sell property?
Do you require advances of money on freehold property?
Do you require investments?
Do you seek a good public-house?
Do you prefer to hold?
Do you want a valuation made?
Do you want your rents or debts collected?
Do you require your affairs arranged?
In either case apply to WICKHAM and BELL, 4, Jamison-street.

MEETING OF THE CLERGY OF THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

A meeting was held in the Rooms of the Church Society, on Thursday, in pursuance of the following advertisement:—

Notice.—The Clergy of the Church of England are invited to attend a meeting of the Members of the Church Society, in George-street, this day, December 3rd, at 11 o'clock, to take into consideration the propriety of a Bill being introduced into the Legislature upon the proposed Grant for Educational purposes. By order of the Lord Bishop of Sydney. H. Kerrison, Jun., Secretary.

The Bishop of Sydney presided, and there were also present, consisting of the Venerable Archdeacon Cowper, and Revs. G. King, R. Rogers, W. W. Simpson, T. Hassall, C. Hassall, J. A. Durkee, P. P. Agnew, A. Douglass, G. W. Richardson, G. Gurney, W. F. Gore, T. H. Wilkinson, T. Dunkin, R. Fiaccus, W. Wood, R. R. Wood, C. C. Kemp, W. Stack, W. M. Cowper, F. Ashwin, T. C. Ewing, A. H. Stephen, T. L. Dodd, D. Meares, Dr. Thomson, W. Hodgson, R. L. King, Thomas Reddall, Elijah Smith, P. Lemitzer, and T. Druitt.

The Revd. Canon Allwood having offered up prayer,

The BISHOP OF SYDNEY said: The object of the meeting to-day is to express an opinion upon the grant for educational purposes which has been placed upon the Estimates, and by which the Denominational School Board will be deprived of nearly £2000, as compared with the sum at their disposal last year. Am willing to believe that intention exists in the mind of the present Administration to cripple the resources of the Denominational School Board, or to prevent such from promoting their cherished educational career; but a more serious blow could hardly be inflicted upon the cause of education, as represented by that Board, or upon the schools of the Church of England. Such schools have long been at the point of starvation; there is scarcely a good teacher who does not feel that he has cause to complain of the neglect of the temporal interest of his stipend, his want of assistance in the school, or of furniture or additional accommodation. There is scarcely a parish in which there is not a school is not in want of money for his school, or for the purpose of establishing additional schools, or for building or repairing a school house, or for the purchase of land, if have a list of thirty places where schools are required, but nothing can be done because the Denominational School Board has no money for the building, or for additional stipends. Some of our schools have been condemned by the Commissioners of Education, and yet they are state. Let the reason be assigned, and it will be found, in the majority of cases, the fault is not in the system, but the want of means. If buildings are out of repair, if school furniture is insufficient, if some teachers in remote places, or in ill-paid schools, are incompetent, why is this? If no funds are forthcoming, how are schools to be established? To call upon the population of a high order, and not to supply us with the means of doing so, resembles one of the command given by the Taskmaster of Israel by the Egyptian rulers, rather than of the policy of an enlightened Government in the nineteenth century. I have no wish to underrate the great and the extraordinary merits of the national and denominational systems. I will never give in my adhesion to the one or forsake my principles for the other. I will never refuse my support to a system of education which does not give to the Church of England clergymen, and to his school-master, the opportunity of instructing the children in his own communion the Word of God and the Catechism of his Church. I am quite ready to agree to a plan by which the May be that, and the religious convictions of all other denominations be respected, and their rights preserved. I ask nothing for the Church of England which I am not willing to give to others. But at present the two systems are in existence. The Government has not any plan to propose. Our expectations have been raised only to be disappointed, and the Church is left to the operation of two systems which, if not essentially antagonistic, are in many places opposed to each other. Under existing circumstances I do not object to delay in legislating upon education. No legislation is better than bad legislation, but I do strongly object to a portion of the public fund which increases the growth of money to those who do not need it, takes away from those who require an increase, and yet it is proposed to give the Church has hitherto been found insufficient. I hold in my hand a table of the grants made to the two boards, by which it appears that the sum given to the National Board is trebled while that given to the Denominational School Board has decreased. Under these circumstances I do not wonder that the proportion of children in the respective schools is 7 to 2—7 children in denominational schools and 2 in the National. I will not say that it is proposed to give £50,000 to the National Board which has 4000 children, and £16,000 to the Denominational Board which has 2000 children, and yet the Denominational School Board is expected to educate each child for £1 per annum, while the National Board have the luxury of spending between £4 and £5 per annum on each child. Now, I know of no good reason for this difference of treatment. I am persuaded that the system in Denominational Schools can be as good in quality as that given in the National Schools, and far more extensive in its operation. I know that it has not been so. But this is it true, the Government of this country have to deal with this fact—that the majority of the children are educated in the Church National Schools, and so long as this system is continued it ought to be supported in such a manner as to make it the most efficient. The question before us, put in a practical form, is, What shall be done to prevent the contemplated injury from being inflicted? The Parliament cannot increase the grant without the consent of the Governor-General. We, propose, therefore, first to address his Excellency, saying that he will be pleased to recommend a supplementary vote of £2000 to the Denominational School Board. But as this must be sanctioned by the Parliament, and voted by them, we propose a second step, which is to address the Legislative Assembly on the appropriation of grants of money for educational purposes, due regard may be had to the first claims of the Church of England, as she is identified with the Church of England, but always been too small. He believed the proposal to diminish the grant was impolitic; that it would tend to discourage the Church of England from affording to the effort of those such such education as might qualify them for their future state in life, and that it would inflict an injury on the whole community, under Providence, by impeding the efficiency and impede the progress of education, involving small salaries and inefficient teachers. If the Church of England should be called upon to bear a portion of the funds set apart for education placed at its disposal, their children would grow up a blindness, which the Government would. Under the reduction in question had only arisen from want of consideration on the part of the House, and that the present state of affairs might be remedied by the means of inducing hon. members to reflect on the subject. He hoped they would give to the Church of England the same treatment which it gave to the Church of their duty towards the whole of the children in connection therewith.

The Rev. Mr. ALLWOOD seconded the resolution After the speech had listened to from the Lord Bishop and the Archdeacon, he did not think it necessary to detain the meeting by any further remarks on the consideration of an augmentation of the grant for the denominational schools, in order that the schools might be conducted in an efficient manner. Without any measures being adopted to enable the schools satisfactorily, and it was impossible to retain the services of good masters, unless they had a fair and proper remuneration for their work. Under these circumstances, he was sorry to find that the Government had considered it expedient to apply the rule of reduction, which they had laid down for the other departments, to the stipends of the Denominational School Board. He believed, was the true history of the reduction. He so he under correction, but he believed that the once of the Church of England, in the present 1851, the national education was £10,565,—the gold increase of 76 per cent. was added in 1856 to the salaries of the teachers, amounting to the present £21,850 and it was now proposed to deduct 25 per cent. of this increase, or £1700, which reduced the sum to £15,500, the amount placed on the Estimates for 1857. He regretted that the schoolmasters had not been made an exception to the rule adopted in the other establishments. When he considered the difficulties which had attended the formation of a separate Government, the lateness of the session, the many very important objects which necessarily occupied the time and attention of the Ministers, he thought it was unreasonable to expect that they should have found time to mature any enlarged system of education which would meet the views of the great majority of the colony. In such a case, he regretted that they had not allowed the grant for the schools to continue as before, or if any alteration was to be made, that it had not been in augmentation, to keep pace with the increasing population of the country. He regretted that the Legislature upon the proposed Grant for Educational purposes. By order of the Lord Bishop of Sydney. H. Kerrison, Jun., Secretary.

The Bishop of Sydney presided, and there were also present, consisting of the Venerable Archdeacon Cowper, and Revs. G. King, R. Rogers, W. W. Simpson, T. Hassall, C. Hassall, J. A. Durkee, P. P. Agnew, A. Douglass, G. W. Richardson, G. Gurney, W. F. Gore, T. H. Wilkinson, T. Dunkin, R. Fiaccus, W. Wood, R. R. Wood, C. C. Kemp, W. Stack, W. M. Cowper, F. Ashwin, T. C. Ewing, A. H. Stephen, T. L. Dodd, D. Meares, Dr. Thomson, W. Hodgson, R. L. King, Thomas Reddall, Elijah Smith, P. Lemitzer, and T. Druitt.

The Revd. Canon ALLWOOD having offered up prayer,

The BISHOP OF SYDNEY said: The object of the meeting to-day is to express an opinion upon the grant for educational purposes which has been placed upon the Estimates, and by which the Denominational School Board will be deprived of nearly £2000, as compared with the sum at their disposal last year. Am willing to believe that intention exists in the mind of the present Administration to cripple the resources of the Denominational School Board, or to prevent such from promoting their cherished educational career; but a more serious blow could hardly be inflicted upon the cause of education, as represented by that Board, or upon the schools of the Church of England. Such schools have long been at the point of starvation; there is scarcely a good teacher who does not feel that he has cause to complain of the neglect of the temporal interest of his stipend, his want of assistance in the school, or of furniture or additional accommodation. There is scarcely a parish in which there is not a school is not in want of money for his school, or for the purpose of establishing additional schools, or for building or repairing a school house, or for the purchase of land, I have a list of thirty places where schools are required, but nothing can be done because the Denominational School Board has no money for the building, or for additional stipends. Some of our schools have been condemned by the Commissioners of Education, and yet they are state. Let the reason be assigned, and it will be found, in the majority of cases, the fault is not in the system, but the want of means. If buildings are out of repair, if school furniture is insufficient, if some teachers in remote places, or in ill-paid schools, are incompetent, why is this? If no funds are forthcoming, how are schools to be established? To call upon the population of a high order, and not to supply us with the means of doing so, resembles one of the command given by the Taskmaster of Israel by the Egyptian rulers, rather than of the policy of an enlightened Government in the nineteenth century. I have no wish to underrate the great and the extraordinary merits of the national and denominational systems. I will never give in my adhesion to the one or forsake my principles for the other. I will never refuse my support to a system of education which does not give to the Church of England clergymen, and to his school-master, the opportunity of instructing the children in his own communion the Word of God and the Catechism of his Church. I am quite ready to agree to a plan by which the May be that, and the religious convictions of all other denominations be respected, and their rights preserved. I ask nothing for the Church of England which I am not willing to give to others. But at present the two systems are in existence. The Government has not any plan to propose. Our expectations have been raised only to be disappointed, and the Church is left to the operation of two systems which, if not essentially antagonistic, are in many places opposed to each other. Under existing circumstances I do not object to delay in legislating upon education. No legislation is better than bad legislation, but I do strongly object to a portion of the public fund which increases the growth of money to those who do not need it, takes away from those who require an increase, and yet it is proposed to give the Church has hitherto been found insufficient. I hold in my hand a table of the grants made to the two boards, by which it appears that the sum given to the National Board is trebled while that given to the Denominational School Board has decreased. Under these circumstances I do not wonder that the proportion of children in the respective schools is 7 to 2—7 children in denominational schools and 2 in the National. I will not say that it is proposed to give £50,000 to the National Board which has 4000 children, and £16,000 to the Denominational Board which has 2000 children, and yet the Denominational School Board is expected to educate each child for £1 per annum, while the National Board have the luxury of spending between £4 and £5 per annum on each child. Now, I know of no good reason for this difference of treatment. I am persuaded that the system in Denominational Schools can be as good in quality as that given in the National Schools, and far more extensive in its operation. I know that it has not been so. But this is it true, the Government of this country have to deal with this fact—that the majority of the children are educated in the Church National Schools, and so long as this system is continued it ought to be supported in such a manner as to make it the most efficient. The question before us, put in a practical form, is, What shall be done to prevent the contemplated injury from being inflicted? The Parliament cannot increase the grant without the consent of the Governor-General. We, propose, therefore, first to address his Excellency, saying that he will be pleased to recommend a supplementary vote of £2000 to the Denominational School Board. But as this must be sanctioned by the Parliament, and voted by them, we propose a second step, which is to address the Legislative Assembly on the appropriation of grants of money for educational purposes, due regard may be had to the first claims of the Church of England, as she is identified with the Church of England, but always been too small. He believed the proposal to diminish the grant was impolitic; that it would tend to discourage the Church of England from affording to the effort of those such such education as might qualify them for their future state in life, and that it would inflict an injury on the whole community, under Providence, by impeding the efficiency and impede the progress of education, involving small salaries and inefficient teachers. If the Church of England should be called upon to bear a portion of the funds set apart for education placed at its disposal, their children would grow up a blindness, which the Government would. Under the reduction in question had only arisen from want of consideration on the part of the House, and that the present state of affairs might be remedied by the means of inducing hon. members to reflect on the subject. He hoped they would give to the Church of England the same treatment which it gave to the Church of their duty towards the whole of the children in connection therewith.

The Rev. Mr. ALLWOOD seconded the resolution After the speech he had listened to from the Lord Bishop and the Archdeacon, he did not think it necessary to detain the meeting by any further remarks on the consideration of an augmentation of the grant for the denominational schools, in order that the schools might be conducted in an efficient manner. Without any measures being adopted to enable the schools satisfactorily, and it was impossible to retain the services of good masters, unless they had a fair and proper remuneration for their work. Under these circumstances, he was sorry to find that the Government had considered it expedient to apply the rule of reduction, which they had laid down for the other departments, to the stipends of the Denominational School Board. He believed, was the true history of the reduction. He so he under correction, but he believed that the once of the Church of England, in the present 1851, the national education was £10,565,—the gold increase of 76 per cent. was added in 1856 to the salaries of the teachers, amounting to the present £21,850 and it was now proposed to deduct 25 per cent. of this increase, or £1700, which reduced the sum to £15,500, the amount placed on the Estimates for 1857. He regretted that the schoolmasters had not been made an exception to the rule adopted in the other establishments. When he considered the difficulties which had attended the formation of a separate Government, the lateness of the session, the many very important objects which necessarily occupied the time and attention of the Ministers, he thought it was unreasonable to expect that they should have found time to mature any enlarged system of education which would meet the views of the great majority of the colony. In such a case, he regretted that they had not allowed the grant for the schools to continue as before, or if any alteration was to be made, that it had not been in augmentation, to keep pace with the increasing population of the country. He regretted that the Legislature upon the proposed Grant for Educational purposes.

The Bishop of Sydney said: The object of the meeting to-day is to express an opinion upon the grant for educational purposes which has been placed upon the Estimates, and by which the Denominational School Board will be deprived of nearly £2000, as compared with the sum at their disposal last year. Am willing to believe that intention exists in the mind of the present Administration to cripple the resources of the Denominational School Board, or to prevent such from promoting their cherished educational career; but a more serious blow could hardly be inflicted upon the cause of education, as represented by that Board, or upon the schools of the Church of England. Such schools have long been at the point of starvation; there is scarcely a good teacher who does not feel that he has cause to complain of the neglect of the temporal interest of his stipend, his want of assistance in the school, or of furniture or additional accommodation. There is scarcely a parish in which there is not a school is not in want of money for his school, or for the purpose of establishing additional schools, or for building or repairing a school house, or for the purchase of land, I have a list of thirty places where schools are required, but nothing can be done because the Denominational School Board has no money for the building, or for additional stipends. Some of our schools have been condemned by the Commissioners of Education, and yet they are state. Let the reason be assigned, and it will be found, in the majority of cases, the fault is not in the system, but the want of means. If buildings are out of repair, if school furniture is insufficient, if some teachers in remote places, or in ill-paid schools, are incompetent, why is this? If no funds are forthcoming, how are schools to be established? To call upon the population of a high order, and not to supply us with the means of doing so, resembles one of the command given by the Taskmaster of Israel by the Egyptian rulers, rather than of the policy of an enlightened Government in the nineteenth century. I have no wish to underrate the great and the extraordinary merits of the national and denominational systems. I will never give in my adhesion to the one or forsake my principles for the other. I will never refuse my support to a system of education which does not give to the Church of England clergymen, and to his school-master, the opportunity of instructing the children in his own communion the Word of God and the Catechism of his Church. I am quite ready to agree to a plan by which the May be that, and the religious convictions of all other denominations be respected, and their rights preserved. I ask nothing for the Church of England which I am not willing to give to others. But at present the two systems are in existence. The Government has not any plan to propose. Our expectations have been raised only to be disappointed, and the Church is left to the operation of two systems which, if not essentially antagonistic, are in many places opposed to each other. Under existing circumstances I do not object to delay in legislating upon education. No legislation is better than bad legislation, but I do strongly object to a portion of the public fund which increases the growth of money to those who do not need it, takes away from those who require an increase, and yet it is proposed to give the Church has hitherto been found insufficient. I hold in my hand a table of the grants made to the two boards, by which it appears that the sum given to the National Board is trebled while that given to the Denominational School Board has decreased. Under these circumstances I do not wonder that the proportion of children in the respective schools is 7 to 2—7 children in denominational schools and 2 in the National. I will not say that it is proposed to give £50,000 to the National Board which has 4000 children, and £16,000 to the Denominational Board which has 2000 children, and yet the Denominational School Board is expected to educate each child for £1 per annum, while the National Board have the luxury of spending between £4 and £5 per annum on each child. Now, I know of no good reason for this difference of treatment. I am persuaded that the system in Denominational Schools can be as good in quality as that given in the National Schools, and far more extensive in its operation. I know that it has not been so. But this is it true, the Government of this country have to deal with this fact—that the majority of the children are educated in the Church National Schools, and so long as this system is continued it ought to be supported in such a manner as to make it the most efficient. The question before us, put in a practical form, is, What shall be done to prevent the contemplated injury from being inflicted? The Parliament cannot increase the grant without the consent of the Governor-General. We, propose, therefore, first to address his Excellency, saying that he will be pleased to recommend a supplementary vote of £2000 to the Denominational School Board. But as this must be sanctioned by the Parliament, and voted by them, we propose a second step, which is to address the Legislative Assembly on the appropriation of grants of money for educational purposes, due regard may be had to the first claims of the Church of England, as she is identified with the Church of England, but always been too small. He believed the proposal to diminish the grant was impolitic; that it would tend to discourage the Church of England from affording to the effort of those such such education as might qualify them for their future state in life, and that it would inflict an injury on the whole community, under Providence, by impeding the efficiency and impede the progress of education, involving small salaries and inefficient teachers. If the Church of England should be called upon to bear a portion of the funds set apart for education placed at its disposal, their children would grow up a blindness, which the Government would. Under the reduction in question had only arisen from want of consideration on the part of the House, and that the present state of affairs might be remedied by the means of inducing hon. members to reflect on the subject. He hoped they would give to the Church of England the same treatment which it gave to the Church of their duty towards the whole of the children in connection therewith.

The Rev. Mr. ALLWOOD seconded the resolution After the speech he had listened to from the Lord Bishop and the Archdeacon, he did not think it necessary to detain the meeting by any further remarks on the consideration of an augmentation of the grant for the denominational schools, in order that the schools might be conducted in an efficient manner. Without any measures being adopted to enable the schools satisfactorily, and it was impossible to retain the services of good masters, unless they had a fair and proper remuneration for their work. Under these circumstances, he was sorry to find that the Government had considered it expedient to apply the rule of reduction, which they had laid down for the other departments, to the stipends of the Denominational School Board. He believed, was the true history of the reduction. He so he under correction, but he believed that the once of the Church of England, in the present 1851, the national education was £10,565,—the gold increase of 76 per cent. was added in 1856 to the salaries of the teachers, amounting to the present £21,850 and it was now proposed to deduct 25 per cent. of this increase, or £1700, which reduced the sum to £15,500, the amount placed on the Estimates for 1857. He regretted that the schoolmasters had not been made an exception to the rule adopted in the other establishments. When he considered the difficulties which had attended the formation of a separate Government, the lateness of the session, the many very important objects which necessarily occupied the time and attention of the Ministers, he thought it was unreasonable to expect that they should have found time to mature any enlarged system of education which would meet the views of the great majority of the colony. In such a case, he regretted that they had not allowed the grant for the schools to continue as before, or if any alteration was to be made, that it had not been in augmentation, to keep pace with the increasing population of the country. He regretted that the Legislature upon the proposed Grant for Educational purposes.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

BUSINESS PROCEEDINGS THIS DAY.

NOTICES OF MOTION.

Mr. DEAS THOMSON to the Colonial Secretary—Whether the Council is willing to concur with the Legislative Assembly, if it shall think fit, in the following amendments to the resolutions of the Council of the 18th ultimo, relative to the transmission of a Address to the Throne, viz.—That in addition to the made prescribed by a previous resolution of the Council, a conference between this Council and the Assembly, one of the clerks of either House to be appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly, to the other. And that Messages so sent be received at the bar of the House to which they are sent by the Speaker or by the Clerk, at any time which it is sitting, or in committee, without interrupting the business of the House to which they are sent. That the said resolution be communicated to the Legislative Assembly, and concurrence desired therein.

Mr. WARE to move,—That the returns relative to the railway charters, laid upon the table of this House, on Friday last, be printed.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

1. Tillet to Lord Bill, to be considered in committee.
2. Bills of Exchange Bill, second reading.
3. Meerion Bay District Court Bill, second reading.
4. Jurors Qualification Bill, second reading.
5. Remedies on Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes Facilitation Bill, second reading.
6. Outlaws of Office Bill, modifying Bill, to be considered in committee.
7. Gaols against Government Bill, second reading.
8. Constitution Act Amendment Bill, third reading.
9. Judges Salaries Increase Bill, third reading.
10. Destitute Children's Bill,

LAW.

SUPREME COURT.—TUESDAY.
SITTINGS FOR THE TRIAL OF CAUSES.
JURY COURT.

BEFORE Mr. Justice Dickinson and a jury of four.

WAS YOUR NOTE VOUCHER V. WEBB.

This was an action upon a promissory note for £200 18s. 6d., for goods, said to have been made at the 25th October, 1854, by the firm of Sollner and Berry, as the representatives of which firm the defendant was sued, in favour of Rawack, Brothers, and Co., and by them endorsed to the plaintiff. The pleadings were very lengthy, and set out the defence was substantially this:—that the plaintiff was a partner in the firm of Rawack, Brothers, and Company, and had never proposed any other interest in the note than such a position, as such partner gave him; that the plaintiff had been specially trusted with the note as the agent, or trustee of his partners in the firm of Rawack, Brothers, and Co., to get it discounted at his own bankers, and to apply the proceeds to their use, if useful, and for no other purpose whatever; that, having failed to get it discounted and apply the proceeds in this way, the plaintiff had acted in breach of faith, in retaining the note after maturity instead of returning it to the co-ho. of Rawack, Brothers, and Co., as he ought to have done, and that defendant had fully indorsed Rawack, Brothers, and Co. for this bill by payment to one of the members of that firm before it became due.

Mr. Isaacs appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Bidell for the defendant.

The fact of the plaintiff being a partner in the firm of Rawack, Brothers, and Co., was proved beyond question, and was finally admitted in his pleadings, but he had, it seemed, left the colony, and his interest would appear to be virtually, to a great extent, antagonistic to those of the other members of that house, which had since become insolvent. It was proved by the evidence of Mr. Leopold Rawack, that the note had been endorsed to plaintiff on the understanding that if the firm should need money it should be endorsed at his—Mr. Van der Porten's—own business, and the proceeds applied to the use of the house; that money not having been needed he concluded the note to have been in the co-ho. interest, inferred by defendant of its being in the hands of Mr. Norton, who had received payment from defendant on Van der Porten's account; and that he—Mr. Leopold Rawack—had accepted a payment in satisfaction of this note as signed by the plaintiff. But it appeared from the customary bank stamp upon the note itself that it had, in point of fact, been discounted, and consequently that plaintiff must have taken it up before leaving the colony, or it could not have been produced and used upon by his professional representative. It was admitted, moreover, that the endorsement to Van der Porten was clearly made to his by the firm as a distinct individual, and not as a member of such firm, consequently, that the trades of his claim was in no way affected by the fact of the payment to Rawack already mentioned.

His Honor briefly summed up, drawing attention to several issues, and directing the jury to say, from the evidence before them, first, whether the plaintiff was endorsee in his individual capacity, or, as averred in the pleadings, as member of the firm of Rawack, Brothers, and Co.; secondly, whether there had or had not been a satisfaction of this note as pleaded.

The jury found a verdict for the plaintiff, damages £215 5s. 6d., being the amount of the note and interest thereon.

HANCO COURT.
BEFORE THE CHIEF JUSTICE and a jury of four.

FERRY V. BLIGHT AND ANOTHER.

This was an action for the price of hay, for money had and received, and for the use and occupation of premises.

The defendants paid £55 into Court.

The case was in part heard on Saturday last.

The Attorney-General and Mr. Martin appeared for the plaintiff; the Solicitor-General and Mr. Stephen for the defendants.

There was a quantity of hay purchased by the plaintiff, and he agreed to let the defendants have half of it. It was in the hands of a person named Watts, who was agent for both parties. Some portion was used by the defendants for their horses on the Bathurst road, another portion remained with Watts, and was sold by auction; then a settlement of accounts took place. The plaintiff stated he did not include in that settlement the hay in question, but the same was for which the defendants had had for their horses on the Liverpool Road. He did not know the amount at the time, but knew it was worth £5 per ton; if anything more was due for hay he would pay it. There was no evidence, but not of a specific kind, as to the delivery of some of this hay for use as alleged. The defendants denied all knowledge of such a supply, and relied upon the fact of no mention having been made in the settlement of accounts, also on the amount in addition to the portion of hay admitted to be sold, being set down as "hay." The plaintiff had paid to the agent without deducting on account of his present claim, and the sum so paid was the sum alleged in the count for money had and received. On the question of use and occupation there was conflicting evidence. The plaintiff stated that he was sued for it, and the defendants have the use of a blacksmith's shop for ten months, during which time he was under agreement that he should use a coach which was to stop at an hotel belonging to one Bennett, and the defendants were also to let the Bathurst mail stop there, which they had contracted to run for three years. He never agreed to open them two other out-offices, which they took possession of; on the contrary, those were locked, and he had property of his own in them. He had paid for ten months rent for the blacksmith's shop, and seventeen months' rent for the rest of the premises. On the other side, Bennett stated that he had continued to give a higher rent for the hotel in consideration of the coaches stopping there, and he was to have the premises in question as an inducement for the coaches to stop, those premises being adjoining the hotel. One of the defendants, namely, Elliott, stated that he agreed with the plaintiff that he was to have all those premises free as long as he continued to run the coaches; he did not run at all without having such premises for them.

The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff on one count, and for the defendants on another. As to the claim for the hay, a verdict for the plaintiff, £35 beyond the sum paid into Court. As to the claim for use and occupation, a verdict for the defendants.

IN EQUITY.

Before the Primary Judge.

FERRY V. BRIDSON.

This was a suit by an official assignee to set aside a mortgage made by the insolvent. The plaintiff was official assignee of the estate of Louis Barber, and the deed in question was made by the insolvent, in consideration of money due to the trustee under his wife's marriage settlement. Its validity was impeached upon the ground that Mr. Barber was in insolvent circumstances at the time it was executed, thus rendering it void by the operation of section 8 of the Insolvent Act.

Mr. Blake and Mr. Riley appeared for the plaintiff, and the Attorney-General for the defendant.

The plaintiff's counsel relied upon the fact that Mr. Barber was a member of the firm of Tenchem, Barber, and Co., and that firm was insolvent at the time; as being conclusive, upon the fact that Mr. Barber himself must also have been then in insolvent circumstances. Consequently, that in so much as the deed was in circumstanced, he had given an undue preference to his wife's trustees. On the other hand it was contended that as the insolvency of the partnership estate of Mr. Barber, which had not been separately sued, as the creditors of the partnership could not be delayed after the creditors of the private estate had been fully satisfied, the former class of creditors were in no way injured. Consequently that they had here no ground of complaint.

His Honor reserved judgment.

BRIDGE AND OTHERS V. HAMMOND AND OTHERS.

This was a suit for foreclosure in which, after a brief discussion, a reference was ordered to the Master in Equity, with liberty to report specially.

The Attorney-General and Mr. Blake appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Broadhurst and Mr. Riley for the defendants.

WILMOTH V. DUNCAN.

This was an application for an injunction to restrain defendant from filling up a portion of Darling Harbour, and thereby depriving plaintiff from access to, and egress from, the Crown both these parties were interested, and the question at issue here was whether such circumstances one of them could obtain an injunction against the other on the strength of his mere contingent right.

Mr. Isaacs appeared for the plaintiff, and the Attorney-General for the defendant.

His Honor reserved judgment. Several ex parte cases, etc., were also disposed of.

HERVEY V. JONES.—ERRATUM.—The omission of the word "not" in the last paragraph of our report of this case in yesterday's Herald, has made the verdict appear to a certain extent the reverse of what it really was. The jury found that there had not been a hiring for a year.

INSOLVENT COURT.

TUESDAY.

BEFORE the Chief Commissioner of Insolvent Estates.

In the estate of William F. Pickering, an adjourned second meeting of creditors was considered, but the affidavits were informal—not stating the nature or value of securities held by the parties—and were, in consequence, ordered to stand over until the third meeting.

In the estate of Joseph H. Scrutton, a second meeting. Insolvent amended his schedule, and claims amounting to £217 15s. 8d. were proved.

In the estate of William Pakes, an adjourned single meeting. Claims amounting to £277 19s. 1d. were proved. The assignees were directed to pay to Messrs. Bowden and Threlkeld the sum of £20, to secure the payment of which insolvent had assigned to them the lease of premises in George-street; and to sell insolvent's effects, in the event of the money not which the lease was granted him. The meeting allowed insolvent his wearing apparel and household furniture.

In the estate of Edward Chester (sequestrated in April, 1842), a special meeting was held, at which insolvent by his attorney made an offer of composition of 5s. in the £, payable in three equal monthly instalments, the acceptance of the offer, the Chief Commissioner directed Mr. Phillips, the trustee of the estate, to convene a special meeting for its confirmation.

Certificates were severally granted to Waltham Kennett and Peter Gray. The application for a certificate by Samuel B. Legge was postponed until the 5th, and that of Owen Boyle was postponed until the 23rd instant.

IN RE S. SMITH'S ESTATE.

At the third meeting in this insolvent estate, held yesterday, the following resolutions were passed by the creditors to the official assignee:—1st. To sell by public auction all the right, title, and interest of insolvent in the leasehold premises, the premises supplied to the use of the house; that money not having been needed he concluded the note to have been in the co-ho. interest, inferred by defendant of its being in the hands of Mr. Norton, who had received payment from defendant on Van der Porten's account; and that Mr. Leopold Rawack—had accepted a payment in satisfaction of this note as signed by the plaintiff. But it appeared from the customary bank stamp upon the note itself that it had, in point of fact, been discounted, and consequently that plaintiff must have taken it up before leaving the colony, or it could not have been produced and used upon by his professional representative. It was admitted, moreover, that the endorsement to Van der Porten was clearly made to his by the firm as a distinct individual, and not as a member of such firm, consequently, that the trades of his claim was in no way affected by the fact of the payment to Rawack already mentioned.

His Honor briefly summed up, drawing attention to several issues, and directing the jury to say, from the evidence before them, first, whether the plaintiff was endorsee in his individual capacity, or, as averred in the pleadings, as member of the firm of Rawack, Brothers, and Co.; secondly, whether there had or had not been a satisfaction of this note as pleaded.

The jury found a verdict for the plaintiff, damages £215 5s. 6d., being the amount of the note and interest thereon.

HANCO COURT.
BEFORE THE CHIEF JUSTICE and a jury of four.

FERRY V. BLIGHT AND ANOTHER.

This was an action for the price of hay, for money had and received, and for the use and occupation of premises.

The defendants paid £55 into Court.

The case was in part heard on Saturday last.

The Attorney-General and Mr. Martin appeared for the plaintiff; the Solicitor-General and Mr. Stephen for the defendants.

There was a quantity of hay purchased by the plaintiff, and he agreed to let the defendants have half of it. It was in the hands of a person named Watts, who was agent for both parties. Some portion was used by the defendants for their horses on the Bathurst road, another portion remained with Watts, and was sold by auction; then a settlement of accounts took place. The plaintiff stated he did not include in that settlement the hay in question, but the same for which the defendants had had for their horses on the Liverpool Road. He did not know the amount at the time, but knew it was worth £5 per ton; if anything more was due for hay he would pay it. There was no evidence, but not of a specific kind, as to the delivery of some of this hay for use as alleged. The defendants denied all knowledge of such a supply, and relied upon the fact of no mention having been made in the settlement of accounts, also on the amount in addition to the portion of hay admitted to be sold, being set down as "hay." The plaintiff had paid to the agent without deducting on account of his present claim, and the sum so paid was the sum alleged in the count for money had and received. On the question of use and occupation there was conflicting evidence. The plaintiff stated that he was sued for it, the defendants have the use of a blacksmith's shop for ten months, during which time he was under agreement that he should use a coach which was to stop at an hotel belonging to one Bennett, and the defendants were also to let the Bathurst mail stop there, which they had contracted to run for three years. He never agreed to open them two other out-offices, which they took possession of; on the contrary, those were locked, and he had property of his own in them. He had paid for ten months rent for the blacksmith's shop, and seventeen months' rent for the rest of the premises. On the other side, Bennett stated that he continued to give a higher rent for the hotel in consideration of the coaches stopping there, and he was to have the premises in question as an inducement for the coaches to stop, those premises being adjoining the hotel. One of the defendants, namely, Elliott, stated that he agreed with the plaintiff that he was to have all those premises free as long as he continued to run the coaches; he did not run at all without having such premises for them.

The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff on one count, and for the defendants on another. As to the claim for the hay, a verdict for the plaintiff, £35 beyond the sum paid into Court. As to the claim for use and occupation, a verdict for the defendants.

IN EQUITY.

Before the Primary Judge.

FERRY V. BRIDSON.

This was a suit by an official assignee to set aside a mortgage made by the insolvent. The plaintiff was official assignee of the estate of Louis Barber, and the deed in question was made by the insolvent, in consideration of money due to the trustee under his wife's marriage settlement. Its validity was impeached upon the ground that Mr. Barber was in insolvent circumstances at the time it was executed, thus rendering it void by the operation of section 8 of the Insolvent Act.

Mr. Blake and Mr. Riley appeared for the plaintiff, and the Attorney-General for the defendant.

The plaintiff's counsel relied upon the fact that Mr. Barber was a member of the firm of Tenchem, Barber, and Co., and that firm was insolvent at the time; as being conclusive, upon the fact that Mr. Barber himself must also have been then in insolvent circumstances. Consequently, that in so much as the deed was in circumstanced, he had given an undue preference to his wife's trustees. On the other hand it was contended that as the insolvency of the partnership estate of Mr. Barber, which had not been separately sued, as the creditors of the partnership could not be delayed after the creditors of the private estate had been fully satisfied, the former class of creditors were in no way injured. Consequently that they had here no ground of complaint.

His Honor reserved judgment.

BRIDGE AND OTHERS V. HAMMOND AND OTHERS.

This was a suit for foreclosure in which, after a brief discussion, a reference was ordered to the Master in Equity, with liberty to report specially.

The Attorney-General and Mr. Blake appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Broadhurst and Mr. Riley for the defendants.

WILMOTH V. DUNCAN.

This was an application for an injunction to restrain defendant from filling up a portion of Darling Harbour, and thereby depriving plaintiff from access to, and egress from, the Crown both these parties were interested, and the question at issue here was whether such circumstances one of them could obtain an injunction against the other on the strength of his mere contingent right.

Mr. Isaacs appeared for the plaintiff, and the Attorney-General for the defendant.

His Honor reserved judgment. Several ex parte cases, etc., were also disposed of.

HUNTER RIVER DISTRICT.

(From the Maitland Mercury of Yesterday.)

MAITLAND IMPROVEMENT COMMITTEE.—A meeting of the body took place at the Court House, West Maitland, on Saturday. Present, the Rev. Denn Lynch, chairman, Messrs. Russell, Gorrick, Evans, and Briggs. Mr. Kingsmill also attended. The principal business transacted was the appointment and adoption of a letter written by the chairman to the Road Trust, in reference to the proposed new tolls. The conversation at the meeting referred mainly to the question of the legality of the proposed tolls; and the Road Trust Act, if it did sanction their erection, was dwelt upon. Captain Russell remarked that this would be in effect a tax on local industry, and pointed out that of almost every article of produce brought into West Maitland, the proportion not consumed in the town, would pay duty; as, for instance, the timber which paid toll, coming at Campbell's Hill, again paid toll when ground into flour and sent to Sydney. The people of East Maitland, however, had to pay toll only on the articles proceeding from Sydney. The question, remarked, whether those who might put up a toll at the Falls would not be responsible for any accidents occurring in the passage of the river. It was urged, further, that since the introduction of this motion for side bars, circumstances had taken place which seriously affected the question. The Assembly had since then passed a vote in favour of the construction of the causeway, and this was an additional reason for consideration before imposing a new toll. After some discussion as to the mode in which the letter should be signed, and some general conversation on other matters, the meeting separated, appointing the next meeting to take place in Morpeth, at 7 o'clock, to consider the result of the day's proceedings of the Road Trust, and to take steps accordingly. The committee met again immediately after the meeting, to arrange for further steps, awaiting the decision of the Road Trust on Monday next.

THE BRIDGE.—The adjourned meeting advertised to be held at the Royal Hotel yesterday, for the consideration of the existing acts in reference to sheep diseases and Mr. Reeder's bill for their amendment, did not take place, in consequence of there not being a sufficient number of gentlemen present to constitute a meeting. After waiting a considerable time in hopes that the requisite number would yet arrive, the gentlemen interested had promised to attend, it was ultimately agreed by those present that the petition should be adopted, and arrangements should be taken for the purpose of obtaining signatures.

RESCUE OF SALE.—Mr. Ledsam sold by public auction, yesterday, on the ground, one allotment of land having 60 feet frontage to the Oakhampton-road, a depth running back to the river Hunter, and commanding a frontage thereto of forty feet, for £190.

SCOWS, ETC.—Navigation has been very warm weather here at present, and the reaping is going on rapidly. We never remember seeing a better crop. The late rains have made the wheat look well, the grain is full and plenty; and as there is a large breadth sown this year, we will have a plentiful harvest.—A public meeting was held at the Golden Fleece Inn, last Saturday night, to petition the Government to appoint a police magistrate for this district, and a petition to that effect was adopted by the meeting. A letter was read to the meeting from a gentlemanly representative, Mr. John Robertson, suggesting the desirability of forming a towns improvement committee, which was so-cordially received, and it is hoped it will be formed, tonight, in elect officers, and transact other business.—A public meeting was held here yesterday, at Mr. Shamrock's inn, for the purpose of forming a committee to take into consideration the desirability of presenting our worthy member in the Legislative Assembly with some testimony of their appreciation of his services in the House. Owing to some mistakes as to the hour of meeting and other causes, the meeting was not large, but those who were assembled unanimously regards the object for which they met, as was shown by the list of subscriptions, which amounted to nearly £100. Resolutions were passed approving of the object, and a committee formed to correspond with the other parts of the constituency, namely, Morpeth, Hinkinbrook, Merriwa, Muswellbrook, and Scone, and to receive the subscriptions from the various polling places will with Scone in their appreciation of Mr. Robertson's services. It must be gratifying to that gentleman to know that his services for the public good are appreciated by his constituents, as we have no doubt that they are by the public at-large. He is well known as a gentleman who keeps politics, but we think Mr. Robertson's services will bear comparison with those of any other country member in the House for the many useful measures he has brought forward.

WOLLOMBI, 29TH NOVEMBER.—The much needed repairs to the roads are now in progress, under contracts which, it is hoped, will be completed in time for the safe conveyance of the coming crop, to Maitland. It is to be hoped that some measure will be taken, or some regulation established, to render them benefit, forward permanently passable; for really, the greatest—the grievance of the Wollombi—the seasons and insuperable bar to the development of the resources of the district—has ever been the road difficulty. To silence the complaints of our people for the time, the expenditure of a few pounds on the roads have been doled out by the Government, in dribblets, at periods few and far between, for years past; but the fatal mischiefs effected by such paltry measures are only lasting for a short season, and involved at the same time, a waste of the public funds, a mockery of our wants, and a force of ridicule upon us. Perhaps we still hope on, that our necessities in this regard will not be much longer overlooked in a quarter from which we have a right to receive assistance. The wheat crop of the district, notwithstanding the damage of the late flood, will, it is thought, reage on per bolls—the yield and quality with the usual average. Reaping has commenced already on a few farms, and the equally unsettled state of the weather makes our farmers somewhat apprehensive of a broken harvest. We have had another heavy fall of water; the surface of the country is clad in a garb of resplendent green.

NAOMI RIVER, 27th November.—I promised in my last to send you some news of the Naomi, which was of according to advertisement. The scenes was in excellent condition, and the weather auspiciously fine. There was a good collection, both Maitland and Scone, and very peaceable and quiet to the end. Shamrock was decidedly the favourite at odds for the first race, but owing to some accidents, he did not Maitland and Scone, wou the second heat with ease, but unfortunately fell lame, which told against him the second day, being nearly with Mr. John Loder's Volunteer. I beg leave to make honourable mention of Mr. Walter Cousens, of Teriara, who brought his grade out in excellent condition, but, for want of a jockey, had to run his horse himself, which he did very creditably. The arrangements reflect much credit to the judge and stewards. Our host and hostess behaved most liberal in affording great gratis assistance, for which was done ample justice to. The weather continues fine and every appearance of a good harvest. The Naomi continues to be amongst the many melancholy instances of intemperance—a man by the name of Patrick M'Gough, from the Cambrogh River, was down here for the purpose of shearing, and was employed by Mr. Lidgard of Burbungate; after finishing there he remained at the Woolshed drinking; he came here on Saturday last in a state of delirium, and frightened men and women were after him, as he supposed, to kill him, and commenced roaring and shouting, dropping on his knees, and begging for his life; he left here at an hour, appeared somewhat better, and partook of something to eat, lit his pipe and smoked, but all of a sudden he ran down to the Naomi River, between the hours from sunset to sunrise, such vessel being at the time lying in the river, he was ordered to pay a fine of 10s., and costs 4s. 6d.

William Livingstone, captain of the Tory, convicted of the like offence, was also fined 20s., and costs 4s. 6d.

There were several other cases on the sheet, the hearing of which was from various causes postponed till future days.

PUNCHAN'S LICENSES.—The Quarterly Licensing Session under the Publicans' Act commenced yesterday. The Justices present were Mr. Allen (chairman), Mr. Brown, and Mr. J. T. Thomas. The Bench had the applications for transfers, in which the parties appeared, were granted, as were some of the applications for new licenses. The remaining cases were postponed until 11 o'clock on Friday next, to which day the Session adjourned. On Friday a day will be named for taking registrations.

COURT OF REVISION.—810 JURISDICTION.—The Court will resume its sittings this morning at 10 o'clock with the case No. 182, Lord v. Scott.

VOLUNTEER RIFLES.—Members of this corps are reminded that the weekly ball practice takes place at half-past 4 o'clock this afternoon (Wednesday).

ACCIDENT.—On Monday evening, Patrick Ward, 9 years of age, residing with his parents at Long-bottom, riding on the Parramatta-road, fell from the horse and received injuries of so serious a character that but small hopes are entertained of his recovery. Constable Hill found the boy lying on the Parramatta-road, conveyed him to the Bush Tavern, and procured the attendance of Drs. Pearson and Arnold.

CENTRAL POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY.

BEFORE Mr. Hargraves, Mr. G. Hill, and Mr. Egan.

Thirteen persons were convicted of having been found drunk in the streets. Harriet Wardell, on the occasion of her fourth conviction within twelve days, was sentenced to be imprisoned as an idle and disorderly character for three months; and the other was ordered to pay 20s. each, or to be imprisoned for forty-eight hours.

Rachel Palmer, a girl of about twelve years of age, who has been frequently been before the Bench, both for petty larcenies and for wandering about the streets by day, and sleeping in the Old Burial-ground at night,—and having repeatedly refused to go to the Benevolent Asylum,—was sentenced to be imprisoned as a vagrant and kept to hard labour for three calendar months.

Hugh Lavelle, charged with having assaulted Constable Andrews, who had him in custody for intoxication, was sentenced to pay a penalty of 20s. or to be imprisoned for three days.

Two persons were found guilty of having made use of obscene language: one was sentenced to pay 20s. or to be imprisoned for four days. Hereupon a gentleman stepped forward and paid the fine, and the other to pay 40s., or to be imprisoned for fourteen days.

The Court was adjourned, shortly after 1, until 2 o'clock,—the whole of the cases on the summons list, (nearly thirty) waiting for hearing. A considerable number of persons were in attendance from 2 until half-past 4, when, fatigued and disgusted, they took their away. Mr. Dowling, if was said, had been subpœnaed to give evidence in a case before the Central Criminal Court.

WATER POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY.

BEFORE the Water Police Magistrate.

FOUR persons were fined, this morning convicted of drunkenness, and two of indecent conduct, and were each ordered to pay a fine of 20s., or be imprisoned, the former in default for twenty-four hours, the two latter for one week.

Bethel Cocking, a seaman belonging to the ship Invincible, was charged with being drunk on board vessel. It being clear that he had absented himself without permission, and without having his discharge, was committed to gaol for eight weeks.

William Hogan, a seaman belonging to the ship Ormelie, now lying in the harbour, was convicted on the information of W. A. Douglas, Inspector of the Water Police, of having absented himself from his vessel, at light of the mast-head of his vessel, between the hours from sunset to sunrise, such vessel being at the time lying in the harbour. He was ordered to pay a fine of 20s., and costs 4s. 6d.

William Livingstone, captain of the Tory, convicted of the like offence, was also fined 20s., and costs 4s. 6d.

There were several other cases on the sheet, the hearing of which was from various causes postponed till future days.

HUNTER RIVER DISTRICT.

(From the Maitland Mercury of Yesterday.)

MAITLAND IMPROVEMENT COMMITTEE.—A meeting of the body took place at the Court House, West Maitland, on Saturday. Present, the Rev. Denn Lynch, chairman, Messrs. Russell, Gorrick, Evans, and Briggs. Mr. Kingsmill also attended. The principal business transacted was the appointment and adoption of a letter written by the chairman to the Road Trust, in reference to the proposed new tolls. The conversation at the meeting referred mainly to the question of the legality of the proposed tolls; and the Road Trust Act, if it did sanction their erection, was dwelt upon. Captain Russell remarked that this would be in effect a tax on local industry, and pointed out that of almost every article of produce brought into West Maitland, the proportion not consumed in the town, would pay duty; as, for instance, the timber which paid toll, coming at Campbell's Hill, again paid toll when ground into flour and sent to Sydney. The people of East Maitland, however, had to pay toll only on the articles proceeding from Sydney. The question, remarked, whether those who might put up a toll at the Falls would not be responsible for any accidents occurring in the passage of the river. It was urged, further, that since the introduction of this motion for side bars, circumstances had taken place which seriously affected the question. The Assembly had since then passed a vote in favour of the construction of the causeway, and this was an additional reason for consideration before imposing a new toll. After some discussion as to the mode in which the letter should be signed, and some general conversation on other matters, the meeting separated, appointing the next meeting to take place in Morpeth, at 7 o'clock, to consider the result of the day's proceedings of the Road Trust, and to take steps accordingly. The committee met again immediately after the meeting, to arrange for further steps, awaiting the decision of the Road Trust on Monday next.

THE BRIDGE.—The adjourned meeting advertised to be held at the Royal Hotel yesterday, for the consideration of the existing acts in reference to sheep diseases and Mr. Reeder's bill for their amendment, did not take place, in consequence of there not being a sufficient number of gentlemen present to constitute a meeting. After waiting a considerable time in hopes that the requisite number would yet arrive, the gentlemen interested had promised to attend, it was ultimately agreed by those present that the petition should be adopted, and arrangements should be taken for the purpose of obtaining signatures.

RESCUE OF SALE.—Mr. Ledsam sold by public auction, yesterday, on the ground, one allotment of land having 60 feet frontage to the Oakhampton-road, a depth running back to the river Hunter, and commanding a frontage thereto of forty feet, for £190.

SCOWS, ETC.—Navigation has been very warm weather here at present, and the reaping is going on rapidly. We never remember seeing a better crop. The late rains have made the wheat look well, the grain is full and plenty; and as there is a large breadth sown this year, we will have a plentiful harvest.—A public meeting was held at the Golden Fleece Inn, last Saturday night, to petition the Government to appoint a police magistrate for this district, and a petition to that effect was adopted by the meeting. A letter was read to the meeting from a gentlemanly representative, Mr. John Robertson, suggesting the desirability of forming a towns improvement committee, which was so-cordially received, and it is hoped it will be formed, tonight, in elect officers, and transact other business.—A public meeting was held here yesterday, at Mr. Shamrock's inn, for the purpose of forming a committee to take into consideration the desirability of presenting our worthy member in the Legislative Assembly with some testimony of their appreciation of his services in the House. Owing to some mistakes as to the hour of meeting and other causes, the meeting was not large, but those who were assembled unanimously regards the object for which they met, as was shown by the list of subscriptions, which amounted to nearly £100. Resolutions were passed approving of the object, and a committee formed to correspond with the other parts of the constituency, namely, Morpeth, Hinkinbrook, Merriwa, Muswellbrook, and Scone, and to receive the subscriptions from the various polling places will with Scone in their appreciation of Mr. Robertson's services. It must be gratifying to that gentleman to know that his services for the public good are appreciated by his constituents, as we have no doubt that they are by the public at-large. He is well known as a gentleman who keeps politics, but we think Mr. Robertson's services will bear comparison with those of any other country member in the House for the many useful measures he has brought forward.

WOLLOMBI, 29TH NOVEMBER.—The much needed repairs to the roads are now in progress, under contracts which, it is hoped, will be completed in time for the safe conveyance of the coming crop, to Maitland. It is to be hoped that some measure will be taken, or some regulation established, to render them benefit, forward permanently passable; for really, the greatest—the grievance of the Wollombi—the seasons and insuperable bar to the development of the resources of the district—has ever been the road difficulty. To silence the complaints of our people for the time, the expenditure of a few pounds on the roads have been doled out by the Government, in dribblets, at periods few and far between, for years past; but the fatal mischiefs effected by such paltry measures are only lasting for a short season, and involved at the same time, a waste of the public funds, a mockery of our wants, and a force of ridicule upon us. Perhaps we still hope on, that our necessities in this regard will not be much longer overlooked in a quarter from which we have a right to receive assistance. The wheat crop of the district, notwithstanding the damage of the late flood, will, it is thought, reage on per bolls—the yield and quality with the usual average. Reaping has commenced already on a few farms, and the equally unsettled state of the weather makes our farmers somewhat apprehensive of a broken harvest. We have had another heavy fall of water; the surface of the country is clad in a garb of resplendent green.

NAOMI RIVER, 27th November.—I promised in my last to send you some news of the Naomi, which was of according to advertisement. The scenes was in excellent condition, and the weather auspiciously fine. There was a good collection, both Maitland and Scone, and very peaceable and quiet to the end. Shamrock was decidedly the favourite at odds for the first race, but owing to some accidents, he did not Maitland and Scone, wou the second heat with ease, but unfortunately fell lame, which told against him the second day, being nearly with Mr. John Loder's Volunteer. I beg leave to make honourable mention of Mr. Walter Cousens, of Teriara, who brought his grade out in excellent condition, but, for want of a jockey, had to run his horse himself, which he did very creditably. The arrangements reflect much credit to the judge and stewards. Our host and hostess behaved most liberal in affording great gratis assistance, for which was done ample justice to. The weather continues fine and every appearance of a good harvest. The Naomi continues to be amongst the many melancholy instances of intemperance—a man by the name of Patrick M'Gough, from the Cambrogh River, was down here for the purpose of shearing, and was employed by Mr. Lidgard of Burbungate; after finishing there he remained at the Woolshed drinking; he came here on Saturday last in a state of delirium, and frightened men and women were after him, as he supposed, to kill him, and commenced roaring and shouting, dropping on his knees, and begging for his life; he left here at an hour, appeared somewhat better, and partook of something to eat, lit his pipe and smoked, but all of a sudden he ran down to the Naomi River, between the hours more violent than ever, and begged and implored to be put to some place that he might not be murdered. He was put into a place, which was locked, and the door fastened, and seemed quiet; but some short time after leaving him he burst, upon one of the shutters, and made towards the river, and although we were on the bank, we could not see where he plunged in, he never rose, nor did we find him for three days, although diligent search had been made by Mr. A. Douglas, Inspector of Water Police, who came in, he was at last seen by a girl who was with some bullock teams. Mr. A. Doyle held an inquiry, when those facts came out in evidence.

WOLLONGONG.

(From the Illawarra Mercury of Monday.)

NEW LINE OF ROAD.—We understand that a letter has been received by the Bench from Colonel Barney in reference to the new road from George's River to Maddison's Plains, leading to Wollongong. The real inquestion is being made by Government, and designed originally to be connected with the road down Mount Keira, and now is used as the way to Appin from Dr. Jones's Pass. It would appear that Colonel Barney has reason to believe that a better road might be laid, and at much less cost, by descending through Hixon's line into the Bulli Parish Road, which would be a much shorter way into the town. It is in respect to this direction from the original line of road that their Worships opinion is sought. The opinion is said to have been acquainted with the lay of the ground in the locality in question has been taken, and they all think that Hixon's road would be the best. Their Worships have, we believe, recommended this line, but that it should be further examined by the surveyor of the district. From the proceedings of the Legislative Assembly we learn that between 2700 and 2800 of the sum appropriated to the making of this road is yet unexpended.

THE BATHING PLACE AT THE POINT.—We are glad to learn that the project of the small undertaking of the bathing place at the Point is to be proceeded with forthwith, and is expected to be completed by Saturday next. The repairs are being effected by subscription, and it is expected that sufficient funds will be obtained to fence round the top of the hill; also, to fix a hand-rail to the path that winds down the side of the hill. The large stones are to be taken away from the bathing ground, and other improvements effected which will make this a beautiful place for the use of ladies and children.

STEAM COMMUNICATION.—On Tuesday, a deputation consisting of some of the Directors of the Kiama Steam Navigation Company, met the gentlemen who have been appointed by the inhabitants of Shoalhaven, to consider the question of steam communication, under a local proprietary, between Sydney and the ports of the district. Proposals were received from the owners of the Illawarra and the Nora Creina, in reference to the sale of those vessels, and the whole of the plant connected therewith. The proposals were favourably received, and a deputation appointed to make a survey of the vessels.

DAPTO AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—According to advertisement, a meeting of persons favourable to the above society was held at the Illawarra Hotel, Dapto, on Saturday last. The meeting was presided over by Mr. D. W. Irving, J.P., president of the society, and was well attended. It was determined that the annual show of the society should be held at Brown's, Dapto, on Wednesday, 28th January next, and the following match, on Mr. Irving's farm, Dunmore, the Wednesday previous, the 21st January. The prize list was made out at the same time. From the interest evinced we have no doubt the society will be successful in its operations.

HORSE RACING.—On Thursday last, a race was run on the Racecourse, Wollongong, between Mr. William Hoskins's gig, and Mr. Williamson's Captain, which resulted in Little Dick winning the race by two-thirds of a distance.

RAIN.—This week the weather has been gloomy and warm. On the evening of last Wednesday we had a terrific thunder storm, accompanied with heavy rain. We have not heard of any damage occasioned by the lightning. The growing crops are progressing favorably. In Jamberoo the wheat reaping has already commenced.

STROUD, PORT STEPHENS.

FROM OUR COMMENTATOR.

We have had several day-loads of wool from Walcha by the new line of road from New England to the Stephens, the journey down from Walcha has been formed in thirteen days, and the drivers assure me that their bullocks picked up flesh on the road, owing to the abundance of feed. Two of the drays brought down eight bales, each weighing about 21 hundredweight gross, but as it was the first trip the carriers did not like bringing more than they felt confident of conveying safely. They can bring 10 bales easily.

The new line recently opened by Mr. White avoids the swampy country at the head of the Paterwalah waters, and the drays come down to Port Stephens should take the right hand road at the 72-mile tree. Some malicious parties whose self-interest has been injured by the opening of the new line, have placed dead timber across the turn off as a bait, but this is the height of folly, as drays have much difficulty in coming down the old road by Murphy's, and the attempt to keep the traffic on that line only injures the route generally. One route is as short as the other, and the new line affords ample facilities for the Australian Agricultural Company are prepared to spend a considerable sum upon the improvement of the old road, which will be done as soon as labour is available, and it seems hard that the application made to Government by the inhabitants of this district generally should be vetoed, while that of the Grafton line has been successful. This latter owing, no doubt, to the fact of members of Parliament being self-interested.

A meeting of the residents of the district was convened on the 24th September instant, to take into consideration the propriety of presenting some testimonial of esteem to Mr. White, previous to his leaving the district, and he resigned his appointment of Assistant-General-Superintendent of the Australian Agricultural Company. The resolutions adopted embody the sentiments of the public, as fully set forth in a previous column, that the sentiments of the prelate of the slater colony may become more widely known:—

"Mr. Dear Sir,—The subject of "Church Aid to Religion" has occupied so much of public attention, and is of so great importance, that I do not feel satisfied in giving my vote in the affirmative, without first calling upon it; particularly as that which I have formerly expressed has been continually referred to, both in the pulpit and in conversation, and an appeal has been made to me that I should, not to contradict what I have said and written. I have not either the time, or the inclination, to enter at large into the debate, and I shall, therefore, confine myself to simply stating what I wish to say in the form of a letter, which I shall endeavour to make as short as possible, and yet, I hope, as clear and to the point, if I do not too late, in your valuable periodical for next month.

Our decision on the question must be determined upon its own merits; and an intelligent and unprejudiced person, who has at all attentively considered the arguments pro and contra either side, can deny that to determine it is no easy matter. I have thought carefully, and as far as I could, do so, impartially upon it; and I will endeavour to state what, upon which, it appears to me, the judgment of a Christian Legislature ought to be formed. But while I think all true Christians will agree with me in the principle, I am fully expect they they will all concur in the particular conclusion which I draw from them; and I would beg that I may not be misunderstood as intending to charge those who differ from me with want of sound religious principle, or of a strict conscientiousness in the application of it. The question is one upon which there may be a difference of opinion, and a consequent diversity of action, between those who equally desire to promote the glory of God, and to do that which is right in the sight of man.

1.—I. With respect to the propriety of the Legislature continuing to sanction the present grant out of the public revenue towards the maintenance of religion in the country—Christian principle appears to me to forbid any man—in his private capacity to contribute to the maintenance and advancement of a religious system which he considers not only as false, but as highly prejudicial to the temporal, and dangerous to the eternal happiness of his fellow-men. As contributing to Protestant ought not, in my opinion, to contribute towards the support of Romanism; nor a conscientious Protestant to the support of any form of Protestantism. If, therefore, that which he ought not to do in his private, he ought not to do in his public capacity, it follows that it is the duty of every legislator who agrees with me in the principle, to withdraw from giving any grant being made out of the public revenue towards the support of the Roman Catholic clergy, or Dissenting clergy, or Protestant clergy.

The argument which is so frequently alleged, that as contributors to the public revenue, they have a just claim to the support out of it of their own, or any, religious objects, appears to me ridiculous. The case is not like that of a grant of money towards the improvement of the roads in the colony, or of the province; where, although there may be a difference of opinion as to the comparative good which will result from an outlay upon this or that particular object, there is no doubt as to a general benefit to be derived from it all. Even in respect to those objects which are all of acknowledged utility, the Legislature exercises a discretion, and properly, too, which has prevented many one which is more immediately necessary,

The Sydney Morning Herald.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1856.

SHIPPING

ARRIVALS.

DECEMBER 1.—Fortune, 94, 1 day, Captain Vanderwood, from Melbourne 8th ultimo. Ballast and Co., agents.

DECEMBER 1.—Pingouin, schooner, 120 tons, Captain Nile, from Geelong 7th ultimo. Coppin, owner.

DECEMBER 1.—Lady Mitchell, brig, 254 tons, Captain McKellar, from Launceston, 28th ultimo. Passengers—Mrs Josephs and 4 children, Mrs McAllister, Mrs. J. Cornish, and 5 in the steerage. H. Fisher, agent.

DECEMBER 1.—Louisa and Mitchell, brig, 176 tons, Captain Lee, from Newcastle 28th ultimo. Passengers—Mrs Lee, Mrs. Parnell, J. Pierson, and 17 in the steerage. M. Moses and Son, agent.

DEPARTURES.

DECEMBER 1.—Sea Nymph, for Melbourne, via Newcastle.

DECEMBER 2.—Kate Kearney, for Melbourne.

PROJECTED DEPARTURES.

THIS DAY.—Tiberius (s.), for Melbourne; Vandiemen, for Liverpool; Spes, for New Caledonia.

CLEARANCES.

DECEMBER 1.—Spes, brig, 193 tons, Captain Paddon, for New Caledonia. Passengers—Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and Mr. Macdonald and 13 in the steerage.

DECEMBER 1.—Vandiemen, ship, 1011 tons, Captain Gordyne, for Liverpool. Passengers—Mrs. Gordyne and two children, Dr. Johnson, Dr. and Mrs. Cowper and child, Mr. Cowper, Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald, Mr. and Mrs. Dunning, Messrs. Scales, Stewart, Brown, Smith, Williams, Dixon, and eight in the steerage.

DECEMBER 1.—West Close, lacquer, 335 tons, Captain Baxter, for San Francisco. Passengers—Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Thompson, Mr. Burgoyne, Mr. and Mrs. Mulcrow, Mlle Fenayle, Mrs. Robinson, Messrs. Frank (2), Nelson, Lincoln, Pounds, Parmenter, Sinclair, Pearson, Bailey, Brown, Cahill, Shall, Hall, Armstrong, Hall, Williamson, and Miller.

COASTERS INWARDS.

DECEMBER 1.—Thistle (s.), from Port Macquarie, with 37 bales wool, 131 bales, 4 cattle-ties, 15 bundles shingles, 170 sheep, 2 horses, 1 dog, 10 bags maize, and sundries. Fletcher and Co., agents. Ann Simpson, with 10 bales wool, 96 trusses hay, 100 sheep, 1 horse, 15 horse ties, 4 cattle, 2 sheep ferrets, 7 pigs, 6 cases cutaway wine, and sundries.

DECEMBER 1.—Tiptree, schooner, 78 tons, from Morpeth, with 115 tons coal, 6 tons rice, 120 trusses hay, and sundries. Parsons, agent. Mermaid, from Shoalhaven, with 825 bushels maize and 50 bags potatoes, 6 bags flour, 2 bags beans, 2 bags bran, 3 bags potatoes, 153 bales, 4 cattle ties; Orient, and Down Queen, from Broulee, with 15 bags potatoes, 100 bushels maize, 1 bag wheat, 30 bundles rails, 8 pigs, 12 bales, 6 bags bran, 12 bags butter and sundries; Bride, from the Shoalhaven, with 25,000 shingles; Wanderer, from Port Macquarie, with 227 bags maize, 3 cases beer, 2 cases tobacco, 24 bales, and sundries. Fletcher and Co., agents. Brisbane Water, with 15,000 fast hardwood, 40,000 laths, 10,000 shingles, 3 boats hoops.

COASTERS OUTWARDS.

DECEMBER 1.—Bride, for the Shoalhaven River; Spitfire, for the Richmond River; Reliance, for Brisbane Water.

IMPORTS.

DECEMBER 1.—Lizzie Wallace, from Launceston: 1295 bags flour, M. Fletcher; 7 cases pickles, W. King; 1500 bags flour, Order.

DECEMBER 1.—Lady and Mitchell, from Newcastle: 28 bales wool, 40 bales, Dayers and Learmonth; 5 bales wool, M. Moses and Son.

EXPORTS.

DECEMBER 1.—Spes, for New Caledonia: 29 head of cattle, 7 cases sherry, 3 bagatelles, 1 cask gunpowder, 10 boxes tobacco, 4 cases cigars, 23 cases tea, 13 cases brandy, 1 case sugar, R. Towns and Co.

DECEMBER 1.—Vandiemen, for Liverpool: 330 bales wool, 19 cases tallow, 7 cases skins, Jones Brothers and Gribble; 1 case tallow, 1 bale wool, Jay and Co.; 19 bales wool, G. S. Lennox; 63 bales wool, 12 cwt. hemp, T. Taylor; 20 bales wool, Frost, Kelly, and Co.; 30 bales wool, H. Nicolson; 117 bales wool, Young, Lark, and Hosegood; 25 bales wool, Brown and Co.; 11 bales wool, T. Chapman; 14 bales wool, D. Cohen and Co.; 56 bales wool, 30 casks tallow, 1 case newspapers, Buyers and Learmonth; 23 bales wool, T. Smyth; 21 bales wool, Belisario, Levien, and Co.; 14 bales wool, Griffiths and Co.; 32 bales wool, J. Williams; 31 casks tallow, 3000 skins, Campbell and Co.; 13 bales wool, Phillips and Co.; 23 bags guano, J. Walford; 10 bales rags, T. Hayes; 3 casks blubber, Hutchens; 2 casks tallow, Edw. Brothers, and Co.; 40 case boots, T. A. Dunlop and Co.; 1 piano, J. Johnson; 1 box marble-stuff, W. O. Aiswarth; 4 casks cement, ditto; 4 casks ditto, and Co.; 19 casks tallow, 11 bags hair, 3 cases stationery, 59,241 hides, 3 cases carpetry, 1 box plate glass, and 3 trusses; and Co.; 41 casks tallow, 78 casks cement, oil, 6 casks beef, 4 casks shoes, Gibbs, Bright, and Co.; 1 case jam, 1 case cigars, 1 case sponge rugs, Smith, Brothers, and Co. Consignation: 1392 bales wool, 30 casks tallow, 1000 hides, 1000 sheepskins, 1 trusses hay, and bonds, 23 bags gum, 16 bales rags, 14 bags hair, 93 casks cement, oil, 4 bales sheepskins, 22,713 hides, and 31 packages sundries.

DECEMBER 1.—What Cheer, for San Francisco: 10 cases rum, 1 chest, 1 trunk apparel, Merritt and Lewitt; 100 boxes biliers, Wilkinson, Brothers, and Co.

SHIPS' MAILS.

Mails will close at the General Post Office as follows:—

FOR MELBOURNE.—By the Telegraph (s.), this day, at 2 p.m.

FOR MORETON BAY.—By the Clarence and Clyde (s.), to-morrow evening, at 5 P.M.

FOR NEW CALEDONIA.—By the Spes, this day, at noon, if not underweight.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—By the West Close, this day, at noon, if not underweight.

FOR LAUNCESTON.—By the Vandiemen, this day, at noon, if not underweight.

FOR SOUTHAMPTON.—By the Wanderer, to-morrow evening, at 5 P.M.

FOR WAIKATO.—By the Wanderer (s.), this evening, at 5 P.M.

FOR BATAVIA.—By the Arrath, this evening, at 5 P.M.

FOR CALLAO.—By the Orestes, to-morrow evening, at 6.

FOR VALPARAISO.—By the Amazon, to-morrow evening, at 6.

FOR CALCUTTA.—By the Jane Gabriella, to-morrow evening, at 6.

MAILS BY THE ADMIRAL.

NOTICE is hereby given that a post office receiving all letters and newspapers mailed for transmission to Great Britain by this vessel will be opened to-day and continued to the 25th inst., inclusive, and the 9th December, at 5 p.m. Registered letters cannot be received after 1 p.m. on the 25th inst. Letters thus received will be charged postage of 3d. the half-ounce in order that the postage to the colony of Victoria (which must be prepaid) may be the same as the postage to England may be paid or not, at the option of the sender.

By order, W. H. CHARLES, Postmaster-General.

General Post Office, Sydney, 27th November, 1856.

CENTRAL HOTEL, EXTENDED OPPORTUNITY.—December 3.—Telegraph (s.), 200 tons, Warner, for Melbourne; William Alfred, schooner, 84 tons, Tuley, for Wellington.

The Lizzie Wallace has made an excellent run from Launceston of ten days; but brings no cargo, having sailed from Launceston in ballast on the 28th ult. to Hobart Town.

The Sydney and Mitchell, from Newcastle, reports the Tweedale to sail for Sydney on 18th instant.

The Sydney de Chemnitz Gazette gives the following account of the movement of shipping between Prussian and foreign ports in 1855 and 1856:—In 1855 the number of vessels which entered and sailed under the Prussian flag was 4990, measuring 488,501 lasts (the last is equal to two tons), and the number of foreign flags 1293, measuring 318,325 lasts. In 1856 the Prussian vessels numbered 4913, of 485,000 lasts, and the foreign 1311, of 325,000 lasts. The foreign flags employed in the above return are divided as follows: for 1855:—Danish, 36,417 lasts; Mecklenburg, 42,863; Hanse Towns, 117,000; Hanover, 14,000; Oldenburg, 42,841; Hanoverian, 41,487; Oldenburg, 14,391; Dutch, 22,118; English, 12,000; French, 3110; and Russian, 1000 lasts. The total number does not include vessels entering and sailing in ballast, which in 1855 numbered 1212, and in 1856 1300.

WRECK.—The American ship North Star of 370 tons, of New London, Captain F. W. Fish, left the Sandy Hook on the 20th last, on a cruise, having 1000 barrels of whale oil on board. Nothing particular occurred until the night of the 23rd July, when in lat 30° S., and 115° E., the vessel got in severe fulmons of water. She was immediately hauled up for repairs, and all hands the seamen to have been ready in case of need; but before the 10 minutes had passed, the vessel was in a state of wreck, the vessel struck and drifted over a small coral reef on Turtle Island, near the Houtman de Abrolhos. The crew got safe on shore on the spot. All the unburned sails were immediately taken to, and the anchors let go; the ship settled down in 7 fathoms, before the flood of the rudder was torn away, with all the plates, breaking up the stern and decks all over. At 3 p.m. the tide began to set in, and the vessel got afloat at half-tide, and drifted, however, was breaking all over the ship, Mrs. Fish was then sent on shore. The crew now begin to work on the vessel, in order that by the next flood tide the ship could be got off; but the attempt failed. At 5 p.m. the ship slipped and broke into two parts, and at 8 p.m. on the same day, the whole of the officers and crew left the vessel and proceeded on shore—Rodney Island. After having remained on the Island, seven days and a half, the American whaleship Westport, Captain Hempstead came to their assistance. By the unlifting efforts of Captain Hempstead and his crew, with the aid of some of the starboard of the wreck, 412 barrels of oil, a quantity of whalebone, and sails were saved and stowed and placed on board the Westport. After having remained on Rodney Island for twenty-two days, the Vesper left for Batavia, Captain Fisk spoke in the most flattering terms of the generous and humane treatment received from the Captain Hempstead. Captain Fisk equally acknowledges the kindness shown by the officers of Captain Hempstead, that the portion of the cargo saw on board the Vesper was stowed.—Commercial Gazette.

LAUNCESTON.

ARRIVAL.

November 24.—Arbon, from Sydney.

DEPARTURES.

November 22.—Maid of the Valley, and Tamar, for Sydney.

DIARY.

REFERENCE TO THE PRESS PUBLICATION.

Dec.	Days	Mean Temp.	Sun	Sun Rises	Sun Sets	Moon Rises	Moon Sets
1	Wednesday	4	42	6	56	11	50

Moon: First Quarter, 5th instant, 31m. past 1 p.m.

SYDNEY RAILWAY.

SYDNEY STATION.—DOWN TRAINS.

Dist.	Stations.	Mixed Trains.		Goods	Mixed Trains.
Miles.	Leave.	a.m.	a.m.	a.m.	p.m.	p.m.
0	Sydney	9-0	9-45	10-30	1-30	4-25
1	Newtown	9-5	9-50	10-40	1-40	4-35
3	Ashfield	9-11	9-57	10-50	1-47	4-43
4	Burwood	9-15	10-1	10-55	1-51	4-47
7	Homebush	9-27	9-57	11-11	2-3	5-12
10	Parramatta	9-40	10-12	11-25	2-15	5-25
14	Parnell	9-53	10-31	11-42	2-31	5-42
17	Liverpool	10-7	10-45	11-55	2-45	5-55

THE SUNDAY TRAINS leave Sydney for Parramatta and Liverpool at 9 a.m., 1-45 p.m., 5-30 p.m., and 8-30 p.m. and Liverpool at 9-15 a.m., 1-45 p.m., 5-30 p.m., and 8-30 p.m. and Parramatta at 9-45 a.m., 2-15, 6 p.m., and 8 p.m. to Sydney.

OUR LYCEUM THEATRE.—Mr. and Mrs. Lambert have announced their benefit for this evening. Their claims will doubtless (as on the occasion of former appeals) be duly recognised by our playgoing population. An attractive bill is provided, and boxes have been taken some days past.

In the Legislative Assembly yesterday, in answer to a question from Mr. Cowper, Mr. DONALDSON entered into a long explanation in reference to the Moreton Bay light-ship.

The House then went into a Committee of Supply, and sat till night o'clock, during which time the Registrar-General's and Post Office departments were disposed of.*

Mr. HOLT moved his resolutions on Education in a very lengthy speech, in the midst of which the House was counted out, at a quarter before ten o'clock, and adjourned till this day.

The comedy of The City Sewers, or Thousands Cursed, was yesterday repeated for the 200th time this season. Mr. Fitzpatrick maintained his usual distinction. He smote the Sydney Herald with the jaw-bone of his arithmetic, and overwhelmed us with the weight of his calculations. Mr. FLOOD may make himself easy. After his exploit at Newcastle his assertions will never be construed by ordinary rules.

Mr. COWPER seized the opportunity to pour out his Greek fire. It does not, at least, become him to be severe on engineers and commissioners. The railroad to Parramatta, considered as the first of the kind, will be honorable to his public career, but let him not talk about estimates and calculations. The most generous construction was required to reconcile his first figures with his last balance-sheet. We accuse him not even of incompetence. We are too well acquainted with the history of public works to adopt lightly the sneers of his enemies. But while he talks so glibly of metals equals in stable and in social worth—it is but fair to remember that the cost of his great undertaking was many times in excess of his reckoning. The honour of his work he must divide with Mr. RANDLE.

We repeat that none of the charges against the Commissioners contained in the report to which he set his hand have been proved; that they were made in reckless terms and in a bitter spirit. They indicated a feeling well known to exist against RANDLE as a successful man. It was notoriously to get at RANDLE the persecution was commenced. The host of petty contractors who were employed on public works before his arrival were his accusers. They saw with envy a competitor they could not face. Mr. COWPER himself had his personal differences with Mr. RANDLE, and whatever he Mr. COWPER's reputation for ability and energy, his resentment is equally vigorous and keen. The baited contractor has now left this colony. He has carried with him the skilled labourers brought out with their families at our cost, and he has removed his plant, without which no work of importance can proceed. The colony loses by this removal a vast outlay, and will be poorer indemnified by the triumph of his small assailants.

Mr. FLOOD has untruly stated that we have defended the servants of the Commissioners. Mr. FLOOD has an advantage over ourselves. When he makes a speech—at Newcastle, for instance—he can explain it away.

Once for all, we assert that we have never pledged ourselves for even the integrity of the officers. We have demanded that everything should be done with caution—that the rights of the accused should be conceded to the accused. We forebode that conclusions should not be put on obvious mistakes—that it should not be assumed that a surveyor who made the sewerage of a street larger than the street itself, intended an absurd and impossible fraud.

We say we have never pledged ourselves for the competence of the officers of the city; but are we justified in assuming, before their guilt has been brought to light, the truth of charges which must place them below the level of a common thief? What is to be said of the conduct of gentlemen who profess to believe that great crimes have been committed, and yet who, instead of pelting the accused at once on their trial, load them with infamy which may make a fair trial impossible? If any foundation for these accusations of fraud exist, made in the House daily, because they can be made with impunity, let the law be set in motion; let a jury determine the guilt of the accused. For our part, in any event, we shall look back with satisfaction on the resolute resistance we offered to those violent proceedings which, under the pretence of Committees of Inquiry, were filling the colony with alarm and disgust, and making all character and standing worthless. It is said every time this subject is discussed,—and oh, how often!—that the notorious committee saved the country thousands of pounds. But did they ever calculate how many they lost by constantly harassing the Commissioners? It is incredible that the boldest thief, under such a hue and cry, should find time to rob, except with the complicity of the pursuers, but it is quite credible that a public department would loose all heart and all order when its staff was daily distracted by vexatious inquisitions. When Mr. COWPER puts down the wondrous saving it might be well to calculate this item too.

The sewers were yesterday traversed by the GOVERNOR and many other gentlemen. They saw the work. We presume the rumour of their opinion of its performance was one cause of the overflow of wrath which signalised yesterday. We understand that for its size and extent it is not surpassed in the whole world. What would it have been under the enlightened guidance of the disciples of Mr. WALLS!

Once more we protest against the iniquity of these attacks while a committee is sitting on the conduct of the Commissioners. If these gentlemen fear the report, that they cannot allow it to ripen? Considering how much influence they are likely to have in giving it at least a complexion favourable to themselves, they might be content. Mr. JONES will let the town quiet, he no doubt, but he will give evidence of far higher or far inferior qualities than we ascribe to his political friends, if, out of the mass of accusation they heaped together, he discover nothing which may answer the purpose of his party. We must say that we the Commissioners liable to censure, the manner with which they are pursued would go far to destroy the moral weight of their condemnation, however just. Mr. COWPER attempted to draw from the statement of Mr. DONALDSON an admission of fraud. This inference he repeated over and over again. It was promptly repudiated by the Government.

It was a bold attempt to snatch a judgment, which, however smart, must be seen by the friends of fair play with something more than regret. Whenever the Government admit what Mr. COWPER chose to infer without any ground, the Cabinet must dismiss the Commissioners, or they will deserve dismission themselves.

We have read the report of the speeches delivered at the public meeting, held at Brisbane, to rejoice over the coming separation of the Northern Districts, but we have failed to discover in any of those speeches the slightest proof that the settlers in all the districts to the north of the thirtieth parallel of South latitude generally desire to be attached to the new colony. The speakers assured their friends and each other on the success of their agitation with an enthusiasm natural enough in men who hope to see their township rise soon to the dignity of a metropolitan city; they reckon up minutely what will be the public revenue and expenditure of the new colony, and talk with rapture of the more effective government, and the enlarged scale of public works that they will enjoy when they get the spending of their own money, but they omit to notice the fact that they reckon as their own money the taxes levied upon settlers who have no desire whatever to be attached to the new colony, or to contribute to its treasury. If there were the smallest proof forthcoming that the residents in the Clarence and New England districts desire separation, it is fair to presume that that evidence would be adduced. The non-production of it is a tolerable evidence that it does not exist. Assertion is sometimes made to do the work of proof; but we do not find that a single one of the Brisbane orators ventured even to assert that the Clarence and New England settlers desire northern separation. All the attainable evidence goes the other way. The residents, in public meeting assembled, denounce it; they petition against it, and they elect representatives who vote against it. Is it true that the Brisbane people hold up their hands in astonishment and exclaim, "Surely, it is not possible that the New Englanders can be so infatuated as to cling to Sydney; their representatives must have misrepresented them; they cannot seriously mean what they say at public meetings and pray for in their petitions; it is impossible that they can be blind to the advantages they will enjoy when there is a tramroad to Moreton Bay and a custom house at Grafton, together with the cheap Government, light taxes, and plentiful supply of labour that separation will inevitably produce." But, notwithstanding the astonishment of Brisbane, New England and the Clarence persist in disdainfully rejecting the advances of their Northern suitors, and repudiating the proposition for an alliance. If Brisbane is right, we must conclude that New England and Clarence are in a condition of benighted ignorance. They are blind to their true interest, madly attached to a metropolis which plunders and does not protect them, and meeting with scorn the offers of the young city of the north which is impatient to shower benefits upon them. But if Clarence and New England are right in their opinions, if their attachment to the southern colony is judicious and far-seeing, then is Brisbane selfish, anxious to aggrandise itself at the expense of districts that gain nothing by connexion with it, and have no wish for the union. Much is hoped for by some from a projected visit of the Rev. Dr. LANG, who, it is said, is about to make a tour to these districts in order to pull away the blindfolds from the eyes of the inhabitants, and convince them of the folly of which they have been guilty. It is expected that after the Doctor's objurgatory visit the settlers will have their eyes open to their folly, will bitterly renounce their past errors, and joyfully accept admission to the blessings of a Northern Government. But pending the reverend gentleman's tour, and in the absence of the enlightenment which is to result from it, the people of New England and the Clarence will remain obstinately opposed to separation.

The Moreton Bay people would not have been particularly pleased if Mr. LABOUCHERE had told them that they were blind to their own interests in seeking separation, or that their petitions did not express their real sentiments—they would be displeased if the Minister had said that they were ripe for separation. Yet they would they treat the New Englanders as they would not like to be treated themselves? What right have they to demand for themselves what they refuse to concede to others? The basis of separation is local interest. It is not for imperial reasons that the colony is to be divided; it is not that the divisions of Australia may look pretty on a map; it is simply to meet the wishes of resident settlers, who demand it as a matter of justice. The measure which is accepted as the ground of separation should also be adopted to limit it. Let those who wish to be separated have their wish, but let those who do not desire it be exempt from the compulsion. Such rigid equity as this, however, would not satisfy the Brisbane people at such separationists. Their notions of justice to themselves involves injustice to others. If all the settlers to the north of the 30th parallel were canvassed as to their wishes, and only that area of territory were attached to Brisbane in which a majority of the inhabitants desired it, the new colony would be a small one. There is no proof whatever that the occupants of the most northerly districts, or of the western interior, desire to alter their present allegiance; while, on the contrary, it is pretty well known that they desire as they are.

The northern separation question, therefore, stands thus: the districts of Moreton Bay and Darling Downs wish to be disconnected from New South Wales. But by themselves these two districts would make a miserable, weak little colony, and in order to make it a respectable size, it is necessary arbitrarily to unite to it large districts lying to the north, the south, and the west, which have no desire for such union. Moreton Bay, which complains that it has been sacrificed to Sydney, demands as satisfaction on the Sydney side, that Clarence, and the Wide Bay and Burnett Districts should be sacrificed to it. This may be revenge, but it is not justice.

Mr. HOOD maintains that the new colony cannot possibly get along without convict labour; but the intelligent Brisbane people laugh Mr. HOOD's leadership. Though it is true that in earlier days they desired separation as a means of securing the revival of transportation, they have since grown wiser, and they now deprecate the fulfilment of their former desires. They have no wish to tarnish their own reputation as a free colony, or to become a nuisance to their neighbours. But though they are content to struggle through their early difficulties without the questionable aid of transportation, they as vigorously maintain that, in order to secure their comfortable establishment and safe progress, they must be allowed to annex a large extent of territory, occupied at present by settlers who at present deprecate the union. They avow boldly that separation means separation at the 30th parallel, and that without the territories so included, the new colony would be shorn of its strength.

The separation of Port Phillip was not a parallel case to that of Moreton Bay. The southern district was a compact and united territory. Its commercial interests were in unison with the political division that was effected. The immense majority of settlers in the detached districts were in favour of separation. The population amounted to about 70,000, and the annual export was valued at nearly a million sterling. None of these conditions are realised at Moreton Bay.

In another place our readers will find a report of an important meeting, at which the BISHOP OF SYDNEY presided.

The petition of Dr. BARKER and his clergy, praying for an increase to the sum placed upon the Estimates in favour of the Denominational Board, will receive from the attentive considera tion of the Legislature. We have no disposition to enter upon the vexed question of Education. We should as soon think of grasping hot iron as touching a subject surrounded by so many difficulties. After many years consideration of this question we have ceased to hope. We, however, accept whatever temporary scheme may be uppermost, in the desire that it may be instrumental in instructing some child and preventing some evil. England has abandoned the task of educating the people, on account of conflicting systems, and we are in the ultimate course of events a government which cannot find the means of reconciling religious sympathies with general action. The position of the Church of England, considering the numbers and the schools attached to its congregations, may justly claim a larger share of the public funds, pending the final adjustment of the question of education. We noticed with regret the needless attack made by the friends of the denominational upon the national system. We have never identified this journal with either, nor do we intend; but it is perfectly monstrous to see the general and sweeping charges against the schools superintended by gentlemen so well known as those who sit at the National Board. We have no doubt that the object of the petition will be accomplished. A mere accident ought not to deprive the Board of resources which it was intended it should possess, and for which the necessity is not likely to be diminished. This concession will not involve any principle. We believe it is utterly absurd to attempt any alteration in our educational system for the present session. Happy should we be could any plan human wit can devise meet the wishes of all those who desire to promote the education of the people.

PARLIAMENT OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 2nd.

PETITIONS.

Mr. HOLT presented a petition from the Rev. Robert Ross, M.D., chairman of a public meeting of the Congregationalists of Sydney and its suburbs, praying that the House will not vote the whole or any part of the £14,328 now upon the Estimates in supplement to the sum received in Schedule C to the Constitution Act for Public Worship.

The petition was received.

Mr. IRVING presented a petition from the inhabitants of Drayton, praying for the appropriation of a sum of money for the construction of a bridge in that locality.

The petition was withdrawn, in consequence of an informality—the petitioners asking for a sum of money, which was not permitted by the Standing Orders.

Mr. CAMPBELL presented a petition from Mr. William Benbow, of Botany Bay, Sydney, against State support to religion.

THE SYDNEY SCHOOL OF ARTS.

The SPEAKER reported that he had presented to the Governor-General the address in reference to this institution, which was passed on the 5th ultimo, and that his Excellency had been pleased to make thereto the following answer:—"In accordance with the request contained in the address from the Legislative Assembly, dated 5th November, 1856, the Governor-General has given directions for the insertion upon the Supplementary Estimates for 1857, of a sum of £1000 for the building of a Mechanics' School of Arts in the town of Goulburn, on condition of an equal sum being subscribed for that purpose."

The petition was received.

THE OFFICE OF AUDITOR-GENERAL.

Mr. DONALDSON brought up a bill to amend the Act relating to the office of Auditor-General, and to the mode of keeping the public accounts of the colony.

The bill was read a first time; and the second reading was made an order of the day for Wednesday next.

THE MORETON BAY LIGHT-SHIP.

Mr. COWPER, asked the Colonial Treasurer in his place, put to the hon. member the following questions of which he had given notice:—(1.) How long the Moreton Bay light-ship was undergoing repair, and what amount was expended in such repair? (2.) Whether it be true that the light-ship is detained at Sydney for the purpose of fitting pipes,—whether the master has been obliged to return to Sydney to procure new hawse pipes,—and at what cost that vessel was now kept from her duty? (3.) Whether the surveyors did not point out that that hawse pipes were necessary when the vessel was undergoing repair?

Mr. DONALDSON, in reply to the first question, said that there were two light-ships under repair. At first it was decided advisable to send the Moreton Bay as the light-ship, but it was found that the vessel was not suitable for the purpose, and accordingly the Hope was substituted. The Brisbane was under repair from the 14th October, 1855, till the 16th January, 1856; the Rose, from the 6th August to the 2nd October, 1856. The cost of the repairs of the vessels was £1268 11s. 2d. Of the amount, the second question, £878 3s. 2d. was on account of the Brisbane, and £77 8s. 7d. on account of the Rose; making a total of £1149 11s. 9d. In addition to these sums, further expenses were being incurred for the purchase of hawse pipes, and the erection of a deck-house. On a Supplementary Estimate for 1855, an amount of £1158 was voted for the purposes of the light-ship at Moreton Bay, so that a sum of £449 11s. 9d. in excess of the appropriation had been expended. As to the second question, Mr. Brookes, the superintendent of the light-vessel, stated that vessel was detained at Sydney for want of hawse pipes. He was obliged to return to Sydney for new hawse pipes, and although, when in Sydney, he took the opportunity of seeing about his appointment, he was obliged to have it turned but for the purpose of getting the hawse pipes. He was appointed to take charge of the Rose on the 6th August. The repairs were commenced on or about the 5th August. Those repairs were completed only in October, and the vessel left for Moreton Bay on the 6th of that month. There was no delay in the repairs, as pointed out in the slight wear in the lower parts from friction of the chains during 18 years' use. He thought the diameter of the pipes was not large enough. He pointed out to Captain Deloitte, one of the surveyors, that the pipes were not large enough to take the moorings that would be required. Captain Deloitte replied that he did not think the chains would be so heavy, and that the pipes would therefore do. There was no blame to be attributed to Captain Moore. The new pipes were of 1½ inch iron, about 2 feet 8 inches in length, and 8½ inches in diameter. These pipes were sent up by the Shamrock on Tuesday last, and would have reached Brisbane on Saturday. It would take the carpenters a day and a half to put them in; then the vessel could be towed at once to her berth by the steamer. A superintendent and four light-keepers had been employed, the daily cost of keeping the Rose was £1 12s. The expenditure was explained as follows:—Superintendent, £120 per annum fixed, £100 temporary, being a daily rate of 12s.; four light-keepers, each £4 a month fixed, and 2s. 9d. a day temporary, being a daily expense of £14,—making a total daily expense of £16. In further explanation of the matter referred to in those questions he would read a letter which he (Mr. Donaldson) had received from Captain Wickham. It was as follows:—

Government Resident's Office,
Moreton Bay, 24th November, 1856.

SIR,—Referring to your letter of the 1st instant, intimating me to assume the direction of the duty of placing the light-vessel in her proper station, I am sorry to inform you that that vessel is not yet ready to proceed to her destination, and upon calling upon the Harbour Master to inform me of the cause of that detention, I have received his report, which I enclose you a copy, and I beg to convey your report that so important a defect as the one complained of should have been overlooked—the more especially as I did not fail to refer to the hawse-pipes in my survey, and I have found it necessary to cause sleeping berths to be fitted for the accommodation of the crew.

2. As soon as the Master returns with the new hawse-pipes they will be fitted, and the vessel, I will proceed to have the vessel moored in her proper position.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your most obedient servant,
T. C. WICKHAM, Government Resident.

The Hon. the Treasurer.

As to the third question, he had to state that Mr. Crooke, one of the surveyors, was first surveyed the vessel, and the surveyors did point out the defects.

POSTPONEMENT.

Mr. T. G. RUSDEN postponed till to-morrow (this day) the following question, which he had notified his intention to put to the Attorney-General:—Whether the Government intend to take any steps, during this session, for providing the country districts with County Courts or Courts of Assize?

BUSINESS OF THE HOUSE.

Mr. DONALDSON stated his intention, in pursuance of a determination which had been arrived at to appoint particular days for important business, to propose that the Estimates for Public Works be taken into consideration on Thursday (to-morrow), and subsidiary C on Tuesday next.

SUPPLY.

The House, on the motion of Mr. DONALDSON, resolved itself into a committee of the whole.

Mr. DONALDSON moved the additional sum of £22,335 1s. 1d. for the sewerage works of 1856, and explained the particulars of the amount already expended as under:—

1854, appropriated by Act of Council, 18 Vic., No. 29	.....	£21,652 0 0
1855, Ditto, 19 Vic., No. 42	.....	22,000 0 0
1856, Estimated by the Commissioners for the City Commissioners to 31st December, 1856	.....	£37,085 4 11
Less amount available	.....	15,445 3 10
Total	.....	£21,671 0 0

The hon. member quoted at some length from the report of the City Commissioners' accounts, showing the purposes for which the money was required.

Mr. CAMPBELL suggested that the report of the Commissioners was of such importance that it should be printed before the estimate was passed.

Mr. FLOOD complained of the wasteful manner in which the sewerage works had been expended, pointing out from the records of the House, that the amount actually expended on the sewerage works was nearly three times the amount originally estimated by the City Commissioners. He urged that, in his opinion, a gross outrage had been committed on the public, and that he had no excuse or satisfactory explanation had been offered.

Mr. DONALDSON rebutted the arguments of Mr. Flood, remarking that difference in the estimate of the sewerage works arose from the fact that Mr. Rider, the former City Engineer, based his calculations on the assumption that the work would be of a different description to what it turned out to be,—that in fact, there would be more open cutting, and consequently a less expensive description of labour would be required. He also objected to the reading of reports and papers, which were very lengthy, in on the table, or if hon. members desired it he would move that they should be printed. The expense would, if that course were adopted, be very heavy.

Mr. FLOOD urged the expediency of postponing the item, stating that the report adopted, he thought, should be prepared to establish assertions he made by undisputable facts. He further stated in support of his argument that the postponement of the Estimate was a mistake of £1800 had been discovered by Mr. Bell, the present City Engineer, and this was only one of similar mistakes. He concluded by saying that he would be able to show that the sum voted last session was understood to be sufficient to complete the whole of the sewerage works, and consequently the House informed that this was to be a final vote.

Mr. JONES explained that a Board of Inquiry appointed by the Government had recommended an alteration in that portion of the sewerage works about to be completed by which a considerable saving would be effected without in any way impairing the efficiency of the sewerage system.

Mr. COWPER protested against the extravagance which the execution of these works had involved, arguing if it had not been for the indefatigable exertions of the select committee of the late Legislature, in which the chairman, Mr. Martin, had taken so active a part, many thousand pounds would have been lost through the gross irregularities which the labours of the committee exposed. He admitted that, as the money had been expended, he was prepared to agree to vote it, although he must protest against having been a party to the expenditure in any shape or way.

Mr. DONALDSON contended that the item had been unnecessarily costly. Tunnelling had been resorted to when open cutting would have sufficed. ("Hear, hear," from Mr. Cowper.) He believed that in this simple mistake lay the whole gravamen of the charge brought against the City Commissioners.

Mr. COWPER said, if the Commissioners had made this admission before, thus acknowledging the value of the labours of the select committee alluded to, all disclosures with respect to those gross frauds and irregularities would have ceased.

Mr. FLOOD reiterated his arguments, pointing out that the correction of Mr. Bell's had, in fact, added an amount to the extent of 17,222 feet, which was afterwards reduced by Mr. Bell to 10,414, which, in round numbers, was one of many more certificates of an equally false description.

Mr. PARKER thought the hon. member, Mr. Flood, was carrying his hobby too far. He was sorry that he ventured to make use of such language as gross frauds, false certificates, conspiration, corrupt proceedings, &c. &c. &c. He was of opinion that in this question, the errors complained of were mistakes, involving, no doubt, considerable expenditure, but not originating in any corrupt motive, and that, notwithstanding the existence of such errors, Mr. Rondle, the contractor, for instance, had never been paid a farthing more than was warranted by the amount of work performed.

Mr. COWPER said if there was any money saved through the correction of the errors, it was entirely through the exposure which was made by the committee.

Mr. JONES said the committee would not be justified in voting this estimate until hon. members were in possession of the manner in which this sum of £164,425 had been expended, and how it was they were placed in an condition to vote the money.

Mr. R. CAMPBELL hoped the item would be postponed until the documents were printed.

Mr. DONALDSON said he had no objection to the item being postponed. He would, therefore, move that the estimate, as well as the next, for water, be postponed.

Question put and carried.

The Committee then proceeded to deal with the Estimates for 1857.

Mr. PARKER moved the sum of £5715 for the Registrar-General's office, explaining the various items of detail, which were set forth in the Estimates as under:—

Registrar-General	.....	£700 0 0
Clerks	.....	1200 0 0
Registration clerk, 3rd class	.....	211 0 0
Assistant do. do. 2nd class £200 each	.....	400 0 0
4 assistant clerks, at £175 each	.....	700 0 0
2 office clerks, at £90 each	.....	180 0 0
Messenger and office keeper	.....	100 0 0
Allowance to district Registrars	.....	1200 0 0
Rent of office	.....	300 0 0
Stationery, &c.	.....	400 0 0
Freight and carriage of books and items	.....	50 0 0
Printing, £150; stationery, £350	.....	500 0 0
Contingencies, £50; stores, £50	.....	100 0 0
Incidental expenses	.....	500 0 0

Mr. COWPER wished to know how the rent of this House was £400? This seemed to be an enormous rental.

Mr. PARKER said it was taken for a short time at that rent.

Mr. COWPER commented on the system of Registration proposed to be carried out by this estimate, which, he said, was the direct legislation, and involved more industry and discretion, the whole scheme would become odious and of very little value to the country.

Mr. GORDON thought, as this was a new department, the vote was excessive, and particularly complained of the number of clerks.

Mr. PARKER said there was virtually an amalgamation of the office of Registrar of Deeds in the Supreme Court and of Registrar-General, which accounted for the extra number of clerks.

After some remarks from Mr. PIDDINGTON,—

Mr. FORSTER moved the postponement of the item, as the bill for the amalgamation had not yet been sanctioned by the House.

Mr. PARKER said the information before the House was so simple that he could see no necessity for postponing the item.

After some further discussion, in which Mr. FORSTER and Mr. T. G. RUSDEN took part,

Mr. NICHOLS said, the simple matter for them to consider was whether they should have two officers maintained separately, or only one office, on which should devolve the whole of the business now transacted by the Registrar of Deeds' department. To carry

EDUCATION.

Mr. HOLT rose to move the following resolutions on the subject of education:

1. That it is the opinion of this House, the duty of the Legislature to use its utmost efforts to ensure (so far as it may be practicable) the education of every child in the colony. 2. That the system hitherto pursued, of supporting denominational establishments, known as the National and Denominational, and paying the teachers a fixed annual salary, is unsatisfactory, and is altogether inadequate to the requirements of the colony, and ought to be abolished. 3. That in order to secure the services of responsible, energetic, and competent teachers, and to educate the children of the colony, it is necessary for the Government to remunerate them liberally according to the nature and extent of their services, without imposing any conditions at all beneficiary; so that the vocation of a teacher in the colony may be considered a highly honourable profession. 4. That the establishment or endowment of every religious denomination or association in the colony shall be equally entitled to participate equitably in the emoluments appropriated by the Parliament for national purposes; provided that such persons have been duly enrolled, authorised, or otherwise recognised as by the respective denominations to which they belong. In the event of any religious denomination withdrawing its certificate from any of its teachers, the Government, on receiving the notice of the fact, should immediately cease all further remuneration to such teacher to be discontinued. 5. That the national emoluments of the teachers appropriated by the Parliament for educational purposes, and the inspection of the schools be vested in an Inspector-General of Schools, who should be chief of inspectors and assistant-inspectors, to enable him to cause every school in the colony to be visited periodically and frequently. 6. That the duty of the inspectors and assistant-inspectors should be to visit the schools in the districts in the colony, to make the most searching inquiries into their general management, and to ascertain what religious teaching they have received, and also to examine the children personally in such branches of learning as may be required to make full reports on the state of the schools and of their examinations, and to make such suggestions as may tend to raise the progress each scholar may have made since the previous examination, and if it be found necessary, to raise the requirements (if any) now set up. That with, undoubtedly, the exception of a few, the schools do not generally appear to merit a favourable mention of them in the Inspector's Report. Yet every one who reads the Inspector's Report on the Schools, and of the scholars, be forwarded by the Inspector-General of Schools, to the Government, the most demonstration of satisfaction at which the reports may respectively refer, and the original reports and to the school attributed the colony. That such Inspector's report in the schools, has not the slightest effect in the direction, which he considered as a privileged communication, and printed, if it be deemed advisable. 7. That for efficiency in the schools, the management and the general management of the schools be confided exclusively to the Government, to which they are responsible; the duty and the duty of the Government Inspectors will be restricted to inspecting, investigating, and examining the schools, and to be carried with the schools, as well as examining the scholars in secular learning, and to report to the Government, and to have the reports being received as to the bad management of any school, the head of the religious society to which such school may belong, and also the schoolmaster or schoolmaster, and the Government, all further remuneration to him or her will be discontinued by the Government on the receipt of the Inspector's unfavourable report from an Inspector. 8. That if any schoolmaster or schoolmistress shall decline to answer questions which may be put to him or her by the Inspector-General of Schools, or any of the inspectors or assistant-inspectors, respecting the school or school, or refuse to allow any examination of the scholars, or otherwise obstruct the duty of the inspectors, or of the Government, or any, or be guilty of gross neglect or immorality, the Government commissioner to such schoolmaster or schoolmistress, and be dealt with absolutely cause. That if any schoolmaster or schoolmistress should be dismissed by the Government by false representations either as regards the number of attendance of the school, or the school be deemed guilty of a misdemeanour, and punished. 9. That in order to effect the objects of the Government, the teachers of the different denominations, and as regards the number of the schools and their attendance, the necessary to be appointed schools, and to induce them to boast up every neglected child, and to induce the parents to send their children to school, it is desirable to remunerate the schoolmasters and schoolmistresses according to the number of their pupils, viz.—For each boy or girl in the 3rd class, at the rate of 15s. per quarter, for a full quarter's attendance; for each boy or girl in the 2nd class, at the rate of 10s. per quarter, for a full quarter's attendance. For each boy or girl in the 1st class, at the rate of 7s. per quarter, for a full attendance. For each boy or girl in the 1st class, at the rate of 5s. per quarter, for a full attendance. Schools of the 3rd class are to be deemed those where the scholars are taught the rudiments of learning, and those in the 2nd class are to be deemed those who are able to read fluently, and to write a legible hand, and have made some learning grammar, arithmetic, geography, and history; if given, grammatical, arithmetic, and geography, and history; and those in the 1st

DERWENT AND TAMAR MARINE ASSURANCE COMPANY.
STORES BY SALE.
Ships insured in this Company are warranted free from average under five pounds per cent., unless general.
Claims for losses or average are payable in Sydney at three months after settlement of the same.
Claims for loss or damage by collision, when large, if required, policies for the same being granted in triplicate.
Office, Patent Slip Wharf, Sussex-street, where applications for insurances will be received.
TOWNS and DARLEY, Agents.

NEW SOUTH WALES MARINE ASSURANCE COMPANY.
Office,—Exchange-buildings, George-street.
CAPITAL, £150,000.
DIRECTORS:
John Fairfax, Esq., Chairman.
J. Edward Ebsworth, Esq. Jacob L. Montefiore, Esq.
James Henderson, Esq. John B. Watt, Esq.
Edward Knox, Esq.
Marine Surveyor—Captain W. S. Dobbie.
Agents and Surveyors at Newcastle—Messrs. Hingle and on.
Surveyor at Auckland, New Zealand—Captain Alexander Grainger.
The Directors meet every Wednesday, for the ... of general business, at 11 o'clock; and ... on other days at a quarter before 1 o'clock to ... receive applications for insurances. Risks taken ... on vessels forty-tons register and upwards.

RATES OF PREMIUM BY FIRST-CLASS VESSELS.
(From from average unless general, or the ship be stranded.)

	Guineas. per cent.		Guineas. per cent.
Great Britain	2	Port Cooper	2
China	2½	Wide Bay	2
Manila	2½	Moreton Bay	1½
India	2½	Moreton Bay	1½
Java	2½	Twofold Bay	1
Mauritius	2	Penrhyn	1
Cape of Good Hope	2½	Port Phillip	1½
Valparaiso	2½	Port Phillip, clipper	1
California	2	Adelaide	1½
Auckland	1½	Hobart Town	1
Port Nicholson	1½	Launceston	1½
Nelson	2½	Circular Head	2
Port Otago	2½

GOLD AND SPECIE.

Port Phillip	1	Great Britain	2
Ditto per steamer	1	Ditto per steamer	2½

Policies on goods, gold, and specie, to Great Britain, are granted in triplicate, payable in London, in case of loss, if required.

TIME RISKS ON FIRST-CLASS VESSELS.
3 Months ..... 3 Guineas per cent.
6 Months ..... 5 Guineas per cent.
Wealing voyage ..... 10 Guineas per cent.
The usual brokerage of 5 per cent. allowed.
N.B.—Goods stowed on deck are not covered by the Company's policies.
By order of the Board,
ROBERT GARRETT secretary.

THE PROFESSIONAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.
Chief Office: 76, Chancery-lane, London; and 49, Collins-street West, Melbourne.
Incorporated by Act of Parliament.
CAPITAL: Two hundred and fifty thousand pounds, With upwards of one thousand four hundred shareholders.
LONDON DIRECTORS.
Chairman: James Andrew Durham, Esq.
Deputy Chairman: William Wellington Cooper, Esq.
Andrew Durham, Esq. Capt. Edward Hoare, R.N.
Rev. J. W. Ghislland, M.A. Thomas George Williams, Esq.
Rev. Henry Hamilton R. Gamaliel Wintborp, Esq.
J. Monteiro, Esq.
Resident Manager: Benjamin Massey, Esq.
MELBOURNE BOARD.
DIRECTORS.
Major Norman Campbell, J.P. W. F. A. Rucker, Esq.
William Green, Esq. Thomas Bear Smyth, Esq.
William Locke, Esq. William Thomas Weeds, Esq.
MEDICAL REFEREES.
James B. Motherwell, M. D. W. J. Campbell, Esq.
Manager: George Smyth, Esq.
SPECIAL FEATURES.
Policies issued immediately, and all claims paid in the colony.
Lives slightly diseased assured at equitable rates.
No extra charge for voyages to Europe and back, or for residence in Bermuda, Madeira, Cape of Good Hope, Mauritius, and the British North American colonies.
All policies indisputable except in case of actual fraud.
ANNUAL PREMIUM FOR ASSURING £100.

Without Profits.				With Profits.
Age 30	£1	2	2	Age 30	£1	7	9
40	1	7	10	40	2	3	2
50	2	4	1	50	3	10	2
60	3	17	8	60	5	18	2

Prospectuses, forms of proposal for assurance, and every information may be obtained gratuitously, on application at the chief office, or to any of the Company's agents.
J. G. WALLER and CO., Wynyard-square, agents for Sydney.

LONDON ALLIANCE FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
Further reduction of 25 per cent. on the former premiums.
The undersigned are prepared to insure Fire Policies at the reduced rates of premium, namely:
On First-class risks, from 3s. 9d. to 5s. 9d. per cent. per annum.
On Second-class ditto, from 3s. 9d. to 4s. per cent. per ditto.
Third-class ditto (subject to arrangement).
Non-hazardous goods insured at the same rates of premiums as the buildings in which they are deposited.
An extra charge for hazardous goods. Special risks taken by agreement.
THACKER & CO., agents.
George-street, 22nd December.

WATERLOO LIFE EDUCATION, CASUALTY and SELF-HELPE ASSURANCE COMPANY of LONDON.—Capital £400,000.
This Company undertakes the ordinary life insurances, grants life survivorship, and terminable annuities.
The great advantages it presents for making provision for old age, health, holiday, and for the endowment of children, have caused it to attain an unprecedented success throughout the United Kingdom.
Policies signed by the Directors in London, are at once completed and issued here.
Tables and every information at the office, 8, Macquarie-place.
BEIT and BONA, agents.
Applications from persons desirous of acting as agents, to be addressed to the office in Sydney.

WIDOWS AND ORPHANS FUND, or INSURANCE ON LIVES.
The Directors of the Australian Mutual Provident Society invite all persons who may wish to provide for their families at their decease, to consider the duty of insuring their lives. The payments are so reasonable as to be within the reach of all classes.
For instance, a young person twenty years of age (if in good health) would have to pay £1 17s. 3d. per annum, or about 9½d. per week. At twenty-five years of age, £2 8s. 2d. per annum, or about 11½d. per week, &c., &c.
ROBERT THOMSON, actuary and secretary, to the Australian Mutual Provident Society.
Mort's-buildings, Pitt-street.

FOUND, in my paddocks, in September last, one Black Dingo, 18 hands high, branded O on near ribs near the shoulder, another blotched brand on the off side, both hips down. If not claimed within fourteen days from this date, and all expenses incurred thereon, otherwise will not be sold to defray the same. WILLIAM BLACKWELL, Accommodation House, Liverpool Road, late Horse and Jockey, 36th November, 1856.

ESTATE of the late PHILIP BUTTON, of Brownie, Wide Bay.—All orders drawn upon or by the late Mr. P. Button, by Mr. Yates Surveyor, or by Mr. Alfred Button must be presented for payment, and all claims against the estate must be rendered at our office on or before the 1st day of November next, otherwise they will not be acknowledged. (Signed) HOW, WALKER, and CO., Circular Quay, Sydney.

TESTIMONIAL to Mr. WILLIAM HOBBS, Chief Constable of Windsor, Hawkesbury District, New South Wales, especially the greatness, with in present Mr. HOBBS with a Purse as a token of respect for his zeal and perseverance in the suppression of cattle stealing, he having brought several offenders (particularly a man named Beckett) to justice at great personal expense and trouble. Such subscriptions will be received by Mr. THOMAS MARSDEN, treasurer, Macquarie-street, Windsor.

MESSRS. THOMAS BARKER and CO. have recommenced the manufacture of Colonial Treacle, and they are enabled by the introduction of improved machinery to give a much superior article to any previously produced in the colony. Orders will be received at the Factory, Sussex-street, or by Mr. M. CAMPBELL, 163, Cumberland-street, Church-hill, Sussex-street, Sydney, 19th August, 1856.

HAMILTONS BREAD (made from pure Gallego flour), 4d. 9-lb. loaf. (For other descriptions) 4d. 3-lb. loaf. HAMILTONS Sussex Biscuit Bakery, Hunter-street.

DEAN'S FURNITURE WAREHOUSE. — Parties furnishing, either for town or country, will do well to visit this above warehouse, where a large and varied assortment of useful household furniture, bed-tools, bedding, &c., are offered for choice at moderate prices. Mark the address—DEAN'S Furniture Warehouse, City Theatre, Market-street. ☞ Goods delivered free, and freed.

INVESTMENTS in Government Debentures, and the Shares of the several Sydney, Country, and other Companies, may always be obtained or disposed of, on application to W. J. LENNON, stock and share broker, No. 25, late 356, Pitt-street.

TO CAPTAINS and Owners of ships.—The undersigned is about relinquishing the ship chandlery business as soon as he can dispose of his extensive stock-in-trade, and hopes to inform any one in want of ship chandlery that he will sell cheaper than any other house in the trade, with a view to close out by the end of the year, as he intends leaving the colony for England. JOHN CAIRD, ship chandler, 25, Market-street West.

LEA AND PERRINS' celebrated Worcestershire Sauce, pronounced by connoisseurs, to be the "only good sauce" and applicable to every variety of dish. Extract of a letter from a medical gentleman at Madras, to his brother at Worcester, May, 1851.—"Tell Lea and Perrins that their sauce is highly esteemed in India, and is, in my opinion, the most palatable as well as the most wholesome sauce that is made."—Sold universally by the principal dealers in sauces; Wholesale and for exportation by the proprietors, LEA and PERRINS, 68, Broad-street, Worcester; and 19, Pavement-street, London; Barclay and Sons; Crosse and Blackwell, and other oilmen and merchants, London.

STEAM MILLS, PICTON.—Mr. T. LARKIN, being about to retire as a partner in this business, begs that all accounts due to him will be paid as soon as possible after the end of the year, and requests that all will be settled before 1st January, 1857.

NOTICE! NOTICE! NOTICE!!—BEE HIVE EXTENDED!! Bee Hive Extended!!!—The business premises latterly known as No. 108, Pitt-street, Sydney, now incorporated with the ... Bee Hive establishment, opened on SATURDAY ... and will consequently be rendered ... DAY next, December 6, 1856, by the ... MARK SPENCER, sole proprietor. Bee Hive, ... and 103, Pitt-street.

CAMDEN.—Mrs. GEORGE BRANSBY having engaged the assistance of a thoroughly competent Governess, surmises, after the coming Christmas vacation, opening a Seminary for Young Ladies in the village of Camden. Music, drawing, and the French language will form part of the study, and a number of pupils can be accommodated, parents may depend upon their receiving every attention in the schoolroom, and upon the domestic arrangements being satisfactory. Terms may be known upon application to Mrs. BRANSBY.
Where the advertiser is unknown, reference may be made to James Macarthur, Esq., M.L.C.; George Mackey, Esq., M.L.C.; the Rev. R. Rogers; or any respectable family in the neighbourhood. Camden, 26th November, 1856.

WADE and GOWAN, 86, COLLINS-STREET, EAST MELBOURNE, Commission Agents and Drapery Importers. Soft goods consigned to the above firm will be disposed of on the most advantageous terms, and highest prices procured. Accounts sales and remittances forwarded promptly. All enquiries respecting this market punctually attended to. JAMES WADE, of the above firm, Auctioneer. Drapery sales held every Tuesday and Friday. Auction Mart, 86, Collins-street East.

CHINA CRAPE SHAWLS, various qualities, in quantities to suit purchasers. CHAS. MOORE and CO., 68, Pitt-street.

TIMBER, TIMBER, TIMBER.—Hardwood, Pine, Red Cedar, sawsent, laths, shingles, and every description of building material always on hand, at low prices. THOMAS MATTHEWS and CO'S, Travers' Wharf, Barker-street, Bathurst-street, near to Brodie and Craig's.

HORSE STOCK for SALE.—About 150 head, consisting of mares, and fillies, of ages one year and upwards. They are suitable for the Victoria markets, and for New Zealand; also a "Berkley" coaching stallion, and two heavy draught stallions, one of Mr. Hall's breed, imported by B. Boyd, Esq. Terms, cash. Apply to Mr. GEO. HEBDEN, Bombala, Maneroo.

TIMBER, SHINGLES, &c., on the BURNETT DISTRICT.—For SALE, two blocks of improved and well-watered country in the above district, together with 5000 to 6000 young sawed and hewed timber. For particulars apply to KIRCHNER and CO.

STORE HEIFER.—For SALE, about 3000 Weaners, ewes, lives, and four years old, with sucking lambs, to have been cleansed. Apply to L. H. BITHORPE, Esq., Moswellbrook.

STORE CATTLE for SALE.—500 to 1000 head, half of each sex, and of ages two years and upwards, deliverable early in January, in the district of Manero. Terms, cash. Apply to Mr. GEO. HEBDEN, Bombala, Maneroo.

TO BE SOLD, 1000 Merino Ewes, 3 years old; 1000 ditto ditto, 2 years old. The wool of these sheep sold for 1s. per lb. in the grease in the last July sales. If required, a run offered for six months, on Glinden Brook or its tributaries. H. D. DUTTON, Hunter River.

BUILDING ALLOTMENTS, in Parramatta-street, in Bay-street, and Cowper-street, Globe, to be SOLD or LET on Long Leases. For particulars apply to GEORGE BROWN, builder, Cowper-street Globe; or to HOW, WALKER, and CO., Circular Quay.

FARMS on the MANNING RIVER, in sizes to suit, of the richest brush or drained swamp land, in the first situations of this fine river, on SALE, by HOW, WALKER, and CO., Sydney.

NEW ZEALAND FLAX-CLEANING.—A small parcel just landed, ex Will iam Alfred, on SALE by RABONE, FEEZ, and CO., 6, Wynyard-street.

HOUSES.—For SALE, Kangaroo Allotment in the above township, opposite Mr. Hassall's Office.

FOR SALE, a very superior Stone-cutting Machine, with two tables, with or without a 12 horse-power steam engine. It is guaranteed to cut with ease the hardest granite, at the sometimes imparting a fine polish to the surface. The machine is now fitted up and may be seen in working order at Mr. Moore's Foundry, Darlinghurst. Plans and all further information to be had of WILLIAM BADDELEY, Moore's premises.

WASTE PAPER for SALE Apply to R. FORD Herald Office.

FOR SALE or LEASE, those large and commodious premises, consisting of two floors, 50 x 20 each, situated Queen's-place, adapted for storage purposes as well as for extensive workshops, will be let to a respectable tenant at very moderate terms. Apply to RABONE and FEEZ, Elizabeth-street North, Circular Quay.

TO CAPITALISTS and SPECULATORS.—For SALE, 34 choice farms, at Bexley, from £5 to £30 per acre, eight miles from Sydney.
Allotments at Globe, Newtown, Green Farm, Camperdown, Petersham, O'Connell Town.
56 leases in the city and suburbs, from 3 to 6 rooms each; 3 hotels; also, 53 cottages, New Parramatta, near the Station, at the rent of a week.
The leases property will yield 12 per cent. to the purchaser.
The above properties are increasing in value every year, the greater portion being sold to close joint transactions. For particulars, apply to JOHN CHARLES WALKER, Ledger, Globe, before 9 a.m., or after 5 p.m. Letters addressed Post Office, Box 88.

VAUXHALL GARDENS and PLEASURE GARDENS, adjoining Railway Station, New Parramatta, to LET or for SALE. The hotel contains 18 rooms bedding kitchens and cellars, with spacious yard, and room detached; on the ground adjoining the road a tap has been erected. There is also first-rate coach houses and extensive stabling.
The gardens are tastefully laid out for pleasure grounds, and are intersected by a serpentine walk.
For particulars apply on the premises, or to JOHN GARSED, Willow Lodge, Globe; or, Box 85, Post Office Sydney.

TO CARPENTERS.—Rim locks, Door Bolts, Screws, Hinges, Nails, Glass, Putty, and Sash Cords, Sheet glass and cheery cloth and paper, best London glue, saws, files, hinges, and all other goods for building purposes at the very lowest prices. J. EDWARDS, 427, George-street South, eight doors from Bathurst-street.

HAY FORKS, Spades, Shovels, Sleeping Hooks, Chaff Knives, Scythes, Sickles, Hoes, Axes, Hatchets, Wheat mills, and every kind of goods used by settlers, to be had at C. F. EDWARDS, 427, George-street South.

DELICIOUS SUMMER DRAUGHTS—REDFORD'S soda lemonade powder.
Redford's orangeade powder
Redford's gingerade powder.
Prepared only by J. REDFORD, 83, Lower George-street, Sydney.

J. G. WALLER and CO. are prepared to execute wholesale orders on a commission for the following goods at fixed qualities, whether in or out of bond, and at the undermentioned rates.
Martell's brandy
Hennessey's ditto
West India rum
Key brand gin
Whisky, in quart r casks
Old tom, in quart r casks
Pale brandy, in 1 dozen cases
Port and sherry wines, in hogsheads and quarter-casks
Ditto ditto, in bottle
English ale and porter, in hogsheads of first brands
Ditto ditto, in bottle, double stout
Champagne, claret, and cordials of every description.
J. G. WALLER and CO., Wine and Spirit Merchant, Wynyard-square.

ALLSOPP'S ALE, bottled by F. Friend and Co., London.—This celebrated and wholesome beer, being imported regularly by the undersigned, they are enabled to supply their customers at a moderate price. J. G. WALLER and Co., Wine and Spirit Merchants, Wynyard-square.

J. G. WALLER and CO. call attention to some very fine wines, now on hand comprising—
Hock in the hogshead
Champagne ditto ditto, quarts and pints
Claret ditto ditto
Port in 1 dozen and three dozen cases, London bottled
Sherry in three ditto ditto ditto
Ditto, in quarter cases, remarkably fine.
J. G. WALLER and CO., Wine and Spirit Merchants, Wynyard Square.

AMERICAN TOOLS.—Now landing, ex Annie, on SALE by the undersigned, comprising—
Simmons' handled Chin axes, boys' axes, hatchets, &c.
Ditto California picks and handles, Australian drifting picks;
Ames and Hay's cast steel shovels and spades
Two and three pronged cast steel hay forks, &c.
RABONE, FEEZ, and CO., 6, Wynyard-street.

LUCERNHAY, of first quality, by bale or ton, among, at W. PRITCHARD'S, Union Wharf.

MESS BEEF, without bone; Tongues, &c. JACKSON and CO. have on SALE, at their Store, Pitt-street North, near Circular Wharf,
100 Barrels prime winter mess beef, warranted
20 barrels choice mess pork
10 kegs neats' tongues, of the best description, on reasonable terms.

CALIFORNIAN FLOUR—Fresh ground, and guaranteed sound and sweet. FOR SALE, by HOW, WALKER, and CO., Circular Quay.

OIL ... L ... B ... Gilt ... ings, in assorted cases, English and foreign ... glass, a fresh assortment of larger sizes
Water colours, superior quality and finish
An invoice of oilmen's stores
Westphalia hams
Best Hindoo beef
Ditto ditto pork
Holstein butter (Grassman brand)
Liverpool salt
Colonial-made ditto
Bavarian hops, very superior quality
Manila cigars, No. 2, light weights
Congous and hyssonkins
Stearine candles (Star's)
Furniture, assorted for refitment
Perfumery, boys, sen de Cologne
Wheaten and brown
Matches, round wood and paper boxes
Printing ink
Letterpress copy books
Surveyors' drawing paper (imperial)
Ditto varnish
Ladies' dressing boxes, toilet and fancy stationery
Brandy (real Bordeaux), 1 dozen cases
Still hock, port, sherry
Black silks, mulles, satins
Cambric, silk, and linen handkerchiefs
Black and fancy silk and satin handkerchiefs
French printed barege dresses
Barlie muslins, 24 inches 30 lb. cases
Coloured flannel shirts
White damask tablecloths
Plain and spotted Swiss muslins
White fancy muslin dresses
White and coloured tulle dresses
Brettlee hosiery, assorted
5-4, 6-4, and 7-4 oilcloth for table covering
Printed dachapes, in various sizes, &c., &c., &c.
HAGGE and PRELI, Circular Quay.

BRIERLY, DEAN, and CO. have constantly on SALE, at their New Stores, 178, George-street, opposite Hunter-street.
Cotton goods
Silk ditto
Woollen ditto
Worsted ditto
Haberdashery
Millinery
Smallwares
Hosiery and gloves
Made-up clothing
Blankets
Flannels
Brussels and bonnets
Boots and shoes
Earthenware
Stoneware
Buddley
Ironmongery
Cutlery
Perfumery
Oilmen's stores
Wine
Spirits
Ale and porter
Soap
Salt
Coffee
Sugar
Biscuit, tarts and cheroots
Manila ditto.

TO FARMERS AND SETTLERS.
Ransome and Sims' and Howard's celebrated wrought iron ploughs, with or without wheels, for 2, 3, and 4 horses
Ransome's iron harrows, zigzag and square
Footer's long scraper spades and shovels
Breaking-up, clipping, grubbing, and garden hoes
Wood wedges, and iron ditto
Hay and garden rakes, pitchforks
Bullock chains and hows, hobbles
Bullock, horse, and sheep bells
Horse and plough traces, backlands, and hames
Saddles, bridles, hay and chaff halters
Scrip's and Wilkinson's sheep shears
Hay and sacking stitches, woolpacks
Sydney and Liverpool rubbing boards.
E. C. WEEKES and CO., Ironmongers, 241, George-street.

AMERICAN AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.
Winnowing machines
Corn-shellers, various sizes
Ditto, extra size, superior; will shell 700 bushels per day
Grain mills
Two-horse threshing machines
One ditto ditto
One large root grist mill
One ditto ditto cut machine
One corn and cob crusher, for grinding the cob with the Spring-tooth horse-rakes
Sir Harry's imperial mowers
Sugar, corn, and coffee mills
Garden engines
Cultivators, in four sizes
Bullock yokes, superior quality and light
Eagle ploughs, in four sizes, with wheels and colters.
The above implements are well adapted to the coming agricultural season, now landing, and for SALE in lots to suit purchasers.
WILKINSON, BROTHERS, and CO., Walker's Wharf.
Sydney, September 6th.

FOR SALE, at Marchioness of Londonderry, Thomas Royden, Taymouth Castle, Saltaas, and Vimetra:—
Carrants, in cartonds and barrels
Raisins, in barrels and boxes
Sultanas, in barrels and boxes
Muscatels, in boxes, halves, and quarters
Figs, in boxes, Normandy pippins, in baskets
Jordon almonds, in boxes
Soft-shell ditto, in bales and casks
Barcelona nuts and walnuts
PROVISIONS.
English bacon, Cumberland and Wiltshire
Ditto hams, Cumberland and York
North Wilts, Cheshire, and double Gloucester cheese
SPICES, &c.
Bleached Jamaica ginger, and ground ditto, in barrels
Pimento, white and black pepper
Cassey and caraway seeds
Nutmegs, mace, and cloves, mixed spices
West India, and Manila arrowroot
Pearl barley, and pearl barley, and rice.
HANKS and LLOYD, importers and wholesale provision warehousemen, No. 7, Wynyard-street, 1, Wynyard-square.

TO BUILDERS.—TUMBINS and SLOMAN (late T. Woolley), would call the attention of Builders to their large store of materials in
Rim, mortice, and draw-lock locks
Rim, mortice cash and Norfolk latches
Door springs, door springs, and door springs
Hinges, 7-7-9, Parliament, Butt and Gate
Door springs, centre, pivot and ball
Brass hinges of all sizes and ditto ditto ditto
Ditto sash fasteners, door knobs, knockers, &c.
Finger plates, spring bolts and metal
Patent nails, from 1 to 6 inches
Wrought ditto large 3 rods, shingle and battens
Hurdle nails, and ditto
Bolts, shutter bars, and turns
White lead, oil and turpentine
Colours ground, in oil and stands
Sheet zinc, galvanized iron
G. I. pipe, gutter, brackets, and heads.
360, 361, Gresham-street and King-street.

TO BLACKSMITHS and Farriers.—Now landed, the following sizes of iron:—
1 x ½, 1 x ⅝, 1 x ¾, 1 x ⅞, 1 x ⅞, and 1 inch, square & to 1½ inch round.
G. F. EDWARDS, 427, George-street, eight doors past Bathurst-street.

BRUSHWARE.—Now Landing.—Broom and mop heads, hair sieves, butter prints and pats
Banister brushes, furniture brushes
Turk's heads, carpet brooms
Crumb brushes, shoes' brushes
Bottle brushes, whitewash brushes
Scrubbing, stove, and stove brushes
Broom and mop handles.
G. F. EDWARDS, ironmonger, 427, George-street South.

THE UNDERSIGNED offer FOR SALE invoices of Printed muslins
Ditto ginghams
Rolled stirrings
Grey sheetings
Ditto treads
Oil baizes
Velvet and felt carpets
Hosiery
Twill and regatte stripes
Men and women's cotton hose
Hoods and pelisses
Longcloth (Horrocks)
HOW, WALKER, and CO.

TAKE NOTICE.—Comfortable and independent situation.—The advertiser who is leaving for England in one of the first ships, wants to sell his business, stock-in-trade, furniture, &c., by private contract. It is situated in one of the best townships in the Hunter River District, and can be taken with a small capital. This is an opportunity to secure a comfortable and independent situation, if not a fortune. Apply to Mr. MULLER, Prince Albert Bowling Saloon, opposite the Victoria Theatre, Pitt-st.

SALES BY AUCTION.

CADRAIN ... has received instructions from John Morris, Esq., Official Assignee, to sell by auction, at his Mart, King-street, THIS DAY, at 2 o'clock,
The remaining book debts in the insolvent estate of Charles Antoine.
Terms, cash.

At the Mart, Labour Bazaar, Pitt-street, THIS DAY, at 11 o'clock,
THE MESSRS. MOORE will sell by auction,
Writing desks, toys, jewellery, watches, clothing, drapery, boots and shoes, fancy soaps, plated-ware, work-boxes, cutlery, fancy goods, guns, and sundries too numerous to mention.
Terms cash.

Continuation of Sale of Unredeemed Pledges.
MR. H. A. GRAVES will sell, at his Auction Mart, opposite the Central Police Office, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon,
The remaining lots of unredeemed pledges owned with Mr. John Spencer, 70, Lower George-street, comprising gold and silver watches, chains, rings, brooches, chests of tools, clothes of clothing of every description, feather beds, pillows, &c., &c.
Terms, cash.

Two Days' Peremptory Drapery Sale.
WEDNESDAY, Wednesday 3rd,
THURSDAY, December 4th.
To Shippers, Merchants, Storekeepers, Drapers, Hosiers, Milliners, Outfitters, Tailors, Tailoresses, Hatters, and others.
MESSRS. W. DEAN and CO. have been entrusted with instructions to sell by auction, on THIS DAY and THURSDAY, December 3rd and 4th, at the Australian Auction Mart, Pitt and O'Connell streets, at 10 o'clock precisely, about 75 packages of seasonable drapery, woollens, &c., ex Woollomooloo and Light of the Age compradors.
Habits and skirts in best Paris kid gloves
Hand 24 inch black and coloured dunnups and gloves
Rich black and coloured silk mantles
Infants' worked jennet robes and frocks
Boys', girls', and ladies' drawers, trimmed
Infants, girls, and ladies' chemisettes
Ditto ditto night dresses ditto
Silk and coloured slings and trimmings
Black alpacas, colourings, and satins
Printed moreens and pinnges
5-4, 9-4, 10-4, 11-4, 12-4, 13-4 white and coloured counterpanes
Women's white and brown cotton hose
Men's grey, white, and brown cotton half-hose
Worsted demask table covers
Damask, fancy straw, and Dunstable bonnets
Men's and boys' Leghorn and Tuscan hats
Panama, Brazilian and Manila ditto
Rich grenadine sleeve
Haberdashery, ribbons, and feathers
Paper quilling, silk, and Tabaret vests
Black cloth, silk, and satin ditto
Summer cloth and cashmere ditto
Men's and boys' alpaca coats and vests
Moleskin, cotton, and woollen cord trousers
Black and coloured tweeds and short ties
White and regatta shirts, W. and B.
White, scarlet, and striped guernseys
Scotch twill, and twill serge shirts
Merino and cotton pants and drawers
White satin, and India rubber braces
Black and coloured superfine cloths
Ditto ditto doeskins and tweeds, &c., &c.
Terms at sale.

Wheat, Flour, Oats, Bran.

To Corn Dealers, Shippers to Melbourne, Bakers, Millers, and others.
At Drumfield's Iron Store, Pitt-street North, near Circular Wharf,
THIS DAY, Wednesday, 3rd December.
MESSRS. W. DEAN and CO. have received instructions to sell by auction, at Drumfield's Iron Store, Pitt-street North, THIS DAY, Wednesday, 3rd December, at half-past 10 o'clock,
1000 bushels wheat
12 tons colonial flour
3 tons bran
Bushels oats.
Terms at sale.

ORMIBAH STEAM SAW MILLS, BRISBANE.
For Positive and Unreserved Sale to close a Partnership Account.
The Property of the Most Complete Establishment comprises the following, viz.—
The Lease of 5,000 Acres of Land densely stocked with Timber, Blue Gum, and Black Bull, situate at Brisbane Water, known as the BLUE GUM FLAT, ORMIBAH CREEK, and forming an unexpired term of two years, from January, 1857, at a rental of £150 per annum, with a right of renewal for the further term of five years, at the rate of £300 per annum.
The Lease contains power to Cut and Removal Timber.
The Free Stock of 300 Acres, (20 Acres of which are cleared), including that portion of the property upon which is erected the Machinery, Plant, and Homestead, subject to a payment of £500, to be made within the duration of the Lease.
The Buildings on the Establishment consist of a substantial Eight-roomed House, a Two-roomed Cottage, a Large and Substantial Wooden Shed, with Galvanized Iron covering for the Machinery, 80 feet x 40; Large Weatherboard Engine and Store Room, Twenty Slab Huts for Men, Three Weatherboard Cottages, Large Stable, with Hooded Yard attached, Large Shed upon the Wharf at Brisbane Water.
PLANT.
1 16-horse high pressure steam engine, complete, with two service boilers, of 21 and 25 horse power
1 2 foot 6 inches vertical saw frame and saw complete
1 batten and fellow frame, with gear complete
1 circular saw frame, with tank bench complete
1 slave discharger
50 extra saws for all the frames.
STOCK.
14 horses, 34 bullocks, timber carriages, waggon, and harness, complete, with the stores on hand. And also, the Lease of the BLUE GUM FLAT, with of 40 tons register, with her rigging, stores, and gear complete.
Confident that parties who may be inclined to possess such an establishment as the above, will purchase only after the Public Sale, the Proprietors invite the most searching scrutiny. They are also prepared to admit to intending purchasers, data compiled from the actual working of the above, by the owner of the establishment and its capabilities, and placing beyond all doubt the fact that, by judicious management it can be made to return a clear profit of several thousand pounds per annum.
There are now ready for the plough 8 acres, and a further portion of 15 to be cleared of the timber.
The Mill is capable, with the addition she now has of an extra boiler of 25 horse-power, of turning out 30,000 feet per week, in addition to the cutting of spars.
The foundation of the mill and machinery are of the best of stone and timber, and faithfully executed.
For the information of those who may be desirous of inspecting the property, it may be mentioned that steamer leaves the Pitmen Wharf, at 9 o'clock on Monday, December 15th, returning on the following Friday.
Terms, liberal.
MESSRS. W. DEAN and CO. have received instructions to sell by auction at the Australian Auction Mart, Pitt and O'Connell streets, at 11 o'clock, on WEDNESDAY, 7th January,
THE PLANT, STOCK, BUILDINGS, LEASE, MATERIALS, &c., of the Ormibah Steam Saw Mills, Brisbane Water, together with THE KETCH UNCLE TOM.
Particulars as above.

On account and at the risk of the former Purchasers.
Cedar.
Californian Flour, Maize, &c.
Ex Alexander and Wyndham.
Macquarie's Wharf, THURSDAY, 4th December.
MESSRS. W. DEAN and CO. will sell by auction, on the premises, Macquarie's Wharf, mill-street, on THURSDAY, 4th December, at half-past 3 o'clock,
Ex Alexander.
27 half bags Californian flour
120 bags Californian flour, 4lb.
174 ditto ditto ditto.
Ex Favorite.
150 bags Californian flour, 4lb.
200 bushels maize.
Terms at sale.

PRELIMINARY ANNOUNCEMENT.
PEREMPTORY SALE under power of mortgage.
Notice to Capitalists, Speculators, and others.
The Insolvent Estate of Harold B. Smith, by order of the Official Assignee, F. W. Perry, Esq.
DISTRICT of WELLINGTON,
The CUDGEGONG-RAILWAY STATION, and
The CULLENBURNGONG STATION.
DISTRICT of BLIGH,
The TURUNDEREE STATION,
The DLOMINGO STATION
The BECKERAGE STATION, and
The TOURAWAGUNDI STATION,
About 18,000 FINE-WOOLLED SHEEP.
300 HEAD of CATTLE
With HORSES, WORKING BULLOCKS, DRAYS, and all other requisites for carrying on the above very valuable and extensive stations.
Title unquestionable.
MESSRS. W. DEAN and CO. have received instructions from F. W. Perry, Esq., official assignee in the insolvent estate of Harold B. Smith and Co., to sell by auction, at the Australian Auction Mart, Pitt and O'Connell streets, Sydney, on WEDNESDAY, 7th January, 1857, at 12 o'clock,
The above very valuable stations, stock, &c., situated in the district of Wellington on the Macquarie, better known as Mr. GEORGE LANGLEY'S STATIONS.
Full particulars of which will duly appear.
Terms, liberal.

To Grocers, Provision Dealers, Storekeepers, and others.
Oilmen's Stores
Groceries
Wines
Provisions, &c., &c.
Auction Sale, THURSDAY, 4th December.
MESSRS. W. DEAN and CO. have received instructions to sell by auction, at the Australian Auction Mart, Pitt and O'Connell streets, on THURSDAY, 4th December, at 11 o'clock,
Carolina rice
Hyacinthin tea, in chests, half-chests, and quarters
Congou ditto, in chests and half-chests
Mixed pickles
West India ditto
Assorted sauces
Jams and jellies, 1 and 2 lb.
Raspberry vinegar
Spanish olives
White wine vinegar
Bottled fruits
Worcester sauce
Lemon, orange, and citron peel
Durham mustard
Salad oil
Caraway seed
Anchovy paste
Scotch oatly pipes
Yorkshire ham
Prime colonial pork
Colonial soap, first quality
Ditto mould candles
Lemon syrup
Tartaric acid
Also, 40 tons express waggons, ditto chaise, brooms, baskets, shovels, axes, and American ash oars from 12 to 20 feet long.
Terms at sale.

Five Cottages on the Forterville Estate, situated in Campbell-street, bounded by land formerly known as the Sheriff's Garden.
BOWDEN and THRELKELD are instructed to sell by auction, at the City Mart, on THURSDAY, 11th December,
Five houses, of various dimensions, attached as above, producing a nett rental of one hundred and fifty-one pounds per annum, payable by weekly instalments.
19 years to run—described as follows:—
Upon allotment No. 1 of section 7 is erected a four-roomed weatherboard cottage, slated and painted with zinc spouting; is let to a respectable tenant, at £26 per annum.
No. 2 of section 6 has erected upon it two cottages—one of three, and the other of two rooms—built of wood in good repair as above; and let at 10s. and 14s. per week respectively.
No 3 of section 8 has two cottages, the same as those last mentioned, and are also let at 10s. and 14s. per week respectively.
There is a good well of water on these allotments, and the buildings are in good tenantable conditions.
The ground rent is £15 per annum on each lot. Total, £75.
Terms:—Apply to the auctioneers; or to Thomas Ogley, agent, King and Elizabeth streets.
Three Two-storied Brick-built Houses in Crown-street, Surry Hills, near Black's Hotel, and numbered respectively 500, 502, and 504.
BOWDEN and THRELKELD have received instructions to sell by auction, at the City Mart, 211, George-street, on THURSDAY, the 4th December, at half-past 11 o'clock,
Three two-storied brick-built houses, situated as above, each containing five rooms, detached kitchen, good yard, &c., with verandah in front. The houses are substantially built of brick on stone foundations, and roofed with slates. There is a back entrance from Ann-street, also a good well of water for the use of the three houses. The buildings are of a superior nature and substantial character, and recently erected.
The houses are let to respectable tenants. Intending purchasers are invited to inspect the premises.
At the same time will be sold two allotments of land at the rear of the above, having each 35 feet frontage to Ann-street.
Plans on view at Mart.
Terms at sale.

A Handsome Verandah Cottage, containing six rooms, attic, detached kitchen, wash-house, coach-house, stable, and a large garden, with fruit trees bearing abundantly. Ample supply of good water in all seasons.
A large Building Allotment adjoining.
BOWDEN and THRELKELD are favoured with instructions to sell by auction, at the City Mart, 211, George-street, on THURSDAY, the 11th day of January, 1857, at 11 o'clock,
That handsome and commodious brick-built verandah cottage, at present occupied by Mr. McDonnell, at a rental of £130 per year, formerly the residence of Mr. S. Hebblewhite, situated in Underwood-street, having a frontage also to Caledonia-street, overlooking the harbour.
The house is fully built of brick on stone foundation, has verandahs back and front, with entrance to the rear, good yard, with side entrance to the outoffices, and garden with fruit trees, extending to next street.
Adjoining this property, on the east side, is an allotment of the same dimensions, now used as a paddock, which may go with the property at a fixed and low price, if the purchaser desires it. About 30 perches of quarried stone is on the ground.
The dwelling-house was erected by Mr. Seller, the builder, for his own use about five years since, and is now in excellent order.
Cards to view may be had from the Auctioneers.
Title, satisfactory.
Terms at sale.

The Cargo of the John Wesley.
50 Tons best Cocos Nut Oil, direct from the Feegees, to be delivered, at the option of the purchaser alongside any vessel in the Harbour.
The first lot to be offered at 11 o'clock prompt.
BOWDEN and THRELKELD have received instructions

SALES BY AUCTION.

Unreserved Clearing-out Sale.

MR. ANDREW ALLEN has received instructions to sell by auction, without the slightest reserve, on the premises adjoining the New Iron Church, Macquarie-street, in consequence of the proprietor removing, THIS DAY, the 3rd December, at 11 o'clock,

3 crates cups and saucers
12 breakfast
1 crate dishes
6 cases bottled fruit
1 crate vegetable ditto
4 cases pickles
Chests drawers
Set bedstead and palliasse
Bedding glass
Quantity of old rope
400 feet pine boards
4000 slates
1 cask lime juice
15 chests black and green tea
1 cask wine glasses
6 casks bottled ale, and other stores
Water cart and cask

The terms are cash, and the goods to be removed immediately after the sale.

General Merchandise, at late arrivals.

4 Cases Foot Paper
6 Reims Brown
4 ditto Printing Paper
1 ditto Drawing Paper, Whatman's
10 Reims Canvas, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4
6 Cases Iron Spring Bedsteads
2 ditto Transparent Blinds
3 ditto Pressblankets
3 ditto Worsted Cases and Sticks
3 ditto assorted Gilt Mouldings
6 ditto Paperhangings
47 Packages
To Stationers,
To Grocers,
To Ironmongers,
To Decorators,
And Dealers in Fancy Goods.

CHATTO and HUGHES have received instructions from the importers to sell by auction, at their Rooms, 245, George-street, on FRIDAY, the 5th inst., at 11 o'clock,

Best quality paper
Brown ditto
Printing ditto
Drawing ditto, Whatman's
Canvas, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4
Iron spring bedsteads
Transparent blinds
Pressblankets
Walking canes and sticks
Assorted gilt mouldings
Paperhangings and borders, &c., &c.

Terms at sale.

Seasoned Harness Horses.

BURT, HASSALL, and CO. are instructed to sell by auction, at the Bazaar, THIS DAY, Wednesday, at 11 o'clock,

10 useful harness horses, in good condition and excellent pullers in either lead or wheel, having been used running on one of the coach lines near Goulburn for some time past. As steady, useful staunch horses they are worthy of attention.

THIS DAY'S Horse Sale.

BURT, HASSALL, and CO. are instructed to sell by auction, THIS DAY, Wednesday, at 11 o'clock,

A splendid cart colt
10 harness horses, from a coaching line
Several town hacks
Heavy and light drought horses
Various horses.

Britzka and Harness.

BURT, HASSALL, and CO. are instructed to sell by auction, THIS DAY, Wednesday, at 11 o'clock,

A London-built britzka, in good order, and a nearly new set of silver-mounted carriage harness.

BURT, HASSALL, and CO., have received instructions to sell by auction, at the Cattle Market, on THURSDAY, 4th December, at 2 p.m.,

12 well-bred Cattle and Fillies, selected for the Port Phillip and New Zealand markets.

THIS DAY.

Superb Plated Ware, all sorts
3 Iron Safes, large size
Show Glass Cases.

DURKIS and LAMBERT have received instructions from Thomas McCulloch, Esq., agent for Mr. M. Birnstingl, to sell by auction, on the premises, Bridge-street, THIS DAY, at 11 o'clock, without reserve,

The whole of the splendid assortment of plated ware, of the best quality
1 very large show glass case,
1 very superior large show glass cases.

Terms at sale.

THIS DAY, 3rd December,

To Jewellers, Watchmakers, Dealers, and others.

The Extensive Stock-in-Trade of Gold Jewellery
Gold and Silver Watches
Silver Plate
Elegant Plateware
Plated Jewellery
Elegant Dish-covers
Ditto Plate
Musical Boxes
Superior Diamond Goods.

DURKIS and LAMBERT have been favoured with instructions from Thomas Pickford, Esq., attorney for Mr. Maurice Birnstingl, to sell by auction, on the premises, Bridge-street, THIS DAY, the 3rd December, at 11 o'clock,

The whole of the stock, as under:

GOLD GOODS.

Gold pens, Crosse's celestial make
Earrings, brooches, eye glass chains, studs
Sleevelings, waistcoat buttons
Musical gold earrings
Gold-mounted hair bracelets
Gold brooches, amethyst, topaz, emerald, cornelian, box and plain, turquoise, in memory of, coral, cameos, &c.
Gold bracelets with pearls, rubies, amethysts, plain gold, turquoises, and rubies
Gold neckties, gold scarf boxes
Right gold rings, gold carbuncle, onyx rings
Set and glass, cornelian, blood stone
Gold chain slides for hair
Half-marked keepers and wedding rings
Bottle rings, seals, watch hooks
Gold chains all patterns, albacta
Gold lockets, watch keys, clasps, snaps.

WATCHES.

Gold hunters and open face Geneivas
Gold leaping levers
Silver hunters and horizontal watches.

DIAMOND GOODS.

Rose diamond rings
Brilliant and ruby bracelet
Brilliant and sapphire ditto
Brooch, 6 diamonds and 10 rubies
Diamond and sapphire brooch necklet
Diamond pins
Diamond rings, single stone
Ditto ditto, 4 to 8 stones
Diamond and ruby rings
Sapphire and garnet rings

SILVER GOODS.

Scent bottles, card cases, thimbles
Cigar-holders, guards, snuffboxes
Eating cup, coffee pots, egg stands
Tea tea services, communion cups
Ditto tankettles, pencil cases
Ditto tea, dessert, and table spoons
Ditto salt and mustard spoons
Mustard pots, wine strainers, visnigrettes
Fancy spoons, forks, presentation mugs
Tally forks, and spoon, in cases
Sleevelin' whistles, buckles.

ELECTRO-PLATED WARE.

Cruets, all sizes
Paper stands
Coffeeballs, toast racks
Cake baskets, bottle stands
Salters and trays
Leading glasses.

SUNDRIES.

Silver mounted meerschaum pipes
Drawing easels, &c.
Desks—bracket and other kinds
Ladies' gentlemen's riding whips
Walking sticks
Wood brooches, charms
Parasols, canes and handles
Travelling toilette cases
Razor slips, goggles, hair pins
Ivory brushes, scent bottles
Paper weights, bronze ware in variety, and large assortment of fancy articles.

Terms, liberal, at sale.

Fancy goods can be seen by cards, obtainable at the Rooms.

WEDNESDAY, 3rd December.

In the Insolvent Estate of David Frith Aitchison, by order of F. W. Perry, Esq., Official Assignee.

Terms of sale of a Wharf adjoining the Phœnix Wharf, Sussex-street.

DURKIS and LAMBERT have received instructions from F. W. Perry, Esq., official assignee in the above estate, to sell by auction, at their Rooms, THIS DAY, the 3rd December, at 11 o'clock,

The Official Assignee's right, title, and interest of, in, and to the unexpired term of lease, seven and three-quarter years, from the 1st of April, 1852, at the rent reserved of £60, of a wharf and premises adjoining the Phœnix Wharf, Sussex street.

Terms, cash.

WEDNESDAY'S General Horse Sale.

MR. S. WOOLLER will sell by auction, at the Bull's Head Horse Repository, George-street, THIS DAY, at 11 o'clock,

30 very superior young horses, just arrived from Melbourne. They are all young and broken in to all kinds of harness and saddle. They will be subject to any fair trial the purchaser may wish before settlement of sale. Among them are a few very big horses suitable for the Port Phillip market. Any person wanting good horses for various purposes would do well to inspect this lot, as such an opportunity seldom occurs. Without reserve.

Black horses, with saddles and bridles, complete
Horse, gig, and harness
One light omnibus, 1 new four-spring gig, 2 new Whitechapel chaises cart, 1 stone, 1 spring-cart, 2 hackdrays, 3 iowa ditto, saddles, bridles, harness, &c., &c.

Terms at sale.

Sound Woolpacks
Damaged Woolpacks
Ditto Liverpool Salt.

FRITH and PAYTEN will sell, at the Sydney Auction Rooms, THIS DAY, the 3rd December, at 11 o'clock,

1 bale 10 lb. woolpacks, containing 50
50 woolpacks, loose
12 pieces woolbagging, damaged
A quantity of Liverpool salt ditto.

Terms, cash.

Choice Christmas Wine.
Martell's Old Dark Brandy
Martell's very fine Old Pale Brandy
Very fine Old W. I. Rum, 30 O.P.
Cobb's Margate Ale
Byass' Ale and Porter
Booth's and Jones' Old Tom, in white bottles
Tennant's Superior Old Cognac Brandy
Assorted Cordials, &c., &c.

Great Sale of the above Liquids.

Most important to Wine and Spirit Merchants, Hotel-keepers, and others.

Day of Sale, THURSDAY, 4th December, 1856.
Time, 11 o'clock precisely.

FRITH and PAYTEN are favoured with instructions from the importers to sell at the Sydney Auction Rooms, on the above day and time,

The following pipes of superior wines, &c., suitable for the present season, consisting of 10 pipes Hunt's single diamond port wine

40 quarter casks ditto ditto ditto
5 pipes ditto double diamond ditto
15 quarter casks ditto ditto ditto
5 pipes ditto treble diamond ditto
10 quarter casks ditto ditto ditto
5 pipes W. B. Lambert and Co. quadruple diamond ditto
10 hogsheads Duff, Gordon, and Co.'s very fine pale sherry
25 quarter-casks ditto ditto ditto
10 hogsheads very superior ditto
20 quarter-casks ditto ditto
200 cases choice old port, each 1 dozen
165 ditto ditto ditto, 2 dozen
167 ditto very superior pale sherry
217 ditto ditto champagne, each 1 dozen
165 ditto ditto sparkling hock, ditto
155 ditto ditto still hock, ditto
184 ditto ditto sauterne, ditto
95 ditto Copenhagen cherry cordial, ditto
200 ditto JDKE and key brand geneva
150 ditto Scotch No. 1 cordial gin, each 1 dozen
100 ditto ditto ditto ditto ditto, 2 dozen
189 ditto Lounder' old tom, 1 dozen
all in white bottles
90 hogsheads Martell's dark brandy
10 ditto ditto pale ditto
176 cases Renaut and Co.'s ditto, each 1 dozen
35 hogsheads fine old W. I. rum, 30 o. p.
35 ditto Margate ale
Just landed in splendid condition
100 Byass' ale and porter
75 casks Bass' pale ale, each 4 dozen
80 cases ditto ditto ditto
100 casks Bridge's stout
100 ditto Evans' ditto
50 ditto Morrell's ale and porter, pints
50 ditto Evans' ditto ditto.

Terms at sale.

Important Sale of Grocers', Drapers', and Stationers' Paper.

FRITH and PAYTEN will sell, by order of the Importers, at the Sydney Auction Rooms, 41, Pitt-street, THIS DAY, the 3rd December, at 11 o'clock,

Bales of 50 lbs. imperial brown paper
Ditto of 42 lbs. ditto ditto ditto
Cases royal ditto ditto
Ditto double double demy ditto
Ditto ditto ditto ditto
Ditto imperial bag cap
Ditto wrapping paper
Ditto blue wove and cream laid foolscap
Ditto ditto ditto post
Ditto ditto note.

Terms at sale.

Highly Important and Positive Unreserved Sale of Fine Teas, ex Macin, from Shanghai.

To Family Grocers, Tea Dealers, and others.

FRITH and PAYTEN are favoured with instructions from the importers, Messrs. Griffiths, Fanning, and Co., to sell, at the Sydney Auction Rooms, 41, Pitt-street, THIS DAY, the 3rd December, at 11 o'clock,

318 packages Tea teas, comprising—

D in diamond over WF,

No. 4—63 packages fine scented orange pekoe, each 4 boxes, weighing 21lbs. nett each
5—17 packages pain orange pekoe, each 4 boxes, weighing 13lbs. net each
6—71 packages imperial gunpowder tea, each 4 boxes, weighing 21lbs. nett each
7—18 packages imperial, each 4 boxes, weighing 21lbs. each
8—18 packages scented caper, each 4 boxes, weighing 21lbs. net each
9—72 packages finest hyson, each 4 boxes, weighing 21lbs. nett each
12—39 packages Oolong congou, each 4 boxes, weighing 20lbs. nett each.

Important to Tea Dealers, Grocers, and others.

Unreserved Sale of General Merchandise.

FRITH and PAYTEN are instructed by the importers to sell at the Sydney Auction Rooms, 41, Pitt-street, THIS DAY, the 3rd December, at 11 o'clock,

Ex latest arrivals,

Pice congou tea, in sheets and half-chests
Superior gunpowder ditto, ditto ditto
Mauritius sugar
Pampanga ditto
Yaal ditto
Zebo ditto
Manila coffee
Ditto arrowroot
Palm oil
Palm rice
Ground mixed spice
Raisins, in boxes and barrels
Currants, in barrels and carrotoels
Essence lemon
Tartaric acid, in jars
Cream tartar, ditto and bags
Carbonate soda
Cocoaine sublimate
Sulphuric acid
Burnishing gold
Prime York hams
French prunes, in bottles
Scimlin chocolate
Swinbourne and Nelson's gelatine
Scotch oatmeal, in bags
China preserves, assorted.

GILMENE'S STORES, &c.

Batty's, Hill and Lodge's, Crosse and Blackwell's, Pearl's, and Wrybrow's salad oil, in quarts, pints, and half-pints
Colman's starch, blue, and mustard
Hill and Lodger's assorted sauces
Ditto sauce in 4 and 8 ounce bottles
Moir's red herrings, in 2 dozen tins
Volckman's and Hill and Lodger's 1 and 2-lb. jams
Hogarth's marmalade
Pearl's and Wrybrow's pickles
Ditto ditto bottled fruits
Wax vestas and T. S. matches
Day and Martin's blacking
Colonial soap
Ditto candles
Sardines, in ¼ and ½ tins
Prime cross beef
Double Gloucester and North Wilts cheese
Champion's vinegar
Carraway seeds.

Terms at sale.

Important to Grocers and others.

Damaged Mauritius Sugar.

At Smith's Wharf, Miller's Point,

Day of Sale, THIS DAY, 3rd December, 1856.

Time, half-past 10 o'clock.

For the benefit of the concerned.

Ex Bomboy, from Bourbon.

FRITH and PAYTEN will sell by auction, at the above place, date, and time,

BA over Dubois—
14 bags counter sugar, slightly damaged
Over No. 3—
93 ditto raisin ditto, ditto
CO over No. 1—
291 ditto bright necessier ditto
41 ditto bright yellow ditto, ditto

Total 436 bags.

Terms, cash.

Important Sale of Mauritius Sugar.

At Smith's Wharf, Miller's Point.

THIS DAY, 3rd December, at half-past 10 o'clock.

To Grocers, Country Storekeepers, and others.

FRITH and PAYTEN are instructed by the importers to sell by auction, at the above place, date, and time, 279 bags Mauritius raisin sugar.

Terms at sale.

Cobb's Margate Ale.

Most important to Wine and Spirit Merchants, Hotel-keepers, Publicans, and others.

FRITH and PAYTEN are favoured with instructions from the importers to sell, at the Sydney Auction Rooms, on THURSDAY, the 4th December, at 11 o'clock precisely,

50 hogsheads, a fresh shipment of Cobb's Margate ale, just landed ex Vimeira.

Terms at sale.

Sundry Goods.

Toys, Stationery, Tambridge Ware, Musical Instruments, Oil and Water Colour Paintings, Engravings, Cowran's Patent Stoves, China Vases, &c., &c.

FRITH and PAYTEN are instructed by the importers to sell by auction, without reserve, on FRIDAY, 5th instant, at 11 o'clock,

A large, valuable, and well selected lot of the above goods, which will be sold without reserve.

Full particulars in to-morrow's issue.

Surplus Stores.

Ex ship Winifred, from Liverpool.

At Towns and Co.'s Wharf, FRIDAY, 5th December, 1856.

FRITH and PAYTEN will sell by auction, at the above place, date, and time, the whole of the surplus stores, at the above vessel, consisting of

Flour, in barrels
Oatmeal, in ditto
Split-peas, in ditto
Preserved potatoes, in ditto
Rice, in bags
Beans, in ditto
Tea, in chests
Coffee, in bags
Suet, in casks
Cooking separators
Baking oven
Sundry sailmakers' fittings.

Terms, cash.

BOOTS and SHOES.

Boots and Shoes.

54 Packages, as Light of the Age.

Consisting principally of Lofties' and Gilbert's Goods.

FRITH and PAYTEN will sell by auction, at the Sydney Auction Rooms, on THURSDAY, the 4th December, at 11 o'clock,

The above shipment of choice and seasonable goods, consisting of

Women's calf boots, elastic sides, braided
Ditto ditto ditto to lace
Girls' ditto ditto ditto, 10-2
Ladies' black and coloured boots, to lace, patent fronts (very fashionable)
Ditto cachemere boots, elastic sides, to lace
Ditto cachemere ankle jacks
Ditto kip top ditto, patent fronts
Girls' and children's cachmere boots, elastic sides, 10-13
Ditto ditto ditto to lace and button, ditto.
Girls' cachemere boots, elastic sides, 10-13
Ditto and children's best patent calf shoes
Ditto ditto ditto straps, 9-2, 10-13
Girls' cachemere boots, walls top, pieces heels, 6-9, 10-13
Ditto grown ditto ditto
Ladies carpet, roan, and venetian slippers
Gents' carpet, half, and black and coloured roan ditto
Ditto best patent calf welting boots
Ditto ditto enamelled ditto ditto
Ditto ditto light calf ditto ditto, bevels
Ditto ditto short ditto ditto ditto, braided
Ditto ditto patent princes boots
Ditto light calf ditto
Ditto short ditto ditto, braided
Ditto best patent calf boots, elastic sides
Ditto ditto light ditto ditto, ditto ditto
Ditto ditto patent boots, calf polished, elastic sides
Ditto ditto kid top ditto, patent calf polished, elastic sides
Ditto balmoral boots, calf polished
Ditto shooting ditto, brass braided
Men's best patent calf, high braided
Ditto light calf cossacks, high backs
Ditto ditto ditto ditto, brass braided
Ditto ditto kip ditto, braided and rough braided
Boys' light calf cossacks, 10-4
Ditto stout kip ditto ditto ditto, &c., &c.

Terms at sale.

Highly Important Sale

To Parlor Furnishing, Cabinet Makers, Private Families, Hotel-keepers, and others.

Mahogany and Rosewood Suites
Collard and Collard's Pianofortes
Sofa, Cheval, Loo, and Dining Tables
Articles of Vertu, Vases
Hanging bookcase-glasses
Pictures and Engravings.

COHEN and HARBOTTLE will sell, at the Bank Auction Rooms, on TUESDAY, December 9th, 1856, at half-past 10 o'clock precisely,

Mahogany suites, covered in leather
Rosewood ditto ditto, ditto in damask
Mahogany chiffoniers
Ditto work tables
Ditto sofa table
Ditto oval dining tables
Ditto sofas, covered in wool damask
Ditto oval tables
Ditto half-seated sofas
Handsome Spanish mahogany chest of drawers
Ditto ditto ditto dining tables
Imitation rosewood sofas, covered in blue damask
Mahogany cabinets, on legs, over-mantels, and shelves
Mahogany chests drawers, variously fitted up
Ditto washstands
Ditto dressing tables
Davenports, ladies' work-tables
Collard and Collard's grand pianofortes—rosewood—and other walnut models
Engravings, in superior handsome maple and gold frames, and superior subjects
Handsome gilt chimney glasses
Mahogany dressing glasses
Elegant plated ware
Bohl candlesticks and ornaments
Elegant vases
Splendid assortment French clock and gold paperhangings, and a great variety of other articles.

☞ The furniture will be on view two days prior to the day of sale.

Terms, cash.

☞ Positive Sale of Men's Twilled Shirts
Ditto Woollen Cord Trousers
Ditto Blue Serge Shirts.

On account of those concerned.

Ex Light of the Age, Williams, master, from London.

To Drapers, Storekeepers, Shippers, and others.

COHEN and HARBOTTLE will sell by auction, at the Bank Auction Rooms, on THURSDAY, 4th December, 1856, at 11 o'clock precisely,

The undermentioned goods, marked and numbered as follows:

CH & Co.

No. 1— 25 dozen boys' and youths' Scotch twill regatta shirts, No. 1
2— 25 dozen ditto ditto ditto
3— 25 dozen ditto ditto ditto
4— 25 dozen ditto ditto ditto
5— 25 dozen ditto ditto ditto
6—150 men's stout woollen cord trousers
7— 25 dozen men's L. B. W. B. stout A. W. blue serge shirts, No. 2

Terms, cash.

Workboxes, Dressing-cases.

RISHWORTH and CO. will sell by public auction, at their Rooms, No. 218, George-street, on THURSDAY, 4th December, at 11 o'clock,

Two cases workboxes, dressing cases, writing desks, &c., assorted, in every variety.

Terms, cash—no reserve.

Fagler Mantle Ware, Jewellery, Plated Goods, Immunes.

Watches, Clocks, Musical Boxes, &c.

RISHWORTH and CO. will sell by public auction, at their Rooms, No. 218, George-street, on THURSDAY, 4th December, at 11 o'clock,

A large assortment of the above goods.

Terms, cash.

Damaged Mates.

On account of the Shipper.

RISHWORTH and CO. will sell by public auction, at their Rooms, No. 218, George-street, on THURSDAY, 4th December, at 11 o'clock, 160 bags mates, more or less damaged.

Terms, cash.

Watches, Watchmakers' Materials, Musical Boxes, &c.

RISHWORTH and CO. have received instructions to sell by public auction at their Rooms, No. 218, George-street, on THURSDAY, 4th December, at 11 o'clock,

An invoice of watches, watchmakers' materials, musical Boxes, &c., consisting of Silver open face verge watches

Ditto, ditto, lever ditto
Ditto hunting ditto
Watchmakers' lathes, watchmakers' oil
English and Geneva verge and lever main springs
Ditto gold and steel hands
Ditto ditto, second and minute ditto
Centre pinions, X and VIII
Watch keys, &c.

Also a large assortment of musical boxes, 4, 6, and 8 tunes.

Terms, cash.

MARTYN and SCHRODER'S Horse and Carriage Bazaar, 131, Pitt-street—Regular Sale Days, Tuesdays and Fridays: General Sale Day for carriages, gigs, &c., the first Monday in each month. All parties sending Horses or other Stock, Carriages, &c., are particularly requested to forward written instructions previous to sale, stating brands, age, qualifications, &c., and amount of reserve, or otherwise a sale will be effected to the highest bidder.

No Grocers and others.

On account of the former Purchasers.

MR. FREDERICK SMITH will sell by auction, THIS DAY, at his Rooms, No. 220, George-street, at 12 o'clock,

2 casks pearl barley
3 tons raw coffee, in 56 lb. bags.

Terms, cash.

To Furniture Dealers, Furnish Furnishing, and others.

MR. FREDERICK SMITH will sell by auction, THIS DAY, at 12 o'clock punctually,

Ten tables
1 easy chair, in green morocco
Iron bedsteads, bedding, mattresses, palliasses, pictures, &c., &c.

Terms, cash.

To Painters, Paperhangers, &c.

MR. FREDERICK SMITH will sell by auction, THIS DAY, December 3rd, at 11 o'clock, at his Rooms, 220, George-street,

Thirteen dozen—1 case paper hangings, viz.,
200 rolls satin paper
122 ditto ditto damask
115 ditto ditto French
111 ditto ditto ditto
303 ditto bordering
13 hogsheads boiled oil
1 ditto raw ditto.

Terms at sale.

On account of whom it may concern.

Ex Bhimbersbrugh, Hopes, master, from London.

Damaged by Sea Water.

Specification of ASSG, 1—13 pieces and 2 cases, consisting, as per Thomas Sheeks and Co.'s invoice, of an 16 inch strong double geared Side Lathe, bed 24 feet long, steel with gap to widen to 4 feet by a screw, 3 frames for bed, 5 feet pieces or chuck and 3 feet ditto, compound slide rest for turning cones, travelling headstay, top motion with 3 sets of driving pulleys, cone, shaft and bloque complete, with all screw-keys and working nuts hardened, with extra slide frames and screws for bed.

To be delivered at the Company's Works, Pyrmont, where the whole can be inspected prior to the sale.

MURIEL and MILLER will sell by public auction, at their Rooms, No. 232, George-street, THIS DAY Wednesday, the 3rd December, at 11 o'clock precisely,

The above, more or less damaged by sea water.

Terms, cash.

General Merchandise.

Suitable for all classes of Buyers.

90 packages just landed.

MURIEL and MILLER have received instructions from the importers to sell by public auction, at their Rooms, No. 232, George-street, THIS DAY, (Wednesday), the 3rd December, at 11 o'clock precisely,

D in diamond over S, 1 2-95—90 packages, comprising

Wine, cordials, grapes, double iron, sugars
Adams, halebels, hammers (a first-class assortment, from James, Cam, and Marsh, Brothers)
Fancy cane chairs, brown windsor, honey soap
German silver thimbles, electro-gilt mounted perambulators, silver thimbles
Plaqué goods, British plated table, dessert, tea, salt, and gravy spoons
Table, dessert, and pickle forks
Toddy ladles
First-class musical boxes
Marcellas, cadenas ditto
Piano, with double comb, and a variety of sundries too numerous to advertise.

Terms at sale.

Ellington's First-class Plateware.

For Unreserved Sale.

N.B. Positively THIS DAY, the 3rd December.

MURIEL and MILLER have received instructions from Mr. Crane, agent for Mr. Middleton, to sell by public auction, at their Rooms, No. 232, George-street, THIS DAY, (Wednesday), the 3rd December, at 11 o'clock precisely,

A beautiful assortment of Ellington's plateware, consisting of

Table forks, dessert forks
Gravy spoons, dessert spoons
Salt spoons, egg spoons, sugar tongs
Tea spoons, table spoons, table forks
Cruby spoons, snuffers, and trays
Egg frames, toast racks
Bonifers, &c., &c.

Terms, cash.

900 Gross Wax Vestas.

MURIEL and MILLER will sell by public auction, at their Rooms, No. 232, George-street, THIS DAY, Wednesday, at 11 o'clock precisely,

900 gross wax vestas.

Terms cash.

The first Sale of Books at the New Rooms, No. 232, George-street.

5000 Volumes of Choice Works.

To Booksellers and the Reading Community generally.

MURIEL and MILLER have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, 232, George-street, on FRIDAY, 5th December at 11 o'clock,

Vi in diamond 1 to 15—Fifteen cases of books

☞ A few are only enumerated

Gemming's works, Beattie's Scotland, Halfa Ireland, Jay's Morning and Evening Exercises, Pilgrim Fathers Josephus, Fletcher's Devotions, Canadian Scenery Scenery of Australia, Bogue's Memoirs, Sharp's Magazines, Gibbon's works, Vernon Gallery Ireland illustrated, Scotland illustrated Bentley's Standard Novels, 53 sets
Ditto ditto 56 sets, including all Marryat's, Maxwell, Lover, and Lever's works
Natural History, sets of Punch, sets of the Herald
Naturalist's Library, Scott's works, Byron's works
Shakespeare, Moore's works, Cuyler's works
Masters Poetry, Lever's works, Life of Napoleon
Lathes, Webster's Dictionary, Encyclopædias
Classical works, Magazines of Art, Longfellow's poems
English and Negro melodies, Standard Novels
Dickens' works, Atlasses, Blackbury
Engineering and Works of Science, Medical works, &c.

☞ Not one little part of the books are enumerated. No catalogues will be issued, but inspection is particularly requested prior to the sale in the show rooms of the auctioneers.

Terms, cash.

Well worthy special attention.

A Superb Set of Clocks, Ormolu and Mat Gold.

Direct from Messrs. Raven, Bloomberg, and Co.

☞ Quality Warranted.

MURIEL and MILLER will sell by public auction, at their Rooms, No. 232, George-street, on MONDAY, the 8th instant, at 11 o'clock,

One case of the most elegant clocks ever seen in New South Wales.

HA

5107 4 1 clock, ormolu and mat gold, with shade and stand—Schwegl
1 ditto, ditto, ditto—Condé
1 ditto, ditto, ditto—Rudolph
1 ditto, ditto, ditto—Genii of the Chase
1 ditto, ditto, ditto—Grape Gatherers
1 ditto, ditto—Fawn with Chara
1 ditto, ditto, ditto—Painter of Louis 15th
1 ditto, ditto, ditto—Astronomy.

Terms, cash.

Elegant Substantial Cabinet Ware.

From the justly celebrated House of Messrs. Raven, Bloomberg, and Co.

☞ Unquestionably the best lot of Cabinet Ware for many years seen in Sydney or offered for public sale.

MURIEL and MILLER have received instructions from the importers to sell by public auction, at their Rooms, 232, George-street, on MONDAY, the 8th instant, at 11 o'clock precisely,

Ha in diamond,

4 1104—One case, containing 10, 11, and
1 ditto, ditto—Wardrobe, Sacts and Stone, dn.
4 1111—One ditto, same contents as No. 110
4 1114—One ditto, same contents as No. 111
4 1112—One ditto, same contents as No. 112.

☞ Buyers of really choice and substantial fancy cabinet ware are particularly requested to attend the sale.

Terms, cash.

ILLAWARRA DISTRICT.

Valuable Agricultural Farm, containing 95 Acres 1 Rood, adjoining the Village of BELLAMY, and about Four Miles from WOLLONGONG.

Terms.—A portion of the Purchase Money only remain secured on the land for about 4½ years, at 6 per cent.

MORT and CO. have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, at 11 o'clock, on WEDNESDAY, 17th December,

AVALUABLE AGRICULTURAL FARM, containing 95-acres 1 rood, adjoining the VILLAGE of BELLAMY, and about FOUR MILES from WOLLONGONG, being lots 22, 24, and 23, of the original subdivision of the Bellamy estate.

☞ This property is surrounded by the farms of Messrs. Davidson, Dempsey, Marsden, and McConnel. It is in the centre of a district famous for its fertility, and close to water carriage. The land is abundantly watered and well timbered.

A plan on view at the Rooms.

SHARES.

UNION BANK OF AUSTRALIA.

£25 paid up.

MORT and CO. have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, at 11 o'clock, THIS DAY, 3rd December,

50 shares in the UNION BANK of AUSTRALIA, £25 paid up (colonial register).

Terms at sale.

TOWN OF BROADWOOD.

TWO VALUABLE ALLOTMENTS.

TITLE, Grant from the Crown.

MORT and CO. have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, at 11 o'clock on MONDAY, 8th December,

All those two valuable allotments of land, containing each one rood thirty-eight perches, situate in the town of Braidwood, being lots Nos. 3 and 4 of section 7, as per Government plan.

☞ The above are in a very good position close to the Police Barrack, the Court-house, and Government reserves. It is necessary to call attention to the value of allotments in this important town, the second in importance in the Southern districts.

A plan at the Rooms.

Terms at sale.

Without reserve.

To Mechanics, Labourers, &c.

FOUR BRICK COTTAGES in CHARLES-STREET, PARRAMATTA-STREET.

MORT and CO. have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, at 11 o'clock, on MONDAY, 8th December,

FOUR CAPITAL TWO-STORY BRICK HOUSES, being lots 9, 10, 12, and 14, CHARLES-STREET, PARRAMATTA-STREET, erected on a block of land having a frontage of about 51 feet 9 inches to the Parramatta-street.

Nos. 8 and 10 each contain four rooms, plastered, well-finished, and of commodious size.

No. 8 has a good house, containing four rooms, all well-finished in plaster, and two of them papered.

No. 10 is a very good house, adjoining a spacious gateway on the ground-floor, and containing a wine in the first story, containing three good rooms, plastered and papered.

WATER is laid on for the use of all the premises.

☞ The present proprietor of this block of property has lately expended a considerable sum in making the houses in a thorough state of repair, and intending purchasers are invited to inspect them prior to the day of sale. The neighborhood is now called the heart of the city, renders this sale of these houses worthy the attention of parties wishing to secure a good city investment.

Plan of view at the Rooms.

Terms at sale.

FIRST-CLASS CITY PROPERTIES.

To Capitalists, the Mercantile Community, and others seeking City Investments.

THE LARGEST AND MOST VALUABLE BLOCK that has ever been offered to the public at the CORNER OF HUNTER AND CASTLEREAGH STREETS.

Extending from the mercantile establishment of Messrs. Flower, Salting, and Co., in Hunter-street, to the property of Mr. Bell, in Castlereagh-street, and containing an area of UPWARDS OF 9 OF AN ACRE, within which are comprised the following premises:—

The extensive Livery Stables, Bazaar, Livery Stables, and Ferritery Establishment of Mr. Bowler.

Three commodious 3-storied Stores and Premises in the occupation of Messrs. C. H. Robinson and Co.

The range of 3-storied Stores occupied by Messrs. J. J. and N. Cohen, and others.

The large and commodious Dwelling-house and premises in the occupation of Mr. Randolph.

TITLE—Unquestionable. For full particulars, apply to Messrs. Norton, Sen, and Barker, solicitors, Elizabeth-street; or to Messrs. Thurlow, Dick, and Brown, solicitors, Pitt-street.

Terms at sale.

MORT and CO. have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, at 11 o'clock, on FRIDAY, 9th January,

The whole of that extensive and valuable block of property, situate at the CORNER of HUNTER and CASTLEREAGH STREETS, CITY OF SYDNEY,

LOT 1.—THAT COMMODIOUS VERANDAH HOUSE and premises in Hunter-street, adjoining the establishment of Messrs. Flower, Salting, and Co. It contains 4 spacious rooms, basket laundry, kitchen, and large cellar, with coach-house, stables, &c., at the rear; water laid on. These premises have 43 FEET 3 INCHES FRONTAGE to HUNTER STREET, by 89 FEET in DEPTH.

The following is the size of the rooms—

THE BASEMENT.

	feet	inches	feet	inches
Kitchen	16	0	14	6
Laundry	16	6	13	6
Cellar	15	0	14	6

A large lobby from which leads a staircase to the ground floor entrance hall, 5 feet 7 inches wide, which opens out on a verandah, 48 feet long x 7 feet wide; on this floor is the

	feet	inches	feet	inches.
Drawing-room	18	6	15	10
Dining-room	17	0	15	10
Bedroom	15	10	15	6

From the hall you ascend to a lobby on the First Floor, which contains

	feet	inches	feet	inches.
A bedroom	17	6	16	0
Ditto	17	0	16	1
Ditto	15	8	12	11

Above which is the attic story, containing two very large bedrooms, one of which is 29 feet 6 inches long by 14 feet 8 inches wide, the other 32 feet 4 inches long by 14 feet 10 inches.

There are several cupboards. &c.

☞ Lot 1 has a right of entrance in common with lots 2 and 3 to the large yard secured with gates.

THE STORES.

LOT 2.—The stores and offices of J. J. and N. Clarke, standing upon a superficial area of 2400 square feet, and having a frontage of 40 feet to Hunter-street by an average depth of 100 feet; consisting of three floors. The lofty story is subdivided into offices, containing three rooms—the first of 14 feet 6 inches x 12, and one of 12 feet x 11 feet 6 inches, besides three store-rooms separated by partly walls. This lot commands a frontage of 95 feet 6 inches in a good long line, from Hunter-street to Hunter-street.

☞ This lot has the right of entrance in common with lots 1 and 3 to the large yard, secured with gates.

LOT 3.—The three-storied stores and offices occupied by C. N. Robinson and Co., standing upon a superficial area of 1795 square feet, to which lot is attached a convenient steel yard, coach-house and stable. It has a frontage of 40 feet to Castlereagh-street, and 55 feet to a reserved lane leading into Hunter-street. And has a right of entrance in common with lots 1 and 2 to the yard well secured with gates.

☞ In fact this store will have nearly all frontages.

THE BUILDING ELEMENTS, which consist of—

LOT 4—With a frontage of 30 feet to Hunter-street by a depth of 72 feet to a reserved lane leading from Robert-street to Hunter-street, with the privileges of building over it.

LOT 5—One of the most valuable corner allotments in the whole city, with a frontage of 34 feet to Castlereagh-street, 57 feet 3 inches frontage to Hunter-street, and 30 feet 6 inches.

Lots 6 and 7 have frontages, each of 20 feet, to Castlereagh-street, by an average depth of 72 feet.

☞ Lot 7 is a corner allotment, with a frontage of 71½ feet to Robert-street.

LOTS 8 and 9 adjoin Mrs. Mere's property in Castlereagh-street, both having frontages thereto of 20 feet by a depth of 72 feet.

☞ Lot 8 is also a corner allotment, with a frontage of 72 feet to Robert-street.

LOTS 16 to 17 have each a frontage of 19 feet 6 inches to Robert-street, by a depth of 40 feet.

LOTS 18 to 20 have each frontages of 13 feet to Robert-street, by depths of 40 feet.

☞ Lot 20 being also a frontage to the reserved lane leading from Robert-street to Hunter-street, will have the privilege of building over it.

☞ The extent, shape, and position of this magnificent city property it might be considered only necessary to announce the sale to secure an active and spirited competition, but it is considered necessary to call the attention of purchasers and capitalists to the sister colonies, that and to deem it desirable to note a few of its many claims to notice.

In the first place, as to extent. It comprises, as a whole, a block of upwards of NINE-QUARTERS OF AN ACRE in the CENTRE OF THE CITY, and after EXCLUDING LOTS 1 to 3, upon which are erected the buildings occupied by Messrs. THE REMAINING LOTS comprise a building FRONTAGE OF UPWARDS OF 400 FEET, which may be at once made available.

These latter lots are the building allotments, and comprise the land now occupied by Mr. Bowler's horse bazaar, livery stables, and ferritery establishment.

IN POINT OF POSITION, it is only necessary to say that this property is in the immediate vicinity of our LEADING MERCANTILE, BANKING, and PUBLIC ESTABLISHMENTS, among which may be mentioned those of Messrs. S. A. Donaldson and Co., Messrs. Flower, Salting, and Co.—both of which adjoin the property; the Union Bank, the site of the New PUBLIC NOTES AND REFLECTIONS.

By Solomon Pitscombe.

I AM to attempt to speak of the Literature of Australia. No doubt many people will be vastly amused at such an attempt, but without the attempt we shall never have the reality, and if any one be amused I am well repaid.

With very few exceptions—in fact with so few we may almost say none—the Literature of Australia has been altogether periodical, completely daily or weekly. It is somewhat wonderful to notice how one country begins with that with which another culminates. England commenced her career of letters with her Saxon chroniclers—her barbarous verse and still more barbarous prose. On went the tide of genius—from Piers, the ploughman, to Chaucer, from Chaucer to Spenser and Shakspere, from Shakspere to Milton, from him to Dryden and Pope, from those to Cowper and Burns, thence to Coleridge and Byron, and thence—where? To the continued and Niagara-like flood of writing which appears daily, weekly, monthly, and three-monthly—and which, more than even in the days of Pope, exemplifies "the mob of gentlemen who write with ease." This is emphatically the age of fine writing, but not of great writers. With very slight exceptions there is no living water moving through the mighty stagnant sea of literature; and through such an ocean the small frail skiff of Australia is beginning to paddle.

Most nations, in their first efforts at what may be called deeds of language, have used verse, or at least metrical composition. The excitement occasioned by the glory of the warrior naturally broke into impassioned song; and the "dim religious light" of evening through grove and glade swelled the spirit of the worshipper into the cadence of the anthem. So it was with England; not so with America; and in a still greater degree, not so with Australia. Both the latter countries were created like Adam—full-grown—and speaking at once the language of his Maker. But many years of weary struggle had to elapse ere either could find a poet—that mirror on which the eye of reflection does to see the future. The infancy of Australia has been even less conducive to the growth of high mental faculty among her sons, than that of her elder sister America. Her first days, spent among scenes of guilt, woe, and tyranny, have nothing in them to animate like the old chivalrous legends of the Pilgrim Fathers, who, landing a self-exiled band on Plymouth rock, with a Bible in one hand and a sword in the other, fought their way through Narragansett, Natchez, and Delaware, till not the proudest bagsmoke dare lift his finger against their children. Although wanting such incentives to imagination or narrative, Australia has now reached an epoch in her existence which opens a grand field to the writer of one class—I mean the historian.

Although my opinion must go for very little, yet I hold—that no real Australian literary work can be produced, without it be a history. No doubt such an opinion will meet with decided objection from those who consider that poets ever must be the heralds of literature. In this case I think differently; for however many lays we may sing, or however sweetly they may sing; still, the sweeter they do sing, the more likely are they to be enrolled by England in her long lists of fame, claimed in fact as a portion of that empire on which the sun never sets. The Longfellows for example he was born in America and lives there, yet although his family may have been there a hundred years, one half of him is English; in short, we are always struck with the doubt, as to whether Longfellow be not more really English than Tennyson. Let the Australian stand calmly and lucidly the fortunes of a people among whom he may have been born or at least lived long; with whom he has trafficked, enjoyed, hoped and suffered, with whose institutions and laws he is conversant, whose commerce and cities he has seen advance and spread, and whose whole life he has watched and studied as a father would a beloved son,—such a man, sitting down to his labour of love, reviews all circumstances, details, and events, arranges them as gold and precious stones in a casket; then, when polished by truth and dispassionate skill, he delivers them to the world, and stands out the exponent, defender—judge, yet servant, of his native or adopted land; he is a man whose work or merits no other country can ever pretend to claim.

The Times,—or perhaps we should say time because—seems to offer one of those admirable divisions in the growth of a land which are such excellent starting and halting places for the historian. From the discovery of the continent of Australia to the inauguration of Responsible Government, the writer would have a distinct plan on which to go, and find with comparative little trouble much authentic information, which condensed into a space of seventy years might be made to furnish a vast amount of amusing and instructive truth, as well as a complete mass of reference for the politician or the student. The rise and progress of the several colonies, and the feelings shown, and the effects produced one upon the other from jealousy, emulation, difference of commerce, &c., are admirable subjects for the deep thinker. The question of transportation, its attendant evils, and a parallel drawn and carried out between those who have been exempt, and those who have suffered from it, is another theme worthy of any mind. The discovery of gold, and the mighty convulsions occasioned thereby, the effect of such heavings upon the deep thinker. The European war, together with the permanent introduction of steam by land and sea, are also included in this period. Such then is the very thin outline of a great national work, but where shall we find the workman? To whom can we say "thou the man"?

The subject, if properly and fully handled, is worthy and equal to any intellect; but I am afraid it will cost a search ere we find a historian equal to the subject. A man of the world, yet a deep and comprehensive student he must be, so as to illustrate the draw from his knowledge of all time and events. Not a professed politician—yet one thoroughly versed in the annals of politics, as a gentleman may be supremely skilled in the small-sword or boxing gloves, without being a fencing or a boxing master. Such, however smooth-tongued, who are the antipodes in a certain sense of historians, may generally fight their way through the shoals and tempests of life, and perhaps be all the better singers therefrom, it is not so with the historian. For although the poet taking advantage of his real poverty or imaginary misery, makes it musical enough time at a single effort, and thereby crowns his fame; the simple narrator writing entirely of others, and never of himself, of subjects towards which he has to bend his mind, and withhold his heart, must live in ease and in full enjoyment of independence. I will go even so far as to say, that he who would write a great history must first pass his fortieth year, so that the passions and turmoil of youth may have time to settle into a calm lake, in whose glass he may see life reflected without agitation. Oh! it is an extreme comedy to behold a partisan or a bigot attempt to write a history; how he fumes and he blusters; how he rows against the current he would fain go with rightly go with it, how he runs upon a rock where he awears no rock had any business to be; and lastly—out of breath and exhausted—like one of those theatrical grandfathers, so admirably poortrayed by Messrs. Lambert and Rogers, who, savage from the effects of gout and wilful daughters, suddenly finish off with "Ah! take her my dear boy—bless you—take her—bless you;" or some old Historian gives us at the end his blessing; as if his annal were anything else but curses.

The political, social, and commercial history of Australia, from the discovery of the land till now, will indeed be a magnum opus; and no one who is a slave to a party or sect need attempt the labour,—nor must he think of business or a pour man; but possess the means and the will to write systematically—without being obliged to write for bread; to write imaginatively—without being inflamed by the desire to come into contact with the novelists or poets of his day; to write impartially—without being compelled to put a black mark against the names of all who oppose his crotchets; and to write commercially—without having his mind and opinions narrowed by any particular profession or line of business. If any one amongst us feels himself competent to forward such a work, I would spend the next ten years on such a work as I have mentioned, and if, turning aside from the stormy and crooked paths of the Present, he directs his attention to the beaten road of the Past, and the dim avenues of the Future, he will find himself after his long toil and anxiety to be held as the real apostle of Australian Literature.

MERCANTILE AND MONEY ARTICLE.

Tuesday Evening.

Messrs. Bowmer and Tubswelkell sold a quantity of Ironmongery at fair prices.

We have lately transferred to our columns two important articles from the Economist on the Law of Partnership, a subject which, from recent changes effected by the passing of the Limited Liability Bill, has commanded considerable attention in commercial circles. The most recent publication on this topic is an exposition of the Joint Stock Companies Act of 1856, by Mr. Charles Wordsworth, of the English Bar, and who is already favourably known to the public by his admirable treatise on the previous Act, and on Limited Liability. We find, from his very remarks, that gentleman gives the following clear and concise summary of the law as it now stands:—

General Joint-Stock Companies will be established under the Act of William IV., and the 1st of Victoria, chap. 73.

Companies may be formed by the Crown at common law, or under the 7th of William IV., and the 1st of Victoria, chap. 73.

Banking companies may be established under the 7th and 8th of Victoria, chap. 113, by deed of settlement and letters patent.

Insurance companies may be formed under the 7th and 8th of Victoria, chap. 110, by water charter.

Trading joint-stock companies, if composed of seven or more subscribers, must be established under new statutes, the "Joint-Stock Companies Act, 1856."

Joint-stock companies, if composed of seven or more associates, may avail themselves of the statutes, and become incorporated for the commercial purposes, and not for the purposes, as for the establishment of a literary and scientific institution. So, likewise, a trading company may, when the number of proposed partners is seven, and not more than 20.

In all these cases, whether the capital is £5,000 or £5,000,000, the company being incorporated, there is no liability on the part of shareholders to creditors, or to contribute to the payment of corporate debts, if any, except in the event of the company being wound up, as hereinafter mentioned.

Parties engaged in promoting a company are left unfettered by any "articles of association," or "deed of settlement," or "memorandum of association," to issue advertisements and prospectuses, appoint commissioners to receive subscriptions, receive deposits, make calls, issue and take deposits, enter into contracts, &c. No returns need be sent to, nor any registration made with, the registrar of joint-stock companies, except in the instance on the amount of capital, or of the shares, and there is no issue of a prospectus of the sale of shares, so there is with respect to companies formed under the 7th and 8th of Victoria, chap. 110, the issue of a prospectus, and the sale of shares, and the same manner as the scrip of railway or any other Parliamentary company.

It is stated in the preamble that it is expedient to consolidate and amend.

The law is no doubt amended, but it can scarcely be said to have been consolidated, because the 7th and 8th of Victoria, chaps. 110 and 113, and the Winding-up Acts, 1848 and 1849, are preserved as to existing companies, and many other enactments.

The act has also been called, while passing through Parliament, a "Limited Liability Bill." This seems to be a misnomer. The company being constituted a corporation, its funds only are liable to creditors; the shareholders are in no respect liable for the debts, which they may severally owe to the persons or their respective shares. Partial, therefore, or "Limited Liability" is important, it only is the property transmit "Limited Liability Act." It is only in the event of a company being unable to pay its creditors, and being wound up, that any question can arise as to the liability of shareholders, and then the provisions of sections 61, 62, 63 will come into operation. But it is very clear, from the fact that the capital subscribed by the shareholders is paid up as soon as it is paid, or before the time of winding-up, there is still such time, and supposing the company to be what is called "Limited," the liability of the shareholders, as to the part of a shareholder, either to creditors or to his co-shareholders.

The Times, of the 14th August, publishes official returns of the trade during the half-year ending June, 1856. The general result shows a decrease of 5560 pipes in the importation, 3880 pipes of which deficiency is in red wines, and ab-out 1680 in white. The deliveries, on the other hand, have largely augmented, amounting to 1000 pipes in the consumption, and 1060 pipes in the export trade. Cape descriptions present a considerable increase both in imports and deliveries, being greatly used as the means of supplying low wines for export as well as for mixing. French wines also show an increase both in imports and home deliveries. In port there has been a large falling off, the market not having yet recovered the excessive imports of previous years, although the prospect of future supplies is very discouraging. Of Spanish wines the arrivals have largely increased, while the consumption has been in an inverse ratio. A rise of £4 to £5 has consequently been established in sherries since January, the reported bad signs of this year's vintage having likewise exercised an influence. With regard to the Sicilian and Neapolitan wines (amalgamated under the name of Marsala), there has been a diminution of more than 50 per cent. in the importation, while the consumption has remained almost stationary. In the first three months of the present year the stocks of wine in bond, according to the official returns, experienced a reduction of 12,007 pipes.

Amongst the many valuable papers read in the Statistical Section, at the meeting of the British Association in August last, that by Lord Stanley, on a proper organization of national statistics, holds a prominent place. From this paper we learn that the total quantity of Cornish and Devonshire alone, amounted, in 1855, to the enormous sum of £17,940,893 sterling.

The following are the particulars:—

The total quantity of tin ore raised in Cornwall and Devonshire from January to December, 1855, was 4047 tons, which sold for, valued at £818,196. Tin ore was smelted into 3666 tons of metal, which at £95 per ton, was worth £348,300. The total quantity of the copper mines was 103,162 tons of ore, giving 12,318 tons of copper, the average value of which was per ton, £95, 16s. 3d. and, 73,031 tons were raised, and from this was separated 1,100 tonnes of silver, the value of the former being £1,025,816, and the latter £140,416. The estimated quantity of iron ore raised was 8,000,000 tons, the average value of which was 4s. per ton, and average sales of 24 ds. per ton, this pig iron was worth £19,416,000.

Wheat, Flour, Oats, Bran.—Messrs. W. Dean and Co. request us to call the attention of millers, corn dealers, bakers, chiefs in the colony, and others, that the sale of the above, this day, at Donnelly's Corn Stores, Pitt-street North, near Circular Quay, at noon, will be positive, and without reserve.

Brass.—Mort and Co. request us to direct the attention of oscillators to the sale of above in The Union Bank of Australia, 225 pail-g (Colonial regular), this day, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, at 12 o'clock.

Antique Sale of Drawing Tuns Day.—The attention of the trade is invited to Messrs. W. Dean and Co.'s extensive sale, this day, at Donnelly's Corn Stores, Pitt-street North, near Circular Quay, at noon, of a remarkable collection Mart, of 10 o'clock precisely, of remarkable drapery, woollens, superior clothing, rich silk mantles, hosiery, ladies', gents', and children's underclothing, shawls, caps, &c. &c. For further particulars see advertisements.—Adv.

ABSTRACT OF SALES BY AUCTION THIS DAY.

Messrs. Burt, Hassall, and Co.—At their Bazaar, at 11 o'clock, Drapery, British Furniture.

Messrs. Purkiss and Lambert.—On the premises, of Mr. Henry Hirsch, at 11 o'clock, Jewellery, Watches, Glasses of Plate, Pistols, Nick-nacks, Clocks, Brass, &c.; at their Rooms, at 11 o'clock, Drapery, Tools, Lease of a Wharf adjoining the Pacific Wharf.

Messrs. W. Dean and Co.—At the Australian Auction Mart, at 10 o'clock, Seasonable Drapery, Woollens, &c.; at Donnelly's Corn Stores, Pitt-street North, near Circular Quay, at 12 o'clock, Wheat, Oats, Bran, Colonial Flour, Brass, Oils.

Mr. C. Abrahl.—At his Mart, King-street, at 2 o'clock, Boots, Hats.

Mr. H. A. Graves.—At his Mart, at 11 o'clock, Unredeemed Pledges.

Mr. J. F. Sharp.—At Mr. Robbins's Mart, Street, at 11 o'clock, Jewellery.

Mr. A. Allan.—On the Premises, adjoining the New Iron Church, Macquarie-street, at 11 o'clock, Brass.

Messrs. Hughes and Miller.—At their Rooms, at 11 o'clock, Cutlery, Gilt Cornices, Gold Lockets, Watches, Pistolware, General Merchandise, &c.

Messrs. Frith and Fitzhenry.—At Smith's Wharf, Millers Point, at half-past 10 o'clock, Moreliffe Sugar; at their Sale Rooms, at 11 o'clock, Wrapper, Sail, Paper, Twine, Sugar, Cutlery, Stores, &c.

Messrs. Mort and Co.—At their Rooms, at 12 o'clock, Iron Bedsteads.

Messrs. Moore.—At their Mart, at 11 o'clock, Dudes, Drays, Carts, Harness, &c.

Mr. F. Smith.—At his Rooms, at 11 o'clock, Paperhangings; at 12 o'clock, Coffee, Furniture.

Mr. S. Woolley.—At the Duke's Head Horse Repository, at 11 o'clock, Horses, Omnibuses, Chaise Carts, Gigs, Drays, Carts, Harness, &c.

This Day, Wednesday, attention is particularly requested to Mouat and Miller's sales of stores goods, and a valuable hide, consigned by ex-ships. For full particulars see advertisements.—Adv.

To Publicans.—Parkin and Lambert remind the trade that they continue their sale, this day, on the premises, Bridge-street, at 11 o'clock, of jewellery, plateware, &c.—Adv.

POLICE MAGISTRATES AND CLERKS OF PETTY SESSIONS.

To the Editor of the Sydney Morning Herald.

Sir,—As the order of the present Government appears to be retrenchment (or at least a beneficial equalization of the public funds for the benefit of the useful), I beg in furtherance thereof to draw attention through your columns to the position of some districts who are corresponding for more attention of commissioners, and the dreadful state of the public roads is positively ruinous; yet these districts, as in ours, are charge-able with the establishment of a magistrate, who could be reduced without inconvenience to the public, by the unpaid magistracy performing the duties of the Bench. As far as this township we have two resident magistrates, and another within four miles, each of whom would willingly and religiously devote a portion of their time to promote the prosperity of the district, and the unnecessary expenditure could be exchanged for that which would be of permanent and important benefit to the inhabitants. The various benefits the Government could be so satisfactorily carried out by the clerk of the bench, as is the case in England in every county; and if the unpaid magistrates can perform the duties there to the satisfaction of the country, wherein consists the difficulties in this colony, especially in those districts where it is known that a sufficient and efficient number have been appointed as is the case here? On the M'Leay River, with a large amount of population, and ten or twelve magistrates, the Government could have the right to use miles from the police office, the duties are most satisfactorily performed, in fact the unpaid and independent magistrates do not appear to be surrounded or affected with that official consequence and frowns of office which is so dreadfully overpowering to the unofficial mind.

The 5 per cent. paid for the sale of Crown Lands to an officer of the Government already receiving a large salary as police magistrate, (which scarcely any duty to perform in connection therewith, and the actual salesman being the clerk of the bench,) is one of those inconsistencies of expenditure that have only to be witnessed to see its perfect absurdity. What resident auctioneer would not be glad to find surveyors and be ready at any time, on notice from the bench, to attend and repeat the mystic words, going once, going twice, gone, and take 1 per cent? It must be borne in mind that the Government unlike private auctioneers, have to find the surveyors, particulars, plans, &c., all prepared in another branch of the department, and that the police magistrates receive the bare expense of the sale, and no more. I will upon some honorable member to move for returns showing the amounts received by police magistrates in the shape of commission on the sale of Crown Lands, and when that return is before the House, and it is seen that some individuals have received upwards of a thousand pounds annually, I think I may safely leave the matter in the hands of our able Finance Minister and the Secretary for Lands and Public Works, for remedying such a system.

I am, yours, &c.,

WAYS AND MEANS.

Port Macquarie, 27th November, 1856.

ASCENT OF MOUNT ARARAT BY FIVE ENGLISHMEN.

(From the Smyrna Chronicle, 23rd August.)

Major Robert Stuart (Special Service, Asia Minor), in a letter dated Erzerum, July 20th, writes as follows:

In this age of rapid locomotion, when universal enterprise and scrutinizing investigation have brought almost everything beneath their touch, it is something to be able to offer to the public the novel accomplishment of an undertaking which has hitherto been deemed impossible, while by many the very attempt would have been considered as bordering on the impious.

To most men the name of Ararat suggests thoughts of the deluge, and of the patriarch, who, the only inhabit the countries round its base, its snow-capped summit is regarded with mingled awe and veneration, being generally, by the peasantry, according to their belief hitherto, not only by physical obstructions of an insuperable nature, but also by Divine prohibition. This belief no longer exists, and the adventurous ascending Mount Ararat is now an established fact.

On the 11th instant, a party, consisting of Major Jack, R. Fraser, Esq., Mr. Walter Thomby, Mr. Arthur Theobald, Esq., of Winchester; Mr. John Evans, of Darley Abbey, Derbyshire, and myself, started from Hayazd on the new expedition. We were accompanied by two servants and a sapjeeh, or native policeman, and by the kindness of the Kaimakan, Hadjee Mustapha Effendi, we were relieved by the special escort of Ali Bey, a chief of the Aras Kurds, under whose safeguard we had nothing to fear from the plundering habits of his followers. At Hayazd we provided a complete tent for each with a stout pole, between five and six feet long, furnished with a spike at one end and a hook at the other.

Crossing the Aras by a bridge of two arches, we commenced the ascent through a wide ravine, enclosed between vast ridges of volcanic rock. For three hours we wound our way through rugged defiles, continually traversing fertile plateaus, verdant with growing crops of wheat and barley. Our sure-footed little horses, accustomed to the rough roads of the country, passed through the most breakneck places, and brought us in safety to the black goats' hair tents of our host, which were pitched on a comparatively level spot, at about 6000 feet above the level of the sea. Hither the Kurds resort in summer with their flocks and herds, returning to the villages of the plain in the approach of winter.

A portion of the chief's tent was set apart for our use; the floor was covered with goat skins, and a sheep was killed, and everything was supplied that Kurdish hospitality could suggest.

At three o'clock next morning we were on the move, all except Mr. Thomby, who, to our regret, was obliged by indisposition to remain in the tent. Three hours of continued ascent on foot brought us to the base of the cone; Major Fraser here set off to the south-east, and took a line of his own, while Mr. Theobold, Mr. Evans, and I commenced the ascent on the southern side, through deep snow, which presented an unbroken surface to the very summit.

To my two friends, who are experienced Alpine climbers, this was very work, but it seem to me to be unfavourably on my unaccustomed limbs. For a time we kept pretty well together; by degrees, however, Mr. Theobold began to forge ahead, followed by Mr. Evans, while I brought up the rear as well as I could. But my strength was fast giving way, and when about half-way up the cone I found myself utterly unable to proceed any further. Accordingly, there being no alternative but to descend, I set on the same and shot down with the velocity of an arrow, undoing in a few minutes the laborious toil of nearly three hours. This was a keen disappointment, amply repaid to me, however, as will appear, by what follows.

At the foot of the cone I found Isaak Bey, who, with a couple of his people, had come out to watch our progress. He looked upon my sudden return as matter of course, and seemed to think the others, too, must soon give in: but no, up they went, higher and higher, his interest and surprise keeping pace with their ascent.

For some hours we watched their upward course, the sharp black spot on the white ridge becoming at last so small as to see only with the aid of a telescope. At length, at 1248, Mr. Theobold crowned the summit. Great was the astonishment of the Aras Kurds, as, at last, he exclaimed, "God is great!" "What wonderful people these English are; a few of them come here, and without any difficulty walk to the top of their holy mountain, a thing that never was done by many before. Wonderful, wonderful!"

At 2-50 Mr Evans reached the summit. He and Mr. Theobold made the descent together, by the same track that they ascended, and returned on the tents about sunset.

We must now follow the movements of Major Fraser, who, as already stated, took a line of his own. Not being accustomed like the others to snow works, he chose a ridge of stone which led up about two-thirds of the ascent, by which he hoped to get up without much difficulty, and then, taking to the snow, he patiently toiled upwards till within a few hundred feet of the summit. Here, in attempting to cross over to what appeared a more practicable line, he slipped on' some thinly covered ice, and, losing all control over himself, he shot down with fearful velocity, now bounding from rock to rock, now sweeping down a thousand feet. By wonderful efforts and presence of mind he succeeded in arresting his perilous descent, and, scrambling with difficulty to a rocky ledge that protruded above the snow, he climbed over it with immense labour; and thus recovering his lost way, he reached the height about 3.30. He then began to think full three hours by his mishap. He dreamed on the traces of Mesers. Theobold and Evans, and regained the tents at midnight, having been about twenty hours on foot.

On the 12th, about 2 p.m., Mr. Thomby and I started from the tents accompanied by two Kurds, carrying some provisions, and a small supply of provisions. We proceeded slowly and leisurely until we reached about one-third the ascent of the cone. There we were obliged to dismiss the Kurds, who, from religious fear, refused either to proceed further or to spend the night on the mountain; but to ensure their return to the meeting for the night, we thought it expedient to detain their arms, the dearest possession of these nomade people.

As we had settled to sleep on the snow, we chose a new line of our own over a rocky surface, facing nearly due south, which the wind and sun had bared nearly to the summit.

Left now to ourselves, we selected a spot to pass the night, piled up stones to windward as a shelter against the cold, and having dined heartily, we made ourselves as comfortable as possible. We slept well, but the intolerable glory, throwing the shadow of the vast mountain far away over Georgia and Akhelbjan, and thus darkening the distant base of the Eastern horizon.

Wrapping ourselves in our rugs, we passed the night as well as could be expected, and at 4 o'clock on the 14th we resumed the ascent. It certainly was toilsome and slow, but was, nevertheless, satisfactory.

From an elevation of about 14,000 feet above the sea, we saw the sun rise in unclouded majesty, lighting up simultaneously to our view vast tracts of the Russian, Persian, and Turkish empires; that was a glorious sight never to be forgotten.

At about 1200 from the summit we came upon an oak cross that had been fixed there in the rock by Professor Abich in the year 1845; it was in perfect preservation, and the inscription, in Russian characters was still legible.

This was the most difficult part of our ascent, the obstructions were frequent, and the climbing at times perilous; but continued perseverance enabled us to overcome everything, and at nine a.m. we had the satisfaction of standing on the highest point of the mountain. Here I stuck to the life of a Turkish ensama, or short double-edged sword, which we found at the foot of Abich's cross. Here, also, we drank Britons, we drank to the health of our beloved Queen in brandy. Her Majesty will perhaps deign to accept this expression of allegiance on considering that we were probably the first Christians who ever pronounced on that solemn height since it was quizzed by the great patriarch of the human race; for no record or tradition exists of the present ever having made before, although repeatedly tried by men of different countries, both European and Asiatic. Professor Abich made several attempts, but failed in all, as is proved by the position of the cross, by the testimony of the natives, and even by the confession of his own memorandum.

We descended on the tracks of the others, and got back to the tents about four p.m.

The whole surface of Mount Ararat bears evidence of having been subjected to violent volcanic action, being scoured and scored with deep ravine. The rocky ridges that protrude from the snow are either lava or tufa; and on the summit we found some bits of pumice on a spot which still emits a strong sulphurous smell.

The summit itself is nearly level, of a triangular shape, the base being about 200 yards in length, the perpendicular about 300.

The highest point is at the apex of the triangle, which points nearly due west; separated from it by a hollow is another point of nearly equal altitude, and the base of the triangle is formed by a ridge forming a third eminence. These three points stand out in distinct relief on a clear day.

The snow on the top is almost as dry as powder, and in walking over it we did not sink more than half-way to the knee. The impression left on my mind is, that the ascent is an extremely easy one, and that, though a perfect calm prevailed at the time at the foot of the cone, as we afterwards learnt, a keen wind was blowing from the west, which would have made it out of our power that prevented us taking any distant views.

As may be supposed, our success has created no small sensation throughout the country, in the fact of it preceded us wherever we went. It was announced as a sort of wonder to the caravans travelling eastward; and the Kaimakan of Hayazd has made it the subject of a special report to Constantinople.

From the sacred character of the mountain, and the traditions associated with it, it is not, perhaps, so practical as they are with Scriptural records, I am inclined to think that a degree of importance will attach to this achievement, far beyond its intrinsic estimation, beyond what is due to a mere exhibition of nerve or muscle, and this, no doubt, will tell in favour of our national prestige.

On the 15th we reached Erzerum, but, as this is being an ordinary affair does not call for a detailed account. I would only observe that, perhaps, from no other spot in the world can a finer or more extensive view be obtained. This view will tell in the good fortune to enjoy to perfection, with a cloudless sky and clear atmosphere.

To save your readers the trouble of referring to a gazetteer, I may state that the summit of Greater Ararat is 17,323 feet above sea level, and 14,304 above the plain; from base of cone to summit may be above 9000 feet.

Lesser Ararat is 12,893 feet above sea level.

Hoarseness in Swimming.—The annual affliction of death by drowning is upon us. The provincial newspapers tell of accidents of the kind in all directions—as they do every year when the summer heat drives people to bathe. The similarity of the cases is such as to approach monotony; and this it is which constitutes the marvel that a cause so preventable should still continue so extensively fatal. In the same newspapers we see notice of frequent accidents in all directions, bathing on sea, lake, and river, and water risks of all kinds, without any due precautions. At Tynemouth, last week, a boy was drowned under all the pleasure boats of the place, when out beyond the point; and it does not appear that any one carried a lifebuoy; and were there one to have been in the pleasure-seekers could swim in case of a rapids caused by touching the rocks so plentifully strewn about there. The dangers are, and, alas, too excessive. How many of the parents then present had resolved that their children should learn to swim? They are in a good neighborhood for a lesson. The Duke of Northumberland has done what man can do to prevent loss of life by inability to swim. Two years ago we heard of the exertions of the swimming master appointed by him to instruct the people on the coast. The Collierooms lads were qualifying themselves for swimming matches, and five boys were then accomplished to swim a mile. Last week the boys of two schools were all taught; the young fishermen at once began to improve themselves; and there was a contest between a Sunderland fisher, with prizes, matches, and prizes. Then the country gentlemen betthought themselves of sending their sons to learn; and thus the Duke seemed to be opening a way into a new element for his neighbours. Every child who can learn to walk can learn to swim, and there is more reason why people should be beholden to charity in the one case than in the other. In countries where people depend more on the water than we do, and have fewer boats and bridges, infants are taught to swim as inevitably and naturally as they are taught to walk. The young mother takes her baby of a few months old in the river 200, and there she teaches her pretty dear to lie and lets it play in the water, and find its own way of balancing itself, and moving from point to point, so that many a child can swim before it is steady on its feet on dry land. In such a country as Egypt, where the water is the great highway, and there are no bridges, land and water are all one to the natives. The most trifling errand or whim launches a child of any age into the water, with or without its palm-log or bunch of grass. How is it with us meanwhile? Why, the people who gather round and the body on the bank, or who attend the request, preach about the folly of going into the water without belts, or bladders, or corks, or something which would have certainly saved the victim; and no one suggests that if he had been a swimmer he would have been in no danger. One case of such perverseness seems now scarcely credible, though it was very true. A schoolboy was drowned in bathing. What did the masters of that very large school learn from the incident? Why, instead of having every boy taught to swim, none were thenceforth allowed to bathe! They went through the hollow summons, sweltering under a deprivation of cold water beyond the limits of a washhand basin; and literally hundreds of young men were sent out into life unable to swim a stroke to save their lives. Their children, again, have, generally speaking, been left untaught; and such of them as have had the occasion to go to Australia, and to Canada, or Canada, will hardly thank the educators of their fathers. It will be monstrous to a future generation that the children of the present should have four limbs and not swim, and that parents are wholly supine about securing them against the risk of drowning.—Daily News.

FUNERAL.—The Friends of the late Mr. HECTOR MILEGD MCKENZIE are respectfully invited to follow the Remains to the Burial Ground, THIS WEDNESDAY, the third instant, at 3 o'clock p.m. The funeral will move from the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Cameron, near the Patent Slip, at Millers Point, mentioned precisely. JOHN HILL, Jun., and SON, undertakers, King and Riley streets.

CITY CORPORATION BILL.—The Gentlemen appointed as a Standing Committee to watch the passing of the Municipal Bill through the Legislature, and to get the petition signed which was adopted at the meeting in the School of Arts, are requested to meet THIS MORNING, at 10 o'clock, at the School of Arts, Pitt-street, 3rd December.

THE MUTUAL BUILDING and INVESTMENT SOCIETY.—A Sale of the right to receive a dividend upon shares will take place at the Society's Offices, 231, George-street, on TUESDAY, the 16th instant, at half-past 3 p.m.

Intending shareholders are informed that in consequence of the number of shares now issued, the Entrance Fee has been raised to Thirty-five Shillings per share, and will be greatly increased with the number of shareholders. Shares, and every information as to the repayment of claims from the Society, may be obtained at the Secretary daily, between the hours of 10 and 4.

By order of the Board of Directors,

J. R. THREYFE, Secretary.

December 3rd, 1856.

PIANOFORTE WAREHOUSE, 76, Castlereagh-street, near King-street. Instruments by Broadwood, Collard, Kirkman, Stobart, Erard, Cadby (patent iron truss trussed), Stodart, Pape, and others, new landed, and to be had on favorable terms—£32 upwards, guaranteed. Pianofortes tuned, repaired, silked, polished, and packed. Instruments imported, warm at home, to hire, and taken in exchange. Selections and valuations made as usual. Music-stools, centre-tables, and what-nots in great variety. Pianofortes tunebacks, covers, and every other requisite. Spring vans for the removal of pianofortes, &c. H. R. HORFORD, pianoforte maker, inventor, &c.

A. TORKING and SON, Exterior and Interior Decorators; House, Ship, and Sign Painters; 4, Macquarie-place.

A. T. and Son beg most sincerely to return thanks to their friends, and the public generally, for the very liberal patronage afforded them since their commencement in business, and further intimate that the ORNAMENTAL DEPARTMENT will be executed by themselves, in a style superior to any yet attempted in Sydney, in marbling, graining, and texture and tints with a corresponding display and arrangement of colour.

Specimens of ornamental decorations for ceilings, walls, halls, staircases, on view. Embossed and plain imitation of oak carving, in Modern Gothic and Gothic styles, for ecclesiastical purposes and libraries.

Plumbing, glazing, writing, graining, marbling, and paperhanging.

French, fresh, sky, satin, gold, and silver papersangings, on Sale.

Licensed Plumbers to the City.

N.B.—Old Lead and Fittings purchased.

DEFRANNE, cook, removed to No. 5, William-street, Bellevue-hill.

MAURITIUS SUGAR.—On SALE, at the Stores of the undersigned, 100 Tons Mauritius Sugar. A. ROSS and Co., 24, 25, Bridge-street.

PATNA OPIUM, ex Christina.—On SALE at the stores of the undersigned; a few chests of superior quality. GEORGE A. LLOYD and CO.

RAW and BOILED OIL, and Turps, in lots to suit purchasers. HALL and ALDERSON, 184, Kent-street.

COALS, COALS.—A. A. Company's best screened coal, delivered in town. T. H. GREEN, Pacific Wharf, Druitt-street.

A SINGLE CYLINDER PRINTING MACHINE (Napier's) is for SALE at the Herald Office. It is in good order, and fit for work forthwith, either or steam or flywheel.

HAY RAKES, FORKS, Scythes, and Scythe Stones in large quantities.

Galvanized chest rails

Ditto seat rails and spikes

Wrought and patent nails of every description.

Cart and pig springs

Cart and dray axles

Hoop iron, ⅝, 1, 1½, 1¾, 2, 2½, and 2½ inch

Manila rope, assorted, 8 to 4 inch

Every description of ironmongery, suitable for country stores.

JOHN KEEP, Barrack-street.

MAIZE THRASHED, to thresh from 500 to 700 bushels a day. S. HEBBLEWHITE, York-street.

TO TANNERS.—Cooped Hemlock Bark.—Heavily expected per Lizzie Webber, 20 tons Hemlock Cooped Bark. Apply immediately to HENRY FISHER, Southern Packet Office, 25, Lower George-street.

MAURITIUS SNOWDROPS.—A few tons Sparkling Mauritius sugar, in good order, for sale, forming a third continence. These three points stand out in distinct relief on a clear day.

The snow on the top is almost as dry as powder, and in walking over it we did not sink more than half-way to the knee. The impression left on my mind is, that the ascent is an extremely easy one, and that, though a perfect calm prevailed at the time at the foot of the cone, as we afterwards learnt, a keen wind was blowing from the west, which would have made it out of our power that prevented us taking any distant views.

As may be supposed, our success has created no small sensation throughout the country, in the fact of it preceded us wherever we went. It was announced as a sort of wonder to the caravans travelling eastward; and the Kaimakan of Hayazd has made it the subject of a special report to Constantinople.

From the sacred character of the mountain, and the traditions associated with it, it is not, perhaps, so practical as they are with Scriptural records, I am inclined to think that a degree of importance will attach to this achievement, far beyond its intrinsic estimation, beyond what is due to a mere exhibition of nerve or muscle, and this, no doubt, will tell in favour of our national prestige.

On the 15th we reached Erzerum, but, as this is being an ordinary affair does not call for a detailed account. I would only observe that, perhaps, from no other spot in the world can a finer or more extensive view be obtained. This view will tell in the good fortune to enjoy to perfection, with a cloudless sky and clear atmosphere.

To save your readers the trouble of referring to a gazetteer, I may state that the summit of Greater Ararat is 17,323 feet above sea level, and 14,304 above the plain; from base of cone to summit may be above 9000 feet.

Lesser Ararat is 12,893 feet above sea level.

Hoarseness in Swimming.—The annual affliction of death by drowning is upon us. The provincial newspapers tell of accidents of the kind in all directions—as they do every year when the summer heat drives people to bathe. The similarity of the cases is such as to approach monotony; and this it is which constitutes the marvel that a cause so preventable should still continue so extensively fatal. In the same newspapers we see notice of frequent accidents in all directions, bathing on sea, lake, and river, and water risks of all kinds, without any due precautions. At Tynemouth, last week, a boy was drowned under all the pleasure boats of the place, when out beyond the point; and it does not appear that any one carried a lifebuoy; and were there one to have been in the pleasure-seekers could swim in case of a rapids caused by touching the rocks so plentifully strewn about there. The dangers are, and, alas, too excessive. How many of the parents then present had resolved that their children should learn to swim? They are in a good neighborhood for a lesson. The Duke of Northumberland has done what man can do to prevent loss of life by inability to swim. Two years ago we heard of the exertions of the swimming master appointed by him to instruct the people on the coast. The Collierooms lads were qualifying themselves for swimming matches, and five boys were then accomplished to swim a mile. Last week the boys of two schools were all taught; the young fishermen at once began to improve themselves; and there was a contest between a Sunderland fisher, with prizes, matches, and prizes. Then the country gentlemen betthought themselves of sending their sons to learn; and thus the Duke seemed to be opening a way into a new element for his neighbours. Every child who can learn to walk can learn to swim, and there is more reason why people should be beholden to charity in the one case than in the other. In countries where people depend more on the water than we do, and have fewer boats and bridges, infants are taught to swim as inevitably and naturally as they are taught to walk. The young mother takes her baby of a few months old in the river 200, and there she teaches her pretty dear to lie and lets it play in the water, and find its own way of balancing itself, and moving from point to point, so that many a child can swim before it is steady on its feet on dry land. In such a country as Egypt, where the water is the great highway, and there are no bridges, land and water are all one to the natives. The most trifling errand or whim launches a child of any age into the water, with or without its palm-log or bunch of grass. How is it with us meanwhile? Why, the people who gather round and the body on the bank, or who attend the request, preach about the folly of going into the water without belts, or bladders, or corks, or something

SYDNEY POST OFFICE DIRECTORY.—Retention of Time Advertisement in consequence of being too late for the 10th instant. Publishers—WAUGH and COX, 111, George-street.

BOOKS for Prizes, Rewards, and Presents.—A superior assortment at HOPKINS'.

PIANOFORTES, in rosewood, 1 to 10 years, from £18 MARSHALL and BUIST, George-street, opposite Savings Office.

PIANOF